A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No 678, entitled:

An Act defining cold storage and regulating time of storage of certain articles of food and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That for the purpose of this act "cold storage" shall mean the storage or keeping of articles of food at or below a temperature of forty degree Fahrenheit in a cold storage warehouse

"Cold storage warehouse" shall mean any place artificially or mechanically cooled to or below a temperature of forty degrees Fahrenheit in which articles of food are placed and held for thirty days or more

"Articles of food" shall mean fresh meat and fresh meat products and all fresh fish game poultry eggs and butter

Section 2 No person firm or corporation shall maintain or operate a cold storage warehouse without a license so to do issued by the Dairy and Food Commissioner Any person firm or corporation desiring such a license shall make written application to the Dairy and Food Commissioner for that purpose stating the location of the warehouse

The Dairy and Food Commissioner thereupon shall cause an examination to be made of said warehouse and if it be found by him to be in a proper sanitary condition and otherwise properly equipped for its intended use he shall issue a license authorizing the applicant to operate the same as a cold storage warehouse during one year the license shall be issued upon payment by the applicant of a license fee of fiifty dollars ($50) to the treasurer of the State

Section 3 In case any cold storage warehouse or any part thereof shall at any time be deemed by the Dairy and Food Commissioner to be in an unsanitary condition or not properly equipped for its intended use he shall notify the licensee of such condition and upon the failure of the licensee to put such cold storage warehouse in a sanitary condition or to properly equip the same for its intended use within a time to be designated by the Dairy and Food Commissioner he shall revoke such license

Section 4 Every such licensee shall keep accurate records of the articles of food received in and of the articles of food withdrawn from his cold storage warehouse and the Dairy and Food Commissioner shall have free access to such records at any time

It shall be the duty of such person firm or corporation licensed to operate a cold storage warehouse to file in the office of the Dairy and Food Commissioner on or before the sixth day of January April July and October of each year a report setting forth in itemized particulars the kinds and quantities of food products held in cold storage in such warehouse

The report shall be made on printed forms prepared and supplied by the Dairy and Food Commissioner

Section 5 The Dairy and Food Commissioner shall inspect and supervise all cold storage warehouses and make such inspection of articles of food therein as he may deem necessary to secure the proper enforcement of this act and he shall have access to all cold storage warehouses at all reasonable times

The Dairy and Food Commissioner may appoint such persons as he deems qualified to make such inspections under this act

Section 6 It shall be unlawful for any person firm or corporation to place in any cold storage warehouse to keep therein or to sell offer or expose for sale any diseases tainted or otherwise unwholesome food

Section 7 No person firm or corporation shall place receive or keep in any cold storage warehouse in this State articles of food unless the same shall be plainly marked stamped or tagged either upon the container in which they are packed or upon the article of food itself with the month and year when placed therein or in the case of articles of food being stored in bulk the month and year of original storage shall be marked upon the doors or walls of the rooms in which the same are stored and when such articles are removed such month and year shall be marked upon the container in which the same shall be removed and no person firm or corporation shall remove or allow to be removed such articles of food from any cold storage warehouse unless the same shall be plainly marked stamped or tagged on the container in which it is enclosed or upon the articles of food itself with the month and year of such removal and such marks stamps and tags shall be prima facie evidence of such receipt and removal of the dates thereof

All articles of food in any cold storage warehouse at the time this act goes into effect shall before being removed therefrom be plainly marked stamped or tagged with the month and year when this act goes into effect

Section 8 No person firm or corporation shall hereafter keep or permit to remain in any cold storage warehouse any eggs in shell later than March first of any year where such eggs have been held in cold storage either within or without the State on December thirty-first prior thereto nor shall any person firm or corporation permit to remain in cold storage any other article of food covered by this act for a longer aggregate period than twelve months except with the consent of the Dairy and Food Commissioner as hereinafter provided

The Dairy and Food Commissioner may upon application grant permission to extend the period of storage for a particular consignment of goods if the goods in question are found upon examination to be in proper condition for further storage The length of time for which further storage is allowed shall be specified in the order granting the permission

A report on each case in which an extension of storage is permitted including information relating to the reason for the action of the Dairy and Food Commisioner the kind and the amount of goods for which the storage period was extended and the length of time for which the continuance was granted shall be included in the annual report of the Dairy and Food Commissioner

Section 9 It shall be unlawful to sell or to offer for sale any article of food which has been held for a period of thirty days or over in cold storage either within or without the State without notifying persons purchasing or intending to purchase the same that it has been so held by the display of a placard plainly and conspicuously marked "Cold Storage Goods" on the bulk mass or articles of food and it shall be unlawful to represent or advertise as fresh any articles of food which has been held in cold storage for a period of thirty days or over

There shall also be displayed upon every open container containing such food in a conspicuous position a placard with the words "cold storage goods" printed thereon and when such food is sold from such container or otherwise at retail before being delivered to the purchaser it shall be wrapped in wrappers plainly stamped on the outside thereof with the words "cold storage goods" printed or stamped thereon in letters one-fourth (1-4) inch square

Section 10 It shall be unlawful to return to any cold storage warehouse any article of food which has been once released from storage for the purpose of placing it on the market for sale but nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the transfer of goods from one cold storage warehouse to another provided that all prior markings stampings and taggings upon such articles shall remain thereon and provided further that such transfer is not made for the purpose of evading any provision of this act

Section 11 The Dairy and Food Commissioner may make the necessary rules and regulations to carry this act into effect

Such rules and regulations shall be filed in the commisisoner's office and shall not take effect until thirty days after such filing

Section 12 Any person firm or corporation violating any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be punished for the first offense by a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars ($200) and for the second or any subsequent offense by a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300) or by an imprisonment of not more than one year or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court

Section 13 An act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and sixteen) entitled "An Act for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by regulating the storage and sale of cold storage foods fixing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof and providing for the enforcement thereof" and the amendments thereto and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1220 (House Bill No. 1474), as follows:

An Act creating in counties having a population of from eight hundred thousand to one million five hundred thousand a board for the assessment and revision of taxes providing for the appointment of the members of such board by the county commissioners fixing their salaries payable by the county defining the powers and duties of such board and regulating the assessment of property and occupations for state and county purposes authorizing the appointment of subordinate assessors and clerks defining their duties and providing for their compensation payable by such counties imposing a penalty on subordinate assessors for failure to comply with certain provisions of this act and abolishing the office of ward borough and township assessor insofar as respects the assessment of property and occupations for State and county purposes

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in each county of the Commonwealth having a population of not less than eight hundred thousand nor more than one million five hundred thousand inhabitants there is hereby created a board to be designated as the board for the assessment and revision of taxes composed of seven persons citizens of the county The members of such board shall be appointed by the county commissioners of such county and shall hold their office for the term of four years from the first Monday of January one thousand nine hundred and twenty and the county commissioners shall fill all vacancies in the board for the unexpired term thereof Each member of such board shall receive a salary of five thousand dollars per annum payable monthly out of the treasury of the county

Section 2 It shall be the duty of the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in each county to which this act applies to make and to have supervision of the making of all assessments and valuations of property whether real or personal taxable for State or county purposes and including also occupations

Section 3 The said board shall divide the county into convenient districts and shall appoint one subordinate assessor for each of said districts The subordinate assessors shall each receive the sum of five dollars per day for the time actually occupied in discharging their duties The board shall have the right to appoint such clerks as the salary board of the county or other proper authority may allow for the proper discharge of the duties of said board All salaries herein provided for shall be paid out of the county treasury

Section 4 The subordinate assessors shall make the assessment and valuations of all property taxable for state or county purposes together with a list of all persons taxable upon occupations within their respective districts and in so doing shall view all property in their district taxable for such purposes and shall make a personal house to house canvass of their district in order that such lists by persons taxable upon occupations may be accurate and correct insofar as it is possible to so make them All such assessors who shall fail to make such assessments and lists in the manner as herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars and in default of the payment of such fine and costs to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding ninety days

Section 5 The subordinate assessors shall begin such assessments of property and occupations on the first day of June of each year preceding the triennial assessment in such counties and shall file the same with the board for the assessment and revision of taxes on or before the first Monday of November of such year

Section 6 The board shall examine and revise the said assessments and valuations increasing or decreasing the same as in their judgment may seem proper and shall add thereto such property or subjects of taxation as may have been omitted After such revision the board shall by rule fix convenient times for the hearing of appeals from said assessments and valuations and after the hearing of said appeals and the making of whatever changes may be considered proper the valuations as so ascertained and revised unless changed in the manner hereinafter provided shall stand as the valuations for the assessments of all state and county taxes until the next triennial assessment

Section 7 When the triennial assessments shall be fixed either for the whole county or in districts thereof notice of that fact shall be given by publication in at least two newspapers of the county of the time when appeals will be heard After the hearing of appeals the board shall take such action in regard thereto as may be right and proper

Section 8 After action on such assessments by the board for the assessment and revision of taxes any taxpayer dissatisfied with the assessment on his property may within thirty days from the final fixing of the said assessment and valuation appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas of the said county and it shall be the duty of the court at once to hear and determine said appeal and if necessary to make such changes therein as may be right and proper

Section 9 The subordinate assessors shall between the triennial assessments revise any assessment or valuation according to right and equity by correcting errors and by adding thereto any property or subjects of taxation which may have been omitted or any new property or subjects of taxation which may have come into being since the last triennial assessment

They shall also add thereto the names of any persons who may have moved into such district and strike therefrom the names of any persons who have removed from such districts since the last triennial assessment

The assessors shall also revise assessments and valuations between the triennial assessments by increasing or decreasing the same where the value of the property or subjects of taxation assessed or valued has changed by reason of any change of conditions thereon or adjacent thereto or in the vicinity thereof or for the reason that the property assessed or valued has been subdivided or laid out into a plan of lots or other subdivision or for the reason that improvements have been placed thereon or added thereto or for the reason that any public or other improvement has been made adjacent thereto or in the vicinity thereof or where for any other reason whatsoever the value of the property has changed and it seems to the board necessary and equitable to make a change in the valuation thereof

All assessments required to be made by the subordinate assessors in the years between the triennial assessment shall be commenced on the first day of July and shall be returned to the board for the assessment and revision of taxes not later than the thirty-first day of December of the year preceding the one for which it is made

Section 10 At least ten days written notice shall be given to any taxable person whose assessment shall be changed between triennial assessments setting forth any change which has been made and the time and place set for hearing objections thereto

Such notice shall be served by the board or any member thereof or by any subordinate assessor or by any other person authorized so to do by the board upon said taxable person if he or she can be found in the county or upon an adult person residing upon the property in question in case the taxable person cannot be found in the county

When no service is made upon the taxable person or upon an adult person residing upon the property assessed said notice shall be deemed to have been properly served if tacked or conspicuously posted upon the property assessed

No defect in service of any such notice shall be sufficient ground for setting aside any assessment so made but upon proof thereof being made the taxable person shall have the right to a rehearing before said board relative to said assessment and to appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas as hereinafter provided

Section 11 After the hearing of any objections thereto and the making of any changes that may be deemed proper the valuation as so ascertained shall unless changed in the manner herein provided stand as the valuations for the assessments for county taxes until the next triennial assessment

Section 12 Any taxable person dissatisfied with changes made in any assessment in the years between the trennial may within thirty days after the final fixing of the same appeal to the court of common pleas of said county and it shall be the duty of the court at once to hear and determine said appeal and if necessary make such changes therein as may be right and proper

Section 13 No appeal taken from any such assessments shall affect the validity of any taxes assessed but if such assessment shall thereafter be reduced an exoneration shall be granted or restitution ordered for the excess of taxes paid by reason of any improper increase in the assessment

Section 14 Upon request by any taxpayer he shall at any time receive from the board a statement of his taxable property and its valuation

Section 15 When the said valuations and assessments have been made all taxation for county and State purposes within the limits of such county shall be based upon such valuations

Section 16 The office of ward borough and township assessor as now existing in counties coming under the provisions of this act is hereby abolished in so far as respects the assessment and valuation of property and occupations taxable for state and county purposes

Section 17 The act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred ninety-two) entitled "An Act establishing in counties containing a population of from eight hundred thousand to one million four hundred thousand a Board for the Assessment and Revision of Taxes for State and county purposes prescribing the method of their appointment their powers and duties fixing their salary to be paid by the proper county and abolishing the office of ward borough and township assessors in so far as respects the assessment of State and county taxes" is hereby repealed

All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Board or referee to whom any such petition has been assigned may subpoena witnesses hear evidence make findings of fact and award or disallow compensation in the same manner and with the same effect and subject to the same right of appeal as if such petition were an original claim petition

The filing of a petition to terminate or modify a compensation agreement or award as provided in this section shall operate as a supersedeas and shall suspend the payment of compensation fixed in the agreement or by the award in whole or to such extent as the facts alleged in the petition would if proved require

Section 414 Whenever a claim petition or other petition is presented to the Board the Board shall by general rules or special order either direct it to be heard by the Board or assign it to a referee for hearing Provided however That petitions presented under section four hundred and eleven and four hundred and twelve shall be heard by the Board

The Secretary shall serve upon each adverse party a copy of the petition together with a notice that such petition will be heard by the Board or the referee to whom it has been assigned (giving his name and address) as the case may be and if the petition shall have been assigned to a referee shall mail the original petition to such referee together with copies of the notices served upon the adverse parties

Section 415 At any time before an award or disallowance of compensation or order has been made by a referee to whom a petition has been assigned the Board may order such petition heard before it or may reassign it to any other referee Unless the Board shall otherwise order the testimony taken before the original referee shall be considered as though taken before the Board or substituted referee

Section 416 Within ten days after a copy of any petition has been served upon any adverse party he may file with the secretary if the petition has been directed to be heard by the Board or with the referee if the petition has been assigned to a referee an answer in the form prescribed by the Board

Every fact alleged in a petition not specifically denied by an answer so filed by an adverse party shall be deemed to be admitted by him But the failure of any adverse party or of all of them to deny a fact so alleged shall not preclude the Board or referee before whom the petition is heard from requiring of its or his own motion proof of such fact

Section 417 As soon as may be after the twelfth day after notice that a petition has been directed to be heard by the Board has been served upon the adverse parties thereto the Board shall fix a time and place for hearing the petition If a petition be assigned to a referee he shall twelve days after notice that such petition has been assigned to him has been served upon the adverse parties fix a time not less than five nor more than fourteen days thereafter and a place for hearing the petition The secretary if the petition has been directed to be heard by the Board or the referee to whom the petition has been assigned shall serve upon all parties in interest a notice of the time and place of hearing and shall serve upon the petitioner a copy of any answer of any adverse party

Section 418 The Board if a petition is directed to be heard by it or the referee to whom a petition is assigned for hearing may subpoena witnesses order the production of books and other writings and hear evidence and shall make in writing and as soon as may be after the conclusion of the hearing such findings of fact conclusions of law and award or disallowance of compensation or other order as the petition and answers and the evidence produced before it or him and the provisions of this act shall in its or his judgment require The findings of fact made by the Board in any petition heard by it or upon a hearing de novo shall be final except as hereinafter provided and the findings of fact made by a referee to whom a petition has been assigned or any question of fact has been referred under the provisions of section four hundred and nineteen shall be final unless the Board shall under the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-five of this article grant a hearing de novo or a rehearing

Section 419 The Board may refer any question of fact arising under any petition including a petition for commutation heard by it to a referee to hear evidence and report to the Board the testimony taken before him or such testimony and findings of facts thereon as the Board may order The Board may refer any question of fact arising out of any petition assigned to a referee to any other referee to hear evidence and report the testimony so taken thereon to the original referee

Section 420 The Board or a referee if it or he deem it necessary may of its or his own motion either before during or after any hearing make an investigation of the facts set forth in the petition or answer The Board or referee with the consent of the Board may appoint one or more impartial physicians or surgeons to examine the injuries of the plaintiff and report thereon or he may employ the services of such other experts as shall appear necessary to ascertain the facts The report of any physician surgeon or expert appointed by the Board or by a referee shall be filed with the Board or referee as the case may be and shall be a part of the record and open to inspection as such

The Board shall fix the compensation of such physician surgeons and experts which when so fixed shall be paid out of the sums appropriated to the Department of Workmen's Compensation for the maintenance of the Department and shall be taxed as part of the costs of the proceedings to be repaid to such Department by either party or both as the Board may direct If any sum so taxed shall not be paid by the party directed to repay to the same may be collected as costs are now collectible

Section 421 All hearings before the Board or before a referee shall be public

Section 422 Neither the Board nor any referee shall be bound by the technical rules of evidence in conducting any hearing or investigation but all findings of fact shall be based only upon competent evidence

If any party or witness resides outside of the Commonwealth or through illness or other cause is unable to testify before the Board or a referee his or her testimony or deposition may be taken within or without this Commonwealth in such manner and in such form as the Board may by special order or general rule prescribe The records kept by a hospital of the medical or surgical treatment given to an employe in such hospital shall be admissible as evidence of the medical and surgical matters stated therein but shall not be conclusive proof of such matters

Section 423 Any party in interest may within ten days after notice of a referee's award or disallowance of compensation shall have been served on him take an appeal to the board on the ground (1) that the award or disallowance of compensation is not in conformity with the terms of this act or that the referee committed any other error of law (2) that the findings of fact and award or disallowance of compensation was unwarranted by the evidence or was procured by the fraud coercion or other improper conduct of any party in interest The Board may upon cause shown extend the time provided in this article for the taking of such appeal or for the filing of an answer or other pleading

In any such appeal the Board may disregard the findings of fact of the referee and may examine the testimony taken before such referee and if it deem proper may hear other evidence and may substitute for the findings of the referee such findings of fact as the evidence taken before the referee and the Board as hereinbefore provided may in the judgment of the Board require any may make such disallowance or award of compensation or other order as the facts so found by it may require

Section 424 Whenever an appeal shall be based upon an alleged error of law it shall be the duty of the Board to grant a hearing thereon The Board shall fix a time and place for such hearing and shall serve notice thereof on all parties in interest

As soon as may be after any such hearing the Board shall either sustain or reverse the referee's award or disallowance of compensation or make such modification thereof as it shall deem proper

Section 425 Whenever an appeal shall be taken on the ground that the referee's award or disallowance of compensation was unwarranetd by the evidence or because of fraud coercion or other improper conduct by any party in interest the Board may in its discretion grant a hearing de novo before the Board or assign the petition for rehearing to any referee designated by it or sustain the referee's award or disallowance of compensation If the Board shall grant a hearing de novo it shall fix a time and place for same and shall notify all parties in interest

As soon as may be after any hearing de novo by the Board it shall in writing state its findings of fact and award or disallow compensation in accordance with the provisions of this act

Section 426 The Board upon petition of any party and upon cause shown at any time before the Court of Common Pleas of any county of this Commonwealth to whom an appeal has been taken under the provisions of Section Four Hundred and Twenty-seven of this article shall have taken final action thereon may grant a rehearing of any petition upon which the Board has made an award or disallowance of compensation or other order or ruling or has sustained or reversed any action of a referee If the Board shall grant a rehearing of any petition from the Board's action on which an appeal has been taken to and is pending in the Court of Common Pleas of any county of this Commonwealth under the provisions of Section Four Hundred and Twenty-seven of this article the Board shall file in such court a certified copy of its order granting such rehearing and it shall thereupon be the duty of such court to cause the record of the case to be remitted to the Board

Section 427 Any party may appeal from any action of the Board to the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which the accident occurred or of the county in which the adverse party resides or has a permanent place of business or by agreement of the parties to the Court of Common Pleas of any other county of this Commonwealth Such appeal must be brought within ten days after notice of the action of the Board has been served upon such party unless any Court of Common Pleas to which an appeal lies shall upon cause shown extend the time herein provided for taking the appeal The party taking the appeal shall at the time of taking the appeal serve upon the adverse party a written notice thereof setting forth the date of the appeal and the court in which the same is filed and shall file with his notice of appeal such exceptions to the action of the Board as he may desire to take and shall specify the findings of fact if any of the Board or of the referee sustained by the Board which he alleges to be unsupported by competent evidence

Upon filing of the notice of an appeal the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas to which the appeal has been taken shall issue a writ of certiorari directed to the Workmen's Compensation Board commanding it within ten days after service thereof to certify to such court its entire record in the matter in which the appeal has been taken The writ so issued shall be mailed by the prothonotary to the Bureau at Harrisburg together with a copy of the exceptions The Board shall within ten days after such service certify to such court its entire record in the matter in which the appeal has been taken including the notes of testimony

Any court before whom an appeal is pending from any action of the Board may remit the record to the Board for more specific findings of fact if the findings of the Board or referee are not in its opinion sufficient to enable it to decide the question of law raised by the appeal

If the Court of Common Pleas of any county of this Commonwealth shall affirm on award or order of the board or of a referee sustained by the board fixing the compensation payable under this act the court shall enter judgment for the total amount stated by the award or order to be payable whether then due and accrued or payable in future instalments If such court shall sustain the appellant's exceptions to a finding or findings of fact and reverse the action of the board founded thereon the court shall remit the record to the board for further hearing and determination in which the procedure shall be the same as that hereinbefore provided in this article in the case of a petition presented to the board except that the board may order that any part of the testimony taken in the original proceedings shall be considered as though taken in such further hearing

The prothonotary of any Court of Common Pleas to which an appeal has been taken from the board shall send to the board a certificate of the judgment of the court as soon as rendered with a copy of any opinion which may be filed in the case At the end of the period hereinafter allowed for an appeal from the judgment of the court the record of the board shall be remitted to it by the Prothonotary unless an appeal shall have been taken If such appeal shall be taken the record shall be remitted to the board by the prothonotary on its return from the Appellate Court

Any party may appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court from the judgment of the Court of Common Pleas within [illegible] days after entry of said judgment Such appeal shall be taken and prosecuted in the same manner and form and with the same effect as is provided in other cases of appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court Any appeal from the action of the board to a Court of Common Pleas and from it to the Supreme or Superior Court shall take precedence over all other civil actions

Section 428 At any time after the approval of a compensation agreement or after an award or order has been made by the board or referee the employe or dependents entitled to compensation thereunder may file a certified copy of the agreement and the order of the board approving the same or of the award or order with the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of any county and the prothonotary shall enter the total amount of compensation stated in the agreement award or order to be payable to the employe or his dependents whether then due and accrued or payable in future instalments as a judgment against the employer or other party liable under such agreement or award Such judgment shall be a lien against property of the employer or other party liable under such agreement or award and execution may issue thereon forthwith

Wherever after an accident any employe or his dependents shall have entered into a compensation agreement with his employer or shall file a claim petition with the board he may file a certified copy thereof with the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of any county The prothonotary shall enter the amount stipulated in any such agreement or claimed in any such petition as judgment against the employer If the agreement be approved by the board or compensation awarded as claimed in the petition the amount of compensation stipulated in the agreement or claimed in the petition shall be a lien as of the date when the agreement or petition was filed with the prothonotary Pending the approval of the agreement or the award of compensation no other lien which may be attached to the employer's property during such time shall gain priority over the lien of such agreement or award but no execution shall issue on any compensation judgment before the approval of the agreement or the award of compensation on the said petition

If the agreement be disapproved or after hearing compensation shall be disallowed the employer may file with the prothonotary of any county in which the petition or agreement is on record as a judgment a certfied copy of the disapproval of the agreement or disallowance of compensation and it shall be the duty of such prothonotary to strike off the judgment

If the amount of compensation claimed be disallowed but another amount awarded the compensation judgment shall be a lien to the extent of the award as of the date of filing the petition with the prothonotary with the same effect as to other liens and the same disabiltiy to issue execution thereon as if the compensation claimed had been allowed In such cases the prothonotary shall make such modification of the record as shall be appropriate

If the compensation payable under any agreement or award upon which judgment has been entered under the provisions of this section shall be modified suspended reinstated or terminated by a supplemental agreement executed under the provisions of section four hundred and eight or by an award or order made under the provisions of section four hundred and thirteen any party to such judgment at any time after such agreement has been approved by the board or after the expiration of the time allowed for an appeal from the award or order may file with the prothonotary of the Court of Common Pleas of any county in which such judgment is on record a certified copy of such supplemental agreement award or order and it shall thereupon be the duty of the prothonotary to modify suspend reinstate or satisfy such judgment in accordance with the terms of such supplemental agreement award or order

Execution may issue by first filing with the prothonotary an affidavit that there has been a default in payments of compensation due on any judgment for compensation entered prior to the approval of the compensation agreement or an award on petition as soon as such agreement shall have been approved or such award made as evidenced by the approval of the board or the award or by a certified copy thereof

Execution shall in all cases be for the amount of compensation and interest thereon due and payable up to the date of the issuance of said execution with costs and further execution may issue from time to time as further compensation shall become due and payable until full amount of the judgment with costs shall have actually been paid

Section 429 If any party against whom a compensation agreement award or other order fixing the compensation payable under this act has been filed of record in any county of this Commonwealth in accordance with the provisions of section four hundred and twenty-eight of this article or against whom judgment has been entered by the court of common pleas of any county on any award or order of the board or a referee shall at any time present to the board receipts or copies thereof certified by any referee showing the payment of compensation as required by the agreement or award in full to the date of presentation to the referee the board shall issue a certificate to such party in the form prescribed stating the extent to which the judgment of the agreement or award has been reduced Upon the presentation of such certificate to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of any county in which such agreement or award has been filed of record as a judgment or in which judgment on an award has been entered by the court of common pleas it shall be the prothonotary's duty to mark such judgment satisfied to the extent of the payments so certified and upon the presentation to such prothonotary of a certificate issued by the board under the provisions of section three hundred and seventeen of this act it shall be the duty of the prothonotary to mark such judgment fully satisfied

Section 430 The lien of any judgment entered upon any award shall not be divested by any appeal If however the party appealing from the award shall file with the board a bond in such amount and in such form as the rules and regulations of the board shall direct the apneal shall pending its decision excuse the payment of so much of the compensation as is contested therein but if the final decision on appeal shall sustain the award it shall be the duty of the employer by whom such award is payable to make payments of compensation as from the date of the original award If on appeal the award is sustained as to a part it shall be the duty of the employer by whom such part is payable to make payments as from the date of the original award In case the award is annulled on appeal it shall be the duty of the prothonotary of any county in which such award has been entered as a judgment to mark it satisfied

Section 431 The cost of the prothonotary for entering the amount of compensation as provided in this act or making a modification of the record or marking the judgment satisfied shall be allowed taxed and collected as upon a confession of judgment on a judgment note

Section 432 It shall be the duty of the prothonotary of each court of common pleas and of the Supreme and Superior court of the Commonwealth to make a monthly report to the board of the disposition of all appeals taken to such court under the provisions of this article

Section 433 A document on file in the bureau or with the board or any referee or part of the record of any proceedings taken under ariticles III and IV of this act shall be proved by a copy thereof certified by the chairman of the board and attested by the secretary under the seal of the Board

Section 434 A final receipt given by an employe or dependent entitled to compensation under a compensation agreement or award reciting that the disability or dependency has terminated shall be prima facie evidence of the termination of the employer's liability to pay compensation under such agreement or award Provided however That the Board or a referee designated by the Board may at any time set aside a final receipt upon petition filed with the Board if it be proved that such receipt was procured by fraud coercion or other improper conduct of a party or is founded upon mistake of law or of fact and has appointed Messrs. Brady, Gans and Flynn, as a Committee of Conference to confer with a similar committee of the Senate (already appointed) to consider the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communications in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VOTE OF SENATE BILL NO. 73.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 16, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 73, entitled "An Act to provide a method upon petition of owner with notice to wife of bankrupt for ascertaining determining and charging statutory interest inchoate on lands of bankrupt sold under order of United States Court by report of viewers and decree of court of common pleas in certain cases freeing and discharging part of such lands from such statutory interest inchoate and charging same upon a portion of lands formerly owned by bankrupt in case of death of wife during life of bankrupt or after his death to discharge the lands from such statutory interest inchoate or statutory interest fixed by decree of court providing for service of rules and notices and for appeal from final decree of such court."

A bill which I have approved provides for quieting the title to real estate by discharging the inchoate interest of a spouse where there is a sale of the real estate of any bankrupt or involved debtor. This is correct in principle.

The bill which I now return provides elaborate proceedings for determining the statutory inchoate interest of a spouse who becomes bankrupt or insolvent and provides for the apportioning of such interest.

I think the matter should be disposed of as it has been under Senate Bill No. 344, and that this bill, if approved, might lead to additional confusion.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. GROFF. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, June 16, 1919.

The House met at 9:00 o'clock P. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O God, more than four centuries ago Thou didst direct the great, daring navigator, Columbus, and his caravels to open up the Western World, that world which is unrolling like a scroll in wonder and amazement; and yesterday Thou didst give courage to the daring aviators that, through the dizzy heights and terrific flight, they, too, might go through uncharted seas of air in order that a new era might be ushered in. What it all shall mean we, at this time, cannot say. May it not be merely a matter of daring and adventure, but may it, indeed, be something which shall be good for humankind. Let us not stand before their act of unbending will and tireless energy, just merely to wonder; but may it inspire us to dare, and may it inspire men in this House to dare, that they may think great thoughts and may also great ideas come to them and, through the purging of Thy Holy Spirit, may they have ideals and hopes and endeavors; but, above all, may they have the ability and anxiety and earnestness to work that they may take new courage and inspiration, from what has been done, to do greater things for themselves and others. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of the proceedings of Friday, June 13, 1919.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the proceedings of Friday, June 13, 1919, when, on motion of Mr. COLDSMITH, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE PENNSYLVANIA MUSEUM AND SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ART.

The SPEAKER. The Chair presents the following letter:

The letter was read by the Clerk as follows:

THE PENNSYLVANIA MUSEUM AND SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ART.

The Museum: Memorial Hall, Fairmount Park.

Leslie W. Miller,
Principal.

School of Industrial Art, Philadelphia Textile School, Broad and Pine streets.

Office of the Principal, Broad & Pine streets.
Philadelphia, June 12, 1919.

Hon. Robert S. Spangler,
Speaker, House of Representatives,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir: The House of Representatives has the appointment of one member of the Board of Trustees of this institution, and for several years this place has not been filled, being still vacant at this time. In this connection, we would respectfully suggest the name of John T. Windrim, Commonwealth Trust Building, Philadelphia. If not inconsistent with your own ideas and those of the House, we should be glad to have him appointed to this vacancy.

Very respectfully yours,
THEODORE C. SEARCH,
President.

P. S. The above is offered as a suggestion merely, and should you desire to appoint someone else to the vacancy, it will of course be entirely satisfactory to us.

APPOINTMENT OF JOHN T. WINDRIM AS A MEMBER OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE PENNSYLVANIA MUSEUM AND SCHOOL OF INDUSTRIAL ART.

The SPEAKER. The Chair appoints John T. Windrim as a member of the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania Museum and School of Industrial Art.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON RESOLUTION.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer the following motion which was twice read, considered and agreed to.

Moved by Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE, seconded by Mr. SHOWALTER, that the vote by which House Bill No. 949, file folio 1897, was returned to the Governor in its present form be reconsidered.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the title of the bill.

The Clerk read the title as follows:

An Act to amend and to repeal certain sections of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-eight) entitled "An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This is a motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill, House Bill No. 949, was returned to the Governor in its present form. This bill, or the resolution rather, went through pretty fast a little while ago, and was, I think, passed before the members, perhaps, except the man who introduced the resolution, knew what it was. This, gentlemen, is a motion to reconsider. I wish to briefly call your attention to the matter that is now before the House. This is the famous Willson Bill, repealing the nonpartisan law for third-class cities, that was sometime ago, if report be true, kicked out of the office across the way and sent back to this House for amendment. It has not been amended, but, for some reason, I know not what, that bill is being returned to the Governor in the same shape that it came here. I think you men in this House are getting kind of tired of this repealer. I think we ought to bring the matter to an end now, and I therefore ask you men of this House to vote in favor of the motion to reconsider the vote by which this bill was returned to the Governor, and let the bill die, as it should, in this House. Gentlemen of this House, we have been jockeying this bill back and forth for a long time. The third-class city people do not want it, and I therefore ask you to vote in favor of this motion to reconsider the returning of this bill to the Governor's office.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The Gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson) will state his point of order.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, the resolution that was passed in the House on this bill was messaged to the Senate before the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Wallace) presented his motion to reconsider the vote on that resolution. Therefore, his motion is out of order. That resolution is no longer in the hands of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that the resolution is not in the possession of the House at the present time and that it has been messaged to the Senate.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, was that a joint resolution?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state it was a concurrent resolution.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, all that we ask in this matter is a fair and open hearing; a fair and open vote on it, and if the gentleman who offered the resolution shall prevail in this matter, he has our congratulations, but all we want is an opportunity to vote on this matter.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will rule that the point of order of the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson), that the resolution has been messaged to the Senate and is not in the House, and this being a concurrent resolution originating in the House, the point of order is well taken and the Chair rules that the motion is out of order.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I ask permission to offer a concurrent resolution to recall the resolution from the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will entertain the motion later.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 12, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a Resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 1313.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

WM. C. SPROUL.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1313.

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill, House Bill No. 1313, file folio 3635, entitled

An Act to amend section one thousand three hundred and sixteen of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" passed finally, be reconsidered.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed on third reading, be reconsidered.

Mr. STARK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOODRUFF. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 3, line 7, by striking out the word "study" and insert in lieu thereof the words "pedagogical studies named in this section."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

RESOLUTION RECALLING RESOLUTION FROM THE SENATE.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE asked and obtained unanimous consent to present a resolution which was twice read and considered as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 16, 1919.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 949, file folio 1897, entitled: "An Act to amend and to repeal certain sections of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-eight) entitled 'An Act providing for the incorporation regulation and government of cities of the third class regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto'" be recalled from the Senate.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I have been informed that the Senate has already concurred in the resolution and that the bill is now on its way to the Governor.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will rule that the point of order is not well taken. The Senate can or may recall or may not recall this resolution as it sees fit. The Chair, therefore, rules that the point of order by the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Simpson) is not well taken.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I don't want to prolong this debate on this matter, but I again ask the members of this House to vote in this resolution to recall this bill from the Senate as a matter of fair play. I do not want to be understood as accusing anybody of not playing fair, or that wrong is right, because we are going to vote on this matter. This is a bill that we sincerely oppose, and I would ask you to vote for the resolution and, Mr. Speaker, I call for the ayes and nays.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This is the famous third-class city bill that we have been dealing with for some considerable time. Now, the bill passed the House once. The action which was taken after it passed this House, in face of the opposition that there is to it at present, in face of the people that are presenting this resolution, and they allowed this matter to go to the Senate and the Senate passed the bill and took it to the Governor. It was recalled by a joint resolution and then repassed to-night by this House. That resolution, I am reliably informed, in face, I know it as an absolute fact, that it has already passed the Senate; they have already concurred in the action of the House on this particular measure, and now we are faced with a resolution asking the Senate to concur in another resolution from the Senate. Personally, I think it is too late. Personally, I think that the House don't care to go on record one minute passing a resolution asking the Senate to do a certain particular thing, and they doing it, and then in less than half an hour asking them to reverse themselves on the very thing that we passed to them and asked them to concur in. I, therefore, ask you to vote "no" on this resolution.

Mr. ALBERT MILLAR. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I think this bill has had due consideration here, and it is now on its way. We have a recurrence of what we had here last week. We will not get away here at all on the twenty-sixth of this month. I sincerely hope the members of this House will vote "No" on this resolution.

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker and gentleman of the House: This bill passed in this body some three or four weeks ago by a vote of 110 to 75, and also passed the Senate later by a vote of 34 to 12. The gentleman from Lawrence County (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) claims he wants a fair deal on this bill. It has passed the House and Senate in a fair way, and was recalled from the Governor for amendment to conform with his bill, House Bill No. 40. It was found that the amendment is not necessary. In justice to myself and in courtesy to myself, I think the members of this House should be kind enough to vote that this bill should go back to the Governor where it formerly went, and I therefore ask you to vote "No" on this resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Robert L. Wallace and Mr. Showalter and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1437, file folio 1531, bills on final passage postponed, page 9 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. DAWSON,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1437, entitled

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the sixth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven (Pamphlet Laws seventy-nine) entitled "An Act to provide for the better collection of collarteral inheritance taxes" as amended

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar. The provisions of this bill have been included in the Collateral Tax Code, House Bill No. 1231.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1438, file folio 5135, bills on final passage postponed, page 10 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. DAWSON,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1438, entitled

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and sixteen) entitled "An Act permitting the Commonwealth to intervene in any proceeding at law or in equity in which the Commonwealth may have an interest without giving security"

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, this bill merely corrects a typographical error in the act. The word "appear" in the act is changed to the word "appeal" by this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Lanius,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1149, file folio 3447, on page 11 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,
The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. DAWSON,
The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1149, entitled

An Act to amend section three of an act approved the second day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and eighty-four) entitled "An Act to provide revenue by imposing a mercantile license tax on vendors of or dealers in goods wares and merchandise and providing for the collection of said tax"

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, we have just passed three bills enabling the Auditor General to further the collection of State taxes. The bill now under consideration is one of the bills referred to by the Governor in his interview of last week when he said, "If the bills which are now before the Legislature to strengthen the hands of the Auditor General and make it possible for him to enforce the taxation laws and collect thoroughly the taxes now provided for, there will be no necessity of additional taxation." I, therefore ask the members of the House to support the Governor in his contention that this is one of the real revenue raisers of the session.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of ten o'clock P. M., having arrived, the House will take up the special order set for that time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1730 (Senate Bill No. 226), entitled

An Act to further amend the twenty-second section of an act entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" approved the tenth day of June eighteen hundred and ninety-three as amended by an act approved the twenty-ninth day of April nineteen hundred and three by providing a manner in which voters may designate their choice of candidates and repealing acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, there are certain amendments to this bill, in the course of preparation, to clarify some of its provisions. In view of that fact, and as the bill has not passed third reading, I move that the vote by which the bill was ordered transcribed for a third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed second reading be reconsidered.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the title was agreed to be reconsidered.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which section two was agreed to be reconsidered.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which section one was agreed to be reconsidered.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the first section?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO DROP BILL FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1175, file folio 5851, on page 24 of today's calendar, entitled be dropped from the calendar.

An Act defining sedition and prescribing the punishment therefor

Mr. DAVID F. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, this is an unheard of and uncourteous attempt to drop a member's bill from the calendar during his absence. I just happended to come in the House when I heard this motion read, and I want to say that there is no good reason that can be offered at this time for dropping this bill from the calendar. It was postponed last week when there was a light house, and I propose to call it up in due time and have it considered thoroughly by the House. I ask the members to stand by me and to see that the bill is given a fair chance.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL NO. 321.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its nonconcurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 321, entitled

An Act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth.

And has appointed Messrs. Crow, Vare and Woodward, a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

APOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL NO. 321.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House adhere to its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate, and that a Committee of Conference be appointed to confer with a similar committee of the Senate, already appointed, on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. GANS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. In accordance with the motion just passed, the Chair appoints as a Committee of Conference the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brady, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Gans, and the gentleman from Elk, Mr. Flynn.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 268, file folio 6791, on page 11 of to-day's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. MARSHALL,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 268, entitled

An Act authorizing the appointment of a commission to revise amend consolidate and simplify the laws relating to the assessment levy and collection of taxes for local purposes prescribing the power and duties of such commission and making an appropriation

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of 10:30 o'clock having arrived, the Chair lays before the House as a special order, House Bill No. 1473 (Senate Bill No. 858), on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1473 (Senate Bill No. 858), entitled

An Act to amend section three of an act approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and nineteen) entitled "An Act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" as amended

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is anyone in the House who can explain this bill.

The SPEAKER. Is there any member present who can explain the bill?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This bill is explained by the last eight lines, where in it states that if a ticket is placed for the whole ward it covers every division in the ward, and that if five electors composing any political body as hereinbefore provided shall file an affidavit as aforesaid, setting forth that they have adopted a certain political name or appellation to designate their policy for the purpose of making nominations for ward officers or officers to be elected in any ward, such affidavit shall give to such body of electors the exclusive right to use the said name or appellation for the nominations of any candidates for any precincts or other subdivision of such ward for the election for which such nominations are made. In other words, if five electors file their affidavit it covers every division in the ward and it is not necessary to file affidavits from each division.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Brady).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Brady) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is to give the so-called independent voter, or the voter who has taken his chance at an nomination, an easier chance to get another ticket in the field, is that true?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker, not necessarily so. It might be considered in some cases, but the act covers instances where it would be absolutely necessary to have an independent party

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, that is in some instances where an independent party would have to fight it out at the primary?

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: The real thought back of this bill is to make it possible to prevent a multiplicity of affidavits. The present instance, referred to by the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Alexander) might, perhaps, cause me to go into a recital of various instances occurring within the last two or three years; but I think that every member of the House feels that this bill is fair to the voters at large, and that it should have the support of the House.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: It seems to me that this is one of the bills that is going in the wrong direction. We have what is known in this State, as you all know, a uniform primary act, in which the Commonwealth has spent every year a very large sum of money. The purpose of that act is to give everybody a square deal at the primary and save a multiplicity of tickets at the regular election. We recognize the fact that there may be some people in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who are never satisfied. I say that if this act were passed it would be possible for some mugwump or somebody who wants to be independent to get on the ticket in an easier way, or to get another ticket in the field, and that will give you just that many more tickets to vote for. It makes no difference if you are Democratic or Republicans, and I hope you will vote against this bill.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: When this act is strictly gone into and examined, I think the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Alexander) will find it is very little different from the original act, and the idea has been to clarify the present act in order to state specifically just what is necessary to have nominations in the ward.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time, from page 10 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 1400, file folio 4551, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. RAMSEY,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1400, entitled

An Act to enforce the eighteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States by prohibiting the manufacture sale and transportation within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes defining the term "intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes" as used in this act regulating the manufacture sale and the licensing for sale of intoxicating liquors for medicinal sacramental chemical mechanical industrial manufacturing or scientific purposes and of the non-intoxicating liquors permitted to be manufactured sold transported imported and exported under the provisions of the act and providing penalties

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: There is no greater question that is confronting the American people at this particular time than the subject which is contained in the bill you are now called upon to consider. A few days ago in considering other measures, the sponsor for one of those measures, the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Vickerman) said that Congress had passed the Eighteenth Amendment known as the Prohibition Act, which act had been ratified by the states of the Union and that it was now a matter for Pennsylvania to consider its enforcement. In opposing that particular bill, I said that that was true, but the enforcement act at that time was not the act which I felt Pennsylvania ought to pass. Now, gentlemen, we are presenting to you for your consideration an enforcement act to the Eighteenth Amendment of the constitution of the United States. That Eighteenth Amendment declared that "there should not be manufactured, sold, transported, imported or exported after the passage of that amendment, intoxicating liquors as a beverage." It further said that the Congress and the several states are given concurrent power to enforce that legislation. I take it, Mr. Speaker, that in that amendment Congress did not prohibit "the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquor only as a beverage." Mr. Speaker, Congress considered intoxicating liquor as an essential to the welfare and the health and the social interests of our State and nation. To that extent this bill covers that portion of the Eighteenth Amendment, where we say that "intoxicating liquors might be manufactured for beverage purposes." We go further than that. We say in this act that for years past Pennsylvania has had an enforcement act upon its statute books and that the judges of our several courts are fully qualified to provide the certificates of license whereby that intoxicating beverage might be sold under the restrictions of this act for medicinal, scientific, experimental and commercial purposes. No one doubts that in this act that can be read; no one will say that this act does not cover the intentions of Congress; for it seems to me they believed that it was necessary not as a beverage, but for medicinal and other purposes to manufacture and sell their liquors. But this act goes further than that. Congress also said that intoxicating liquor, as a beverage, should not be sold, and we say so too in our act, but we say that a beverage which contains 'not to exceed two and three-fourths percent. alcohol is, under the terms of this act, not intoxicating." If we take the time of this House, Mr. Speaker, I think we can recite for you instances where medical men, where scientific men, where organizations have made researches, not only in this country but in England and other foreign countries and we could recite enough to convince you that two and three-quarter per cent. of alcohol in a beverage is not intoxicating. But I will just produce one more recent argument. I just read to-day in the newspapers that the great Russell Conwell of Philadelphia, a man that no person in Pennsylvania or the United States would stand up and question on a statement that he makes, and regarding this question, he is reported as saying and I read where Russell Conwell said that "It is no right to allow the rich man, under the act of Congress, to fill his cellar with enough liquor and provide himself for his lifetime and denying the workingman and every other individual the right of having at his table a glass or bottle of two and three-quarter per cent. alcohol beer." Mark you, Russell Conwell said this to his congregation. I am speaking now if two and three-quarter per cent. beer is not intoxicating and we have claimed and scientific men have claimed very recently that two and three-quarter per cent. beer is not intoxicating. Why, men of this House, there is not a pronounced prohibitionist present that could not vote for this bill with a clear conscience that is voting to enforce, in all of its provisions, the Eighteenth Amendment recently passed on by the States. Men, do not carry this question simply as a partisan idea. I am as temperate as any man who sits in this House. I have never in my life tasted a drop of intoxicating liquor, and I stand here, men, not in defense or in the protection of any particular manufacturer, but I stand here saying to you that I do not believe Congress intended that you, or you, or you, might be prevented from purchasing a beverage which contains that amount of alcohol that is good to your body. Listen, and I quote again from the newspapers: "New York. Allied Medical Associations of America, composed of all the various schools of medicine in the country, to-day adopted at the convention a resolution declaring that properly brewed lager beer was absolutely essential in the treatment of certain cases and favoring the manufacture of beer containing not to exceed two and three-quarter per cent. alcohol. Do you mean to say, men, that all the men represented by the Allied Association could have been bought up by the brewers? I say, "No," men. Those men are looking at this question as you ought to look at it to-night, the question that Pennsylvania here and now, a State which in November declared, by the election to this House of more than a majority of its members, that it favored just such legislation as this. Large numbers, ah, hundreds and millions of men throughout Pennsylvania are asking Congress, are asking the States not to give intoxicating liquor, not to permit them to buy wholesale of the things which Congress has only said should be used as a medicine; but they are appealing to you men, they are appealing to me to give them a beverage which will satisfy them, a beverage which no man could drink enough of at any one sitting to become intoxicated. That is the verdict of medical men throughout the world, that a beverage which contains not to exceed two and three-quarter per cent. of alcohol is not intoxicating.

Now, men, let me ask you in conclusion: Don't look at this as a partisan question. It is not a partisan question. This bill, which I present to you, contains all the machinery, namely, the present liquor laws of Pennsylvania, and none better were ever written in the statute books of any State of the Union. It retains all of those measures to enforce this act. It contains all of the provisions necessary to keep in check, to hold in force the provisions of the Eighteenth Amendment which prevents the sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquors as a beverage. But it says to the man who cannot buy a barrel of liquor next week, it says to the men who is accustomed to having his glass of beer on his table and treating his entire family with it—which has been the custom for ages—it says to that man that the State of Pennsylvania is going to permit the manufacture and sale, under the same restrictions which we have always held in this State, that you, poor as you are, may have the privilege and that God-given liberty which the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States has given to you, the right to buy this glass of two and three-quarters per cent. alcoholic beverage. Men of the House, I ask you again, do not look at it from a partisan point of view, but vote that all men who are created free and equal may have their rights in Pennsylvania.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: Let us not forget that the Eighteenth Amendment has become a part of the fundamental law of this land. Let us not forget the wording of that amendment, which provides for the prohibition of the manufcture, sale, importation, transportation and exportation of intoxicating liquors. Let us consider just briefly what is meant by "intoxicating liquors." There is not any use in trying to dodge the issue, men. Intoxicating liquors have been forbidden. The Eighteenth Amendment has been ratified by a greater majority of the States of this Union than any other of the seventeen amendments. Forty-five States in the Union have ratified it. Millions of people in this great Government have gone on record on this matter. Now we come down to the serious question: What is intoxicating liquor? It is not for you, my friend, and it is not for me to say what is intoxicating liquor. It is not a question of how large a precentage of alcohol in liquor will intoxicate my friend from Delaware or will intoxicate me—that is not the question. Gentlemen of this House, the question of intoxicating liquor is not a legislative subject but is a question of fact to be determined by our courts on lawful evidence submitted to them. We cannot legislate to define what is intoxicating liquor. That is a question purely and simply for the courts to determine, by calling competent witnesses before the court to testify as a matter of fact what is and what is not intoxicating liquor. When we became members of this distinguished body we took an oath, my friends, to defend and obey the Constitution of the United States as well as the Constitution of Pennsylvania. Now, gentlemen, if we vote for this bill, we will be voting fairly and squarely against the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Scientists and great medical men for many, many years have determined what is and what is not intoxicating liquor. They have determined beyond the peradventure of a doubt that intoxication is not a relative question but is a question of degree and the least particle of alcohol taken into the system results in intoxication just to the extent of the amount of alcohol consumed. Scientists and medical men have demonstrated that, and neither you nor I, my friends, can contravert their findings. The courts of the State of Pennsylvania, as well as in nearly all the other States of the Union, have decided and determined what is intoxicating liquor. Under the present laws that exist in this Commonwealth ,it is unlawful for any man to sell intoxicating liquors unless he has procured a license for that purpose. We cannot pass this bill, it cannot become a law, because it is unconstitutional and is in violation of this Eighteenth Amendment. There is not a court in this Commonwealth that can grant a single license to sell the thing that they themselves have determined is intoxicating. Think of a judge in this State who has sworn to defend and obey the Federal Constitution and the State Constitution passing on a question to legalize the sale of a thing that he himself has said is intoxicating and that which the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution says cannot be sold. In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Wendell, twenty-four Superior Court, 468—This was a prosecution for the sale of a drink called "Rick"—and the court in passing on this question said: "If you believe this beverage Rick had vinous, spirituous, malt, or brewed liquors, that is, alcohol, or any admixture of it, if you believe there was any in it, as was testified to by all of the witnesses, then you will find this man 'guilty.' The drink, whatever it may have been, undoubtedly contained a percentage of alcohol, that having been conclusively shown and that man was guilty of selling a drink which contained an admixture of spirituous, malt or brewed liquors, all of which contained alcohol as the essential ingredient. In the case of Hatfield vs. the Commonwealth, the Supreme Court, cited in 120 Pa. St. 395, decided that any liquor that had alcohol or any admixture thereof was intoxicating. In the case of the Commonwealth vs. Reyburg, cited in 122 Pa. St., 299, the court decided substantially the same thing. Now, gentlemen, I cite these decisions to show you that the appellate courts of this great Commonwealth have found. by judicial decisions, that liquor that has any admixture of alcohol in any appreciable amount is intoxicating and the men who sell that without a license are guilty of selling liquor without a license, under the laws of this Commonwealth. Now we need go no further than an examination of the decisions of the appellate courts of this State to get our definition of what intoxicating liquor is and it is the only definition that will stand in law. It is the only definition that binds you and me because when the courts rendered those decisions those decisions became the law of this Commonwealth. Under the Eighteenth Amendment and under the decisions of these courts, the acts which I have just cited, any liquor with any admixture of alcohol in it is an intoxicating liquor and is therefore prohibited by the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to raise a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that this bill cannot be considered because under its provisions it is clearly in violation of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, in view of the decisions of the appellate courts of this Commonwealth, which I have cited, and which conclusively define intoxicating liquors which are, under the Eighteenth Amendment, prohibited.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) raises a point of order as to the constitutionality of this bill. The Chair refers the question to the House for its decision.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. I will be very glad to, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the Brooks High License Law prohibits the sale without a license of any vinous, spirituous, brewed or malt liquors?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, is there anything stated in the Brooks High License Law relative to intoxicating liquors?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, no; the courts have decided that.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, anything which would contain alcohol would be spirituous liquor, would it not?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, anything containing alcohol would be spirituous liquor.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, or malt?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, anything containing alcohol; it might be spirituous, vinous, malt or brewed.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, does not the Eighteenth Amendment merely prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, it merely prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquor.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, if the beverage had alcohol in it and would not be intoxicating, it would not be in violation of the Eighteenth Amendment, would it?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, it would be in violation, for the reason that any liquor which has the necessary ingredient of alcohol in it is either vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquor.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, does the Eighteenth Amendment prohibit the sale of vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquors?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, it does if it is intoxicating, and the courts have decided that it is intoxicating if it has any admixture of alcohol in it.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, is not the decision which the gentleman read from the Superior Court simply a question of whether or not a man was selling vinous liquors without a license, and no matter what alcohol it contained, would it not come under the provisions of the Brooks High License Law?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, it was a violation for the sale; it was a prosecution for the sale of intoxicating liquors.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, was it actually for the violation of the Brooks High License Law?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, absolutely, because the Brooks High License Law is the only law prior to the adoption to the Eighteenth Amendment that prohibited the sale of intoxicating liquors in Pennsylvania.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) think that anything which is vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed is necessarily intoxicating?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, absolutely yes, under the decisions of the court.

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the colloquy between the two members is taking up the time of the House and is not a proper colloquy.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that the colloquy between the gentlemen is entirely in order. The gentlemen will proceed.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, is not the gentleman mistaken when he asserts that it is a fact that the decision in question related to a man selling intoxicating liquor? Does the gentleman mean that selling intoxicating liquor is a violation of the Brooks High License Law?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, yes; the Brooks High License Law prohibits the sale of those things without a license, and he was selling without a license.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the court did not decide that this was a question of selling intoxicating liquor, but simply a question of the violation of the Brooks High License Law?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I beg the gentleman's pardon—

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, what was the decision?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, the court decided it was intoxicating.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, was that the word the court used?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, absolutely; it was repeated many times.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, what was the reason given for deciding that? The question of intoxication was not before the court or jury.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, yes; the question of intoxication was submitted to the court below. The Honorable Judge Frazer and Judge Shaffer, from the court sitting in Pittsburgh, decided this case against the defendant. It was appealed to the higher court, and it was found by the lower court and also by the appellate court that the liquor was intoxicating.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, isn't it a fact that the court simply charged the jury that the question was for them to determine?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I have read the decision rendered by the court.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman again what decision was it from the Supreme Court that determined anything containing alcohol is intoxicating?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, the two decisions which I have read, 120 Pa. 395, 112 Pa. 299, and the Superior Court decision in 24 Superior Court Decisions 468, are the decisions which I read during my remarks.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman state that these decisions decided that anything containing alcohol, no matter what percentage is intoxicating?

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, absolutely.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, then I declare that the court did not know what it was talking about.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I want to speak just a moment in reference to the point of order the Speaker has submitted to the House. If you will read the bill you will find that the first section after the title and the preamble is gone over, declares that it shall go into effect from and after the 16th day of January, 1920. This bill is based upon the peradventure that the Eighteenth Amendment would be declared constitutional by the courts. The Eighteenth Amendment is not in force yet, and will not be until the 16th day of January, 1920, and this act is to go into effect on that date and thereafter. Gentlemen of the House, give it fair play. It is not unconstitutional, because at this time the constitutionality of the Eighteenth Amendment has not been passed upon by the courts, and this bill itself deals with the question after the date set by that amendment. I do not think that the gentleman wants to delay this House by a roll call on the constitutionality of this bill. I think he wants to be fair and have the question put to the members of this House whether or not after the Eighteenth Amendment shall have gone into effect, if it does go into effect legally, this bill shall become a law in Pennsylvania. I hope, if he presses this point of constitutionality, that you will see it clear enough that it is not at this time a question of constitutionality, because the courts must rule upon that question, and when this question of constitutionality has been passed upon we will be ready.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I will.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) what would happen if the courts between now and the first day of January, 1920, should define beer of two per cent. alcohol as being intoxicating if we pass this bill tonight stating that beer containing two and three-fourths per cent. alcohol is not intoxicating?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I think that would also be a matter for the courts of Pennsylvania or the Federal Courts to decide.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) if it would be possible for the State Legislature to increase that percentage if the Federal Courts decided that two per cent. alcohol would be intoxicating? Would it be possible for the State Legislature to increase it?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, the Federal Courts have not decided as yet, and therefore the State is not called upon to act; but my own notion is tha tthe Legislature has the right to do this now. The question as to what conflict arises is a matter to be considered after Congress has taken action, and it is a matter for the courts alone.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, if it is true, and I am informed by reliable authority, that the Legislatures of several States do not have it within their power to increase the percentage of alcohol in intoxicating liquor, and if it should be decided by the Federal Government, and again decreased—take, for instance, if the Federal Courts should decide that a two per cent. beer is intoxicating—and the Legislature of Pennsylvania or any other State should again increase that percentage, what would be the result. For instance, New York has made it one pre cent., New Jersey two per cent., and Pennsylvania one and one-half per cent. Therefore, if that is true, that the Federal Government has not taken any action that they have not defined what intoxicating liquors are, why should the Legislature of Pennsylvania be so hasty in trying to define what that is. When that shall be put in the bill; when the Federal Government decides that one and one-half per cent. is intoxicating liquor, if the Federal Government decides that, it would then be intoxicating.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, the Eighteenth Amendment prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquor. If the United States Congress passes a law declaring that that shall be prohibited from sale which is not intoxicating then that act will not be constitutional under the Eighteenth Amendment. That is my answer to the gentleman from Clearfield.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I wish to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I see that the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) has the floor, and I will give way to him.

POINT OF ORDER WITHDRAWN.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, while I consider the point of order well made on this matter, nevertheless I realize that the question can be very well disposed of by the withdrawal of my point of order. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) withdraws his point of order.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker, we should hear from the wets, it does seem to me. My friend from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) tells me that he has never taken a drink of liquor in his life and therefore he is as dry as powder. I have never taken a drink of liquor but I have tasted a drop or two, and possibly I am wetter than he is. My friend from Lawrence, my colleague (Mr. Robert L. Wallace), received eleven more prohibition votes than I did, so that I am wetter than Wallace. I never knew why I liked the gentleman from Delaware so well, but I think it is because he is so near a preacher and he has been reading Russell Conwell. He reminds me of an angel—Gabriel blowing his trumpet; trying to raise the dead and it reminds me of a friend of mine who was a member of my first congregation. He had a wife and six children, and finally his wife died. We had helped the man to get along and helped his family, and when his wife died we raised the money to bury his wife. On the day of the funeral he came around to me and said, "Preacher, we want the funeral postponed." I said, "Why do you want to do that. We have raised the money to bury your wife and we are going to take care of the children and we cannot do much more than that." Then he said, "Dr. Jordan, when we saw her here in the coffin she looked so pretty and we decided to keep her here another day, because I want to take a picture of her and I want to give you a picture of my wife, as she looks when she is lying in the coffin." My friend from Delaware seems to want to keep the body of Miss Alcohol; she died some time ago and she is in her coffin and I will admit that she looks prettier in the coffin than ever she did out of the coffin, but my advice to my friend from Delaware is, bury the old girl; but if you must take a picture of her, take a picture of her and give me one, but I want to tell my friend from Delaware that if we don't soon bury the old girl, she will bring some of us into the grave; she will drag us Republicans down and I for one refuse to be buried in the same grave with that kind of a wife. For fifty years Mr. Wayne B. Wheeler, who is counsel for the National Anti-Saloon League in Washington, has been the greatest authority on this question in the world, told you in this House that everything above one-half of one per cent. was intoxicating. Alabama and Georgia have both tried it. They put their liquor on a basis of two per cent. and after they passed it on two per cent. alcohol, they got drunk on it and in six months they reconvened the Legislatures in both states, Georgia and Alabama, and repealed that two per cent. law. Why, if they got drunk in Alabama and Georgia on two per cent. alcohol the gentleman from Delaware and I who have never used it would be drunk if we began to drink that kind of stuff. That is the fact in Alabama and Georgia, and they repealed it. We all know that the federal Congress is preparing bills today defining what constitutes intoxicating liquor; defining the laws and when the National Congress passes it, then it will go to the Supreme Court of the United States, and that body will determine what constitutes intoxicating liquors in Pennsylvania. It is a Federal movement and it is up to the Federal Congress to pass it, and then it is up to the Supreme Court of the United States to finally decide. All of us are fooling around here and we have seen the Vickerman bill and the Fox bill put out of the way, and we must not embarrass the Governor or the State with any legislation of this kind.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, because of the great admiration I have always had for Doctor Conwell, I merely wish to point out to this House that if the gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) had quoted Doctor Conwell in full he would have put him on record as being unalterably opposed to intoxicating liquors of all kinds. Furthermore, he would have put him on record as being opposed to two and three-fourths per cent. beer if two and three-fourth per cent. beer should prove to be an intoxicating beverage, which Doctor Conwell did not profess to discuss.

The gentleman from Delaware (Mr. Ramsey) has talked much about Congress. I want to point out to you that the present Republican Congress has shown a general indication of being determined against pulling a Democratic President's beer and light wine chestnuts out of the fire. Is this House, with its great Republican majority, going to do that which a Republican Congress has shown every indication of being unwilling to do.

Mr. PALMER. Mr. Speaker, I have in my hands the decisions which the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) quoted on this point of order. I desire to retract what I said about the court, if they said that not knowing what they were talking about, because the court never said that. The case of which he quotes of Commonwealth vs. Wenzel—I will go into the whole matter because the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace)evidently did not read his question when he put it to this House for argument. This was a trial on an indictment charging a man by the name of Wenzel with having sold and also convicted him of selling or offering for sale any vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquor, or any admixture thereof, without a license. The court, in charging, said:

"If you believe that this (beverage) had vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquors, that is alcohol or any admxiture of it—if you believe there was any in it, as was testified to by all the witnesses who testified about it, then you will find this man guilty. If you do not believe it, and do not believe he sold it, as he said he did, then you can find him not guilty."

That was the charge of the lower court and Superior court, on commenting on that said:

"The drink, whatever it may have been, undoubtedly contained a percentage of alcohol. That having been conclusively shown by the defendant's own witnesses, he was guilty of selling a drink containing an admixture of spirituous, vinous, malt or brewed liquors, all of which contained alcohol as an essential ingredient. We have no doubt whatever as to the propriety of the charge of the court covering this branch of the case. See Hatfield v. Com., 120 Pa. 395; Com. v. Reyburg, 122 Pa. 299."

In 122 Pa., which the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) quoted Justice Green, in rendering the decision, spoke thus:

"The learned court below charged the jury that there was no evidence that it was intoxicating, or that it had an intoxicating effect, and therefore the defendant could not be convicted. Without stopping to refine upon the meaning of the word 'intoxicating,' or the degree of alcoholic admixture which is necessary to render any liquid intoxicating, it is only necessary to say that the intoxicating quality is not the only one which is prohibited by the act, and hence an issue upon that question does not arise under the indictment."

In the other case which the gentleman has quoted, 120 Pa., Hatfield vs. Commonwealth, Justice Paxson said:

"Upon the trial below, the defendant asked the court to instruct the jury that 'there is no evidence that the alleged wine sold by the defendant was intoxicating, and the verdict of the jury should be, not guilty.' The learned judge refused this instruction very properly. The inquiry was whether the defendant sold vinous liquor; if he did, the act prohibited such sale and imposed a penalty upon the offending party. Just how much alcohol there might be in the wine was foreign to the issue."

Gentlemen of the House, the gentleman from Lawrence (Mr. Robert L. Wallace) did not prepare his case when he came into this court.

The previous question was moved by twenty members, as follows: Messrs. McCaig, Alexander, Aaron, Benninger, Brady, Crawford, Diehm, DiLemmo, Dilsheimer, Dithrich, Donnelley, Ehrhardt, Evans, Joseph T., Flynn, Fowler, Goehring, Hamilton, Jacob, Heyburn, Hickernell, Jones, Krause, Theddeus S., Krugh, Mehring, Palmer, Patterson, Perry, Simpson, Sinclair, Sowers, Steedle, Wells, Willson and Zanders.

Mr. GOLDER. I vote in favor of this measure in order among other reasons that those churches that desire to use wines and other spirituous liquors in their sacrament ceremonies and rites should be given the right to do so, and that they are the best judges as to the substance to be used.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1674 (Senate Bill No. 642), file folio 3613, on page 8 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. BALDRIGE,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1674 (Senate Bill No. 642), entitled

An Act creating a Department of Conservation charging the department with the enforcement administration and execution of laws heretofore enforced administered and executed by or through the Department of Fisheries the Department of Forestry the Board of Game Commissioners the Water Supply Commission and the State Forestry Reservation Commission defining the powers and duties of the Department of Conservation and prescribing penalties abolishing certain departments boards commissions and offices providing for the disposition of certain moneys now held by or hereafter paid to the State Treasurer under any statute the enforcement of which is by this act imposed on the Department of Conservation and making appropriations.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Game.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 16, 1919.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 949, file folio 1897, entitled "An Act to amend and to repeal certain sections of an act approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred and sixty-eight), entitled 'An Act providing for the incorporation, regulation, and government of cities of the third class; regulating nomination and election of municipal officers therein, and repealing consolidating and extending existing laws in relation thereto'", recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment be returned to the Governor in its present form.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, May 21, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed a resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives, recalling from the Governor, House Bill No. 974.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

WM. C. SPROUL.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 974.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 974, entitled

An Act to amend section three of the act approved the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws fifty-one) entitled "An Act providing for the protection of the public health and the prevention of fraud and deception by prohibiting the sale the offering for sale or exposing for sale or having in possession with intent to sell of adulterated or deleterious sausage defining sausage and prescribing the penalty for the violation thereof"

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. STEEDLE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, by striking out all of the paragraph "First" beginning on line 25, page 2 and ending in line 3, page 3, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "First. If it contains added water or ice in excess of the quantity required to bring the amount up to that which the meats from which it is prepared contain immediately after slaughter excepting such water and ice as may be added for the purpose of facilitating grinding chopping and mixing and which shall in no case exceed five per centum."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 362.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 16, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 362, entitled "An Act to amend chapter three article one of an act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled 'An Act concerning townships and providing amending and consolidating the law relating thereto.'"

Changing the name of a township should not be made too easy a matter. Changes of names of municipalities cause confusion of records and much public inconvenience. Moreover, a procedure such as is suggested by this bill might be used to gratify some temporary public whim or prejudice, or even to promoulgate private enterprise.

For these reasons, this bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. COOK, seconded by Mr. BROOKS,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1488.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 16, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1488, entitled "An Act amending Article XVI of an act entitled 'An Act for the government of cities of the second class' approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one as amended by an act entitled 'An Act amending article two article six article sixteen and paragraph twenty-four of article nineteen of an act entitled "An Act for the government of cities of the second class" approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one by providing for an increase in the number of executive departments in said cities from nine to ten by the creation of the Department of Public Health by increasing the number of persons constituting the Department of Assessors and enlarging and increasing the jurisdiction and powers of said department by providing for an increase in the number of police magistrates in said cities from five to eight and supplementing said act by authorizing the creation of the Department of Public Health providing for the appointment of a director thereof fixing the maximum of his salary and defining the jurisdiction of said department' approved the first day of April Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine fixing the number of police magistrates in said cities and relating to their salaries"

This bill is wrong in principle. Instead of increasing numbers in the minor judiciary of the State, we ought to raise its personnel, and this is particularly true at this time. The minor judiciary necessarily deals very much with the poor and the unfortunate. Its personnel should be of men of common sense, clear understanding and a sincere desire to see that justice is done.

I am led to the conclusion, from the information that I have, that the present number of magistrates in cities of the second class is fully adequate to take care of all legitimate business which should come to them.

I am further opposed to the provision in this bill that the magistrates "shall serve for the term of the mayor appointing them, but subject to removal by him." The public policy of this State is to keep its judiciary of all grades independent and free. This provision of the bill is in face of this policy. It might be the wise thing to increase the salaries of the present police magistrates if they are not adequate, and in this way command the services and the time of the most worthy citizens willing to discharge the really great responsibilities attached to the magistrate's office, but certainly an increase of numbers is not the desirable or the wise thing at this juncture.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

An the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. SCOTT, seconded by Mr. GOLDER,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1602.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 16, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1602, entitled "An Act requiring the State Board of Law Examiners to register as law students all honorably discharged soldiers sailors and marines who had made application to take the preliminary law examination but were prevented by reason of being in the service of the United States and certain honorably discharged soldiers sailors and marines who were clerks in law offices and who were prevented from making such application by reason of their engagement in the military or naval service of the United States."

This bill would tend to lower the standard required for registration to study law. It provides that any honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine who has filed an application to undergo a preliminary examination shall be registered as a law student without reference to his educational qualifications, if he has served a clerkship for two continuous years in the office of a practicing attorney.

The preliminary examination for registration of law students is to ascertain their educational qualifications.

Service in the office of a practicing attorney is no evidence of educational qualifications to justify one being registered as a law student.

While I am in favor of giving preferences wherever possible to honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, I am not in favor of lowering the standard of the learned professions by giving such preferences.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. COOK, seconded by Mr. BROOKS,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1347.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, June 16, 1919.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1347, entitled "An Act authorizing the several boroughs and townships to appropriate moneys for the support of county associations of boroughs and townships."

This bill authorizes boroughs and townships to appropriate a sum not exceeding $200 for the support of any voluntary association that may exist therein for the study of the welfare, economies and government of the township or borough, or for the protection of its rights.

Such associations should not be supported by public funds. Any body of citizens banded together for the purposes enumerated in this bill will commonly have sufficient public spirit to provide the means to support the organization, without recourse to the borough or township treasury. Our citizenship is not so lacking in diligence and intelligence in the work of self-government as to make necessary such a measure as this.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

And the question being,

Shall the bill become a law, the objections of His Excellency the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

A motion was made by Mr. BROOKS, seconded by Mr. McCURDY,

That the question, together with the further consideration of the communication, be laid upon the table.

Which was agreed to.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1919 — 123rd of the General Assembly

Vol. 5. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, JUNE 17, 1919. No. 65.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, June 17, 1919.

The Senate met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Edward E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. VARE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the fearless attitude of our Governor in all matters pertaining to the fundamental rights of the people of this Commonwealth; We thank Thee for his sterling character, broad statesmanship and admirable self-reliance. We thank Thee for the practical efficiency of those men who are associated with him in counsel on all matters pertaining to the welfare of our citizens. We pray that our Governor, his associates in counsel and all the members of this Senate may be guided by the same spirit, the same high ideals and principles that characterized the founders and builders of this great Keystone State. We pray Thy blessing upon all the employes of this body. These favors we ask in our Savior's name. Amen.

PETITION.

Mr. BARNES presented petition of the First Reformed Church of East Mauch Chunk, praying for the passage of the Vickerman and Fox enforcement bills.

Which was referred to the Committee on Law and Order.

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. CROW. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Appropriation Bills on Third Reading.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

A Supplement to the act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred twelve) entitled "An Act providing a system of government for boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" defining the scope of the repealing clause of said act

Whereas by chapter one article one section six of "The General Borough Act" approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) as amended by an act approved the sixth day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and four) it is provided "This act shall apply to all boroughs incorporated under general law and to all boroughs incorporated under special law which have accepted the provisions of the act April third one thousand eight hundred and fifty-one entitled 'An Act regulating boroughs and also to all boroughs incorporated since April third one thousand eight hundred fifty-one by special act of Assembly which by the act of incorporation have been given the general powers of boroughs incorporated under the general law This act shall not annul or repeal any local or special act in force at the date of the passage of this act or any provision thereof" and in subsequent sections thereof certain acts of Assembly are "absolutely repealed" and certain others are repealed "in so far as they relate to boroughs" and certain others are repealed to a limited extent and

Whereas confusion and doubt has arisen as to whether said repealed acts of Assembly remain in force as to boroughs incorporated under special acts of Assembly and which have not accepted the provisions of the aforesaid "act regulating boroughs" now therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the repealing clauses in "The General Borough Act" approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and twelve) shall be taken held and deemed not to apply to boroughs incorporated under special act of Assembly and which have not accepted the provisions of the "act regulating boroughs" approved the third day of April one thousand eight hundred fifty-one nor to boroughs incorporated since April third one thousand eight hundred fifty-one by special act of Assembly which by the act of incorporation have been given the general powers of boroughs incorporated under the general law and as to all such boroughs the acts of Assembly repealed as to boroughs under the jurisdiction of "The General Borough Act" shall be taken held and deemed to have remained and still to be in full force and effect

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. HALDEMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 810.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 810 (House Bill No. 941), entitled:

An Act relating to eggs prohibiting the sale offering for sale exposing for sale or having in possession with intent to sell eggs for and as fresh that are not fresh eggs or of branding or of labeling or marking eggs as being fresh eggs that are not fresh eggs prescribing certain duties of the Dairy and Food Commissioner in reference thereto and providing penalties for the violation thereof was defeated on final passage.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I voted "no."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I believe that this bill was defeated under a misapprehension. When the bill was first introduced there was serious objection to it, and we put it on the postponed calendar. As far as I was personally concerned, we intended to leave it there, but the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Baldwin, made a personal investigation about purchasing eggs, and he was so convinced that with certain amendments this was a good bill, that he himself suggested the amendments. We have stricken out on page 2, line 5, the words "or in any way represented." That will prevent those who tell the customers that these are fresh eggs from being prosecuted, and only those who misbrand the eggs—label, stamp or mark them as fresh—will come under the provisions of the act. Mr. President, you know that the present high price for eggs was a strong temptation to some to sell stale eggs for fresh, thereby getting the largest price on the market. Fresh eggs have sold as high as one dollar a dozen, and it is well known that some people have mixed cold storage eggs with fresh eggs and sold them for fresh eggs and labeled them as fresh eggs. Those eggs which are preserved in lime solution and water glass are not fresh, although they are wholesome eggs they should not be sold as strictly fresh eggs, because people who require strictly fresh eggs, who have delicate stomachs, and anaemics who use them, are deceived if they are misbranded and labeled fresh. The Senator who made the investigation himself bought eggs, over which was a placard reading "strictly fresh eggs," and he found these eggs not fresh, in fact one of them was rotten and stank when it was broken. This is not right and

I wish to say further, that anyone who has any doubt about it can have confidence in our Secretary of Agriculture, Secretary Rasmussen. He will not take any action against any merchants who are honest and strive to be honest. Let us try it then for two years. If it works a hardship, or there is any undue force used in enforcing it, it can be repealed. I trust the members will vote for this bill.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, what has been stricken from this bill by amendment?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, on page 2, line 5, the words "or in any way represented."

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President, they do not appear to be stricken from the bill as we have it on the record to-day.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, if you get file folio No. 6725, as it is here, and gentlemen, I hold it in my hand, he will find that amendment in the bill.

Mr. LIEBY. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present, in order that we may examine the new file folio.

Mr. SASSAMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. R. J. BALDWIN. Mr. President, I can say positively that I have examined the bill, and it is amended as the Senator from Blair states it is amended. I would like to say that my objection to the bill at the time it was before the Senate, was on the ground that a person might go in and ask the store keeper if he had fresh eggs, and the store keeper would probably say yes, believing that he had. The purchaser would have some warning. In going over the State I found where they placarded in big double leaded type "strictly fresh eggs." Certainly if they know they are not strictly fresh, they should not be permitted to do this. With the passage of this bill they will not be permitted to expose to the public a statement that an article is what it is not. That is all this bill does in its present form. It really ought to apply to everything in the nature of merchandise, but that is impracticable. In this case it is entirely practicable to prevent a merchant from selling the public something he probably knows is not true. It is my own personal experience in Media, that when I happened to be in a grocery store I saw "strictly fresh eggs" in large doubled leaded type. I asked him to give me half a dozen, and I turned my back to give him an opportunity to pick out what would be the worst, and as a result I took them down and tested them under an electric light, and found some of them would not come up to the fresh glare that you find in a fresh egg, and upon breaking them, I found some of them absolutely rotten, and yet they were printed there to be "strictly fresh eggs." Surely we ought not to have a condition where we permit that, and I think really the bill ought to pass in its present form.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, his Excellency the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, the Hon. William C. Sproul, yesterday vetoed the Magistrates Bill, which I opposed in this Senate, and which was opposed by a minority of the Representatives in the lower House. This bill, House Bill No. 1474, is along the same line, and is before the Senate for final consideration, purports to create in Allegheny County a board for the assessment and revision of taxes, with specified powers and duties. In point of fact such a board already exists, with the same powers and duties. What this bill, introduced in the House by Mr. Simpson of Allegheny County, really does, is to oust the present board of three members, whose salaries aggregate $15,000 per year, and substitute a new board of seven members, whose salaries will aggregate $35,000. There is no increase in duties or responsibilities, merely an increase of four members and $20,000 tax burden on the County of Allegheny. Before 1905 the work was performed by the County Commissioners, with the aid of the local assessors. By the Act of 1905, P. L. 47, a board was created consisting of three members appointed by the Court, each with a salary of $4,000. By the Act of 1911, P. L. 892, this board was replaced by a like board appointed by the County Commissioners, each with a salary of $5,000. We are now operating under the Act of 1911. Both the present law and the pending bill provide for the division of the county into as many districts as the board sees fit to create and the appointment by the board of assessment of a subordinate assessor in each of the one hundred and thirty districts of the county. Both the present law and the pending bill make full provision for the appointment of clerks, the number to be decided by the board. The board therefore has all the help it can use—and much more than it can use to advantage at the present time, in the performance of its duties. Both the present law and the pending bill permit changes in valuations to be made from year to year, without waiting for the tri-ennial assessment. There need be no congestion of work in one year. With the force of assistants amounting at present to two hundred and thirty-five, and this distribution of work, three men of ordinary, reasonable ability are more than enough to discharge the duties of the office. The County Commissioners formerly did practically the same work as is now being done by the board and at the same time performed all the other duties of their office. The addition of more members to the board will hinder rather than promote efficiency and prompt and honest discharge of the public business. It would be cheaper to present $20,000 a year to any worthy or unworthy cause or object than to have the board further encumbered with more superfluous members. The United States Government has but one Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the whole country to see to the assessment and collection of taxes, running into the billions. The Pittsburgh District, including the western tier of counties and the counties of northern West Virginia, has one Collector of Internal Revenue, who sees to the assessment and collection of income taxes, liquor, and tobacco taxes ad infinitum. Allegheny County Board of Assessment and Tax Revision, if placed on a sound business-like basis, would have one man to direct the work, and the County Commissioners to sit with him on appeal, or it should take the Superintendent of the personal property tax and the Superintendent of the Real Estate Department and have the County Commissioners sit with them on appeals and eliminate the three useless heads of the boards as now constituted. Why the job is actually so soft now that one member of the board is reported to have been away during the past three and one-half years for weeks at a time, while none of the board has even been reported sick from the overwork of his office. The hours are from 9 to 4, Saturday 9 to 12, and no man would testify that the board can be found at their desks out of hours. They believe in regular hours of business. Beside the County assessors and their help-consisting of two hundred and thirty-eight people and costing the County of Allegheny $277,240 per year, the City of Pittsburgh has nine assessors and clerks galore, who do the same work as the County assessors, assessing the same property in the twenty-seven wards of Pittsburgh for school and city taxation, and at a cost in 1917 of $64,008.89. The total cost to the people of the City of Pittsburgh and the County of Allegheny for the assessment of taxes (not collection understand) is in excess of $350,000, and Mr. Leslie wants to add three more places to a board that is more than top-heavy now. His theory is that the seven men can view the property and come to a more equitable conclusion than could be arrived at by men who are familiar with the local districts and who are paid $5.00 per day for their services. If his assumption were even remotely well founded he might have a very shaky foundation on which to base an argument for the four additional political offices. But if three have not and won't work, it must be concluded that seven will not, when men can, under the law under which they operate be employed to do the assessing and allow the seven men to hold down seven easy jobs at $5,000 per year. The people of Allegheny County are weary of taxes, government, state, city, borough, township, school, and what not. Why the fact is that the only desire of some men have to live is to see what job is next to be created which will raise his taxes and see him a little poorer than he was the year before. This bill after a hard and bitter fight was defeated in the House of Representatives on Tuesday night, May 27th, 1919, by a vote of 85 to 63. On Monday, June 2nd, 1919, the bill was passed finally by a vote of 103 to 72. The bill after its defeat was restored to the calendar by the work principally of William McCaig, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, many men changing their vote at his request and the request of others in the state organization because they were fearful of the cuts that might be made in the appropriations they had requested for their hospitals or what might be done to the men some pending legislation they sought to put through. Well, thank the Lord the Senate is not the House, and if enough Senators have been convinced that this a vicious bill and the jobs it seeks to fasten onto Allegheny County are worse than needless, it will not receive the tender mercies of his Honor, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, who declared in his inaugural address and has repeated several times that he is not for more places, but for more efficient government. I challenge the Senator from Allegheny, or any Senator favoring this bill, to show me one corporation worthy the name which divides the responsibilities of its various departments. The very nature of any business requires that the best results must be obtained by holding responsible the man who is at the head of any department or division of a corporation, private or public.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, will state his point of order.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, my point of order is that we are not arguing personalities in the Senate, we are arguing the merits of this bill.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken and the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will confine himself to the merits of the bill under discussion.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I take issue with both the Chair and the Senator from Allegheny, I am trying to argue the point in this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator desire to appeal from the ruling of the Chair?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not. I want to call your attention, in conclusion, that the opposition to this bill is not only strong but it is bitter in the county of Allegheny. Take the newspapers,—the Gazette Times, Republican, the Telegraph, Republican, the Pittsburgh Post, Democrat, the Pittsburgh Sun, Democrat, the Pittsburgh Dispatch, Independent, the Pittsburgh Leader, Independent; every single newspaper in the city of Pittsburgh is opposed to this bill. And further than that, the County Commissioners are opposed to this bill. The allied Boards of Trade, made up of over ten thousand people, represented by about fifteen or sixteen different Boards of Trade are opposed to this bill; the League of Boroughs and Townships of Allegheny County representing eight hundred thousand people outside of the city of Pittsburgh, are opposed to this bill, and the President of this Senate, the Lieutenant Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, and the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, the Hon. William C. Sproul, both know the strength of this League of Boroughs and Townships, because they were entertained there and they know that when the League of Boroughs and Townships, representing more than one half of the population of the County of Allegheny are against this bill, that it is a bad, vicious bill and it ought to be killed, first because the newspapers are against it, the people are against it, the Boards of Trade are against it, the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Pittsburgh are against it, and I challenge the Senator from Allegheny to show me one single written statement from any organization in the County of Allegheny in support of this bill. It is a companion measure to the one that was vetoed by the Governor yesterday and I ask the Senate why pass the buck to the Governor on this bill when you know that after killing the one he will kill this? I ask the Senate to defeat this bill because it is a bad bill and the people of Allegheny County do not want it.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I would like to innterrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Allegheny inform the Senate as to the assessed valuation of the property of Allegheny County?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the assessed value of the property of Allegheny County real estate and occupation is one billion three hundred and forty-nine million eighty-one thousand four hundred dollars ($1,349,081,400), personal property, three hundred and fifty-eight million seven hundred and seventy-three thousand six hundred and sixty-five dollars ($358,773,665), making a total vaulation in the County of Allegheny of one billion seven hundred and seven million eight hundred and fifty-five thousand and sixty-five ($1,707,855,065) dollars.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, will the Senator inform the Senate as to the number of adjusters appointed by the Allegheny County Commissioners to adjust differences on appeals.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, four.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, at what salary?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, at a salary of one thousand dollars per month, two hundred and fifty dollars each.

Mr. LESLIE. Will the Senator inform the Senate as to the number of adjusters the city of Philadelphia has?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am not cognizant of the number of assessors in the city of Philadelphia, except that the city of Philadelphia and county of Philadelphia has but one, both for its county and city, while the county of Allegheny has two boards, employs two hundred and thirty-eight in the county of Allegheny and the city has nine and one hundred and twenty-six clerks.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, how many subordinate assessors?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, one hundred and thirty.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, is the Senator cognizant of that?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that is the statement given to me from the office of the County Controller.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, will the Senator tell the Senate as to how much time they serve.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I beg the Senators pardon: assessors one hundred and eleven, the districts are one hundred and thirty. As to the time that those assessors serve, last year within two months of the total time served, ten months, part of that time these men were used for transcribing in order to keep them at work.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, the bill at issue as sponsored by Representative Simpson, known as House Bill No. 1374, was brought here for the purpose of having a board in numbers that would be able to do all the necessary work in the assessment of properties, not only in reality and buildings, but personal properties for all purposes of Allegheny County, and to do that work as a board and not have that work subordinated into the hands of appointees of the Commissioners, known as adjusters.

Under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania the county commissioners of Allegheny county constitutes three-fifths of the board, of the salaried board. Three-fourths of all the questions involved their own office and therefore this particular office will run along with three members of the board of revision of taxes and they have not been able to keep up with their work, and in the lower part of Allegheny county, ranging almost eight hundred square miles, covering hundreds of thousands of pieces of proeprty involved in the transactions of this office, as the Senator has told you, in the aggregate in personnal and real property one million seven hundred and eight thousand eight hundred and some odd dollars, and in the attention that is required and is necessary to look after the interests of that question alone, not taking in the proposition of the question of the other laws pertaining to the question of the personal tax and occupation tax which are required in Allegheny county, to make it possible for voters to be franchised, so they can cast their votes. Our trouble has been, and will continue to be until we get it cleared by a division of our county into different parts, to take the chairman of the board, which will allow three members of the board to be sitting in the office on appeals on all the questions arising in that office every day, and the other three members, or four members, out in the field. In 1917 in the question of personal taxes, which is obligatory on the part of the voter to present to the registration commissioners in the city of Pittsburgh alone in the twenty-seven wards there were over thirty thousand voters in the city of Pittsburgh who were not franchised on account of the omission of their names. It was not discovered. The question of the collection of taxes: when a canvas was made of the city, it ran from three to four hundred up to over two thousand and put them in position so that they can participate in the election in every portion in the city of Pittsburgh. As to the method of conveyance, carrying voters to the County Commissioners' office, the office is kept open for that purpose. In other localities we did secure the subordinate assessors and have this board get in localities and put names on the additional vote. The point involved in that transaction alone was instrumental in bringing about a conditions that we should have a sufficient number of men. We were informed about a board of revision of taxes. When he speaks of some one member of that board not attending to his duties I want to say briefly, I have never heard of it. The only thing I have ever heard, recently one of them suffered a very great loss in his family and possibly was absent some little time on that account, but I do not know of two men, particularly members of that board, that are more diligent in their duties, more prompt in their attention and spend more hours in their public office than they do, and they will tell you that it is practically impossible to manage that and live outside of that office. The only question involved is the question of appeals, for taxable property running into thousands and hundreds of thousands of dollars, and in the question of settlement or adjustment it is better than to send an adjuster out to view the property and view conditions and take the adjusters report, and they themselves sitting at the helm in this office have got the opportunity to do that work.

In fact the question of the assessors of the city of Pittsburgh has nothing to do with the proposition of personal tax, it is only with the question of real estate and buildings. The board of revision of taxes in the county, real estate, building, and personal tax, the voters and personal tax, they cover four different propositions, they do not duplicate,—two separate boards. You just passed the salary bill here last night of seven assessors in the city of Philadelphia and the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, voted for it. It increased the salary which they had been operating under for eighteen years from three thousand to four thousand dollars a year. Four times seven are twenty-eight, that represents the cost to the city of Philadelphia, in comparision to seven times five, which is thirty-five, and nine times three, is practically twenty-seven, multiplied by thirty-five, is seventy-two thousand forty assessors in Allegheny in the city of Pittsburgh. He does not tell you of the conditions in Philadelphia, the cost of making the records, duplicates and triplicates for taxables. He tells you that this is a sinecure, this is a soft job, and I appeal to the intelligence of the Senate, who know any body of men such as are known as the assessors in the smallest township in this State, in the smallest borough and the largest borough, let alone the great metropolises of our great Commonwealth,—the idea as stated here that the board of three men who have possitive jurisdiction for practical purposes over properties of one billion seven hundred and seventy million dollars, whether it can be said that there is any question of a sinecure in a position of that kind. They have to be seen every day, they have to be consulted every day, questions arise as to the adjustments of valuation of properties, the question of ownership, drawing plans, and then to make a statement here that they look upon all public offices as simply getting on the pay roll and have nothing to do, ——

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I object to the speech of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, in which he quotes me as stating that all public offices were sinecures. I made no such statement.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will have an opportunity to answer the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, in due course.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, let me call attention to the two points involved. First, they have full charge of the question of the assessed valuation of property for taxable purposes, under which the county of Allegheny survives, lives and improves itself. The other proposition is that no one can vote in the county of Allegheny unless he pays a personal obligation tax, and if he is not assessed and has not been taxed for a period of two years, he cannot be registered to vote. That has about as much importance to the question of disfranchising our voters as it does to the question of collection of money. We do not have a poll tax, we do not have such a fixed figure that we can go and pay.

I appeal to you for the better interest of the tax payers of Allegheny county, for the better interests of the voters of Allegheny county, to pass this legislation.

If we have the opportunity of securing men to look after the interest of the county and voters we will get better results, and this will be satisfactory to all our people.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, whether or not the newspapers of the city of Pittsburgh are opposed to the bill?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I am not familiar with what the newspapers think about it, I have not consulted the newspapers.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny whether or not he reads the newspapers in the city of Pittsburgh and knows the position they have taken in the matter?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I have not been in the city of Pittsburgh for the last three weeks.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, whether or not the County Commissioners are in favor of this bill?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I have heard nothing from them.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether or not the civic bodies of Allegheny County are against this bill.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I have not heard from the civic bodies.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, know that if this proposition were put up to a vote it would be defeated three to one? Has there been any demand for this bill from the public of the County of Allegheny?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, has the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Barr heard of any public demand in Allegheny County for any legislation?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, decent legislation that is not breaking the backs of the people with taxes. I would like to ask the Senator whether or not there has been any complaint against the board of tax revision of Allegheny County that they are not doing their work, or not keeping up with their work, at the present time.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I will answer it by qualification. I recited the incident when voters of 1917 were deprived of their vote and we make provision making it a misdemeanor if the same things occurs again. That is sufficient cause, if there is no other cause.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to have my question answered directly.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, desire to answer the question.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I will answer, I do not think it is pertinent to the proposition, I am not inquiring as to the defalcation of the officials, I am trying to have passed progressive and remedial legislation that looks to the future.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, whether it is cheaper to assess the men who have a right to vote, the men who make five dollars a day and whose services can be dispensed with when the work is finished, and there is no further charge against the county, or the men who are paid five thousand dollars and whose services run continuously.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, that has nothing to do with this Board of Assessors, with this Board of Revisions of Taxes.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny whether he knows of any corporation that would be similar to the Board of Tax Revisions that has more than one head to any of its departments.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I can not interpret the question.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, that is all.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, in reference to the city of Philadelphia, we have three members on the Board of Revision, and seventy assessors that go out and go from door to door and make the appraisement. In the city of Pittsburgh, they have now, as I understand it, three members of the Board of Revision, the same as we have, and one hundred and eleven men who go out from door and make the appraisement or assessment, whichever you call it. It would seem to me, instead of needing any more members of the Board of Revision, one would do just as well. Instead of having a member of the Board of Revision to sit there and pass on the work that the field men do, it would seem to me to be better legislation to raise the salary of the field men, who actually go out and do the work. I am not familiar with the method of the assessment and the appraisement in the city of Pittsburgh. The appraisers of the real estate assessors in Philadelphia are paid three thousand dollars a year. A few years ago they were only paid two thousand. Senator Leslie mistated the facts when he said they had been getting three thousand dollars per year for eighteen years. The whole situation seems to me could be better done and well done if these five dollar a day men who really do the actual work and bring the figures in to those cities and the Board of Revisions were paid better. I do not think five dollars is enough to pay intelligent men. We pay our laborers in the street that much in the city of Philadelphia. It would seem to me that men intelligent enough to go from house to house, or from field to field, and make the appraisement, that five dollars a day would not be proper compensation for them. I think they are putting the cart before the horse. However, I am not interested in it except I could not vote for a bill that increases the bosses and does not increase those who really do the work.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I do not wish to impose upon the time of the Senate, but I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, whether this bill was amended after it reached the Senate, and if so, was it amended so that it did not become operative until January 1st, 1920.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Leslie, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I will. The amendment was put in the bill on last Wednesday.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, what was the purpose of that amendment?

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, the date states the purpose, to make it become operative on this specific date.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, was it not for the purpose of keeping the present County Commissioners from making the appointment of the four additional men, and that when the next election took place this bill would be directly applicable to the election of the County Commissioners of Allegheny County, and therefore the new board could make the appointments? Is that not prime facia evidence that if they are not needed now they will not be needed after January 1st, 1920.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I will answer the question. The men are now in the field and have been in the field since the 1st of April and their work will be practically completed, so far as field work is concerned, by the 1st of August, and it was not necessary before January 1st, 1920.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 838, as follows:

An Act authorizing the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings to erect a Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Bridge with the approaches thereto and memorial pylons in the City of Harrisburg to commemorate the services of the soldiers and sailors of the Commonwealth providing for the letting of contracts therefor providing for a proportion of the cost to be paid by the City of Harrisburg and public service corporations using or affected by the building of said bridge providing for acquiring any property necessary by eminent domain giving the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings the right to sell a portion of the land to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to conform to the plans of the architect providing for the maintenance of said bridge and making an appropriation to carry out the provisions of this act

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Board Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings are hereby authorized to erect and construct as a memorial to the citizens of this Commonwealth who served in the military and naval forces of the United States in the late World War a Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Bridge with memorial pylons at the western end thereof together with the necessary approaches thereto from a point on what is now State Street in the Capitol Park in the City of Harrisburg following the line of State Street across the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad to a point at or near Thirteenth Street in said city Said bridge approaches and pylons are to be built in accordance with plans and specifications prepared by Arnold W Brunner and J E Greiner which plans and specifications have been heretofore approved by the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings and are now on file in the office of said Board Separate contracts may be made by said Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings for the approaches and for the pylons

Section 2 The said Board shall have power to let contracts for said bridge approaches and pylons after advertisement for bids once a week for four successive weeks in at least twelve newspapers published in different parts of this Commonwealth All contracts shall be let to the lowest and best bidder The Board shall have power to reject any and all bids and to readvertise for bids in the manner hereinbefore provided Before any contract is entered into the Board shall require the contractor to give a bond to the Commonwealth with sufficient surety and in such sum as the Board shall determine conditioned for the faithful performance of the terms of the contract The said contract and bond shall be approved by the Attorney General

Section 3 The Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings may employ if it deems expedient a Superintendent of Construction and fix his compensation The said superintendent shall see that the terms of the contract and specifications are carried out and shall represent the Board in any matters in connection with the actual building of said bridge approaches and pylons

Section 4 The contract or contracts shall provide for payments as the work advances Provided however That the total payments to the contractor or contractors at any time before the final completion and the acceptance of the bridge approaches or pylons shall not exceed ninety per centum (90 per cent) of the cost of the work done under any contract

Section 5 All payments on account of such contract or contracts shall be made by warrants of the Superintendent of Public Grounds and Buildings upon certificates of the Superintendent of Construction or the architect which said warrants shall be approved by the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings and be drawn upon the Auditor General to be approved and paid as other warrants are by law approved and paid

Section 6 The City of Harrisburg shall by ordinance agree to pay to the Commonwealth as hereinafter provided the sum of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) toward the cost of the construction of said bridge and its approaches The Pennsylvania Railroad Company over whose tracks said bridge will be erected and any street railway company or any public service corporation which secures from the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings the right to use the said bridge for the purpose of laying a street railway track or pipes or conduits thereon shall pay such sum as shall be determined by the said Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings with the approval of the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth

Section 7 Any sum or sums of money paid by the City of Harrisburg the Pennsylvania Railroad Company or any other corporation shall be paid into the State Treasury and marked "Fund for the construction of Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Bridge" and the amount of said fund is hereby specifically appropriated and made available without further appropriation for payment on account of the contract or contracts for the erection and construction of said bridge

Section 8 The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall have the right to take damage or destroy any property necessary for the erection and completion of said bridge and its approches In the event that the owner or owners of such property do not agree with the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings upon the value thereof or the amount of damage thereto either the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings acting through the superintendent thereof or any property owners may petition the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County for the appointment of viewers to assess the damage to the property taken injured or destroyed Upon the presentation of such petition to Court shall appoint three disinterested freeholders of the city of Harrisburg to act as viewers who shall proceed as provided by the Act of May sixteenth one thousand eight hundred ninety-one Pamphlet Laws seventy-five entitled "An Act in relation to the laying out opening widening straightening extending or vacating streets and alleys and the construction of bridges in the several municipalities of this Commonwealth the grading paving macadamizing or otherwise improving streets and alleys providing for ascertaining the damages to private property resulting therefrom the assessment of damages costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefitted and the construction of sewers and the payment of damages costs and expenses thereof including damages to private property resulting therefrom"

When the viewers have filed their report the Commonwealth or any party interested shall within thirty days thereafter have the right to file exceptions to any irregularities in the proceedings and to appeal from the amount of said award

Section 9 The Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings shall have the right to sell to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company a strip of land along the tracks of the said Pennsylvania Railroad Company of such width as the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds may determine so as to comply with the plans and specifications heretofore approved for such sum as the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings may determine Provided however That the said land shall not be sold for any sum less than the proportionate amount which the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was required to pay for said land in acquiring the same for the Capitol Park Extension Provided also That any money paid for any land sold shall be paid into the "Fund for the Construction of Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Bridge" created by the seventh section of this act In the event of such sale the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings are authorized and empowered to execute acknowledge and deliver a deed for and on behalf of the Commonwealth

Section 10 The said bridge and its approaches shall be erected upon condition that the City of Harrisburg shall keep and maintain the roadway and sidewalks thereof in good condition Provided however That if the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings grant the right to any street railway to use the same it shall be upon condition that said street railway company shall agree with the said City of Harrisburg to keep and maintain such proportion of the roadway as the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings may determine

Section 11 The City of Harrisburg at its own expense shall protect all water mains or other underground conduits now located under the present line of State street in said city of Harrisburg

Section 12 The city of Harrisburg shall have the right to provide by ordinance for preserving and protecting the said bridge and its approaches from all harm and damage and for policing the same

Section 13 The city of Harrisburg shall prior to the making of any contract for the erection of said bridge provide by ordinance that the property paralleling said bridge from the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company eastwardly for one block north of said bridge and one block south thereof shall not be hereafter put to any use which in the judgment of the State Art Commission shall damage or detract from said bridge Provided however That the present use of said property shall not be affected by this provision

Section 14 The sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act

Section 15 Sections one two three four five and fourteen of this Act of Assembly are hereby declared to be inseparable All of the other sections hereof are severable and it is the legislative intent that if any of the other sections should be declared to be unconstitutional such unconstitutional portions of such sections should not affect the other provisions of this act

MEMORIAL SERVICES ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE STERLING ROSS CATLIN, LATE SENATOR FROM TWENTY-FIRST DISTRICT.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. Clarence J. Buckman) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. This being the time fixed by the resolution for holding memorial session on the death of Honorable Sterling Ross Catlin, late Senator from the Twenty-first District, the Senate will be in order and will be opened in prayer by the Chaplain.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we are assembled here in special session because our State Senate has set apart this afternoon as a memorial tribute of respect to the Honorable Sterling Ross Catlin. For sixteen years he was an honored and highly esteemed member of this Senate. One of the most striking characteristics of the late Senator was his unfailing interest in all human legislation for the laboring man, and especially the coal miner. His charitable gifts to the poor and needy, given in the most concealed manner, revealed his broad sympathies with the unfortunates of life. He did not give to be seen. He rather avoided publicity of every sort. To him charity carried its own best reward. He gave because it was a great pleasure and satisfaction to be able to cheer and comfort his fellowman. In all legislative measures he was honest, efficient, and straight-forward. In all his deliberations he was rugged, concise and independent. He drove straight to the heart of all problems. As a man he was quiet, retiring and modest. May we, oh God, exemplify in our lives all that was true, and beautiful, and good in his life. These favors we ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

RESOLUTION ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE STERLING ROSS CATLIN, LATE SENATOR FROM THE TWENTY-FIRST DISTRICT.

Mr. McCONNELL offered the following resolution which was twice read:

Whereas, The Honorable Sterling Ross Catlin, Senator from Luzerne County, died on Sunday, March 23, 1919; and

Whereas, At the time of his death Senator Catlin was the oldest member of the Senate in point of service, serving the second session of his fourth term in this body; and

Whereas, By his death the Senate loses a man of strong, vigorous character, one who was most influential in a quiet way and who gained much for his district and for the State-at-Large in the way of meritorious legislation; and

Whereas, Senator Catlin was noted for exceptional courage, unusual decisions, and perservance in what he believed to be right,—admirable qualities in a servant of the people and found only too rarely in men elected to public office; therefore be it

Resolved, That this Senate regret the death of this man's man, Honorable Sterling Ross Catlin, who was a veteran of the Civil War, a successful farmer, a noted stock fancier, a prominent legislator and a picturesque political ace.

E. H. VARE,
FRANK E. BALDWIN,
EDWIN W. PATTON,
ASA K. DeWITT.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. McCONNELL. Mr. President, at the time of his death Senator Catlin was seventy-seven years old. He was born in Wilkes-Barre, where he lived all his life with the exception of the time he spent as a soldier in the Civil War and several years roughing it in the Wild West in search of gold.

He came from an old revolutionary stock and was one of the eighth American generation of his family. Following a course of study at the Wilkes-Barre schools, and graduating from the Polytechnic College, of Philadelphia, he crossed the plains and sought gold in Montana. He was one of the original settlers in Helena, the capitol of that State. Finally he went to California, where for a time he was in charge of one of the departments at the Mare Island Navy Yard.

Senator Catlin's public career began in 1895, when he was elected to the Wilkes-Barre City Council. He served in that body almost continually until 1904, when he was elected to the State Senate. His first session was 1905, and he was a member of this body during the following other sessions: 1906, 1907, 1909, 1911, 1913, 1915, 1917 and 1919. He was first nominated by the Republican party of Luzerne County and elected by a majority of something like fifteen thousand. At the three subsequent elections, when his respective terms expired, he was honored with the nomination of all parties.

It would take a good bit of time and a lot of research to accumulate and enumerate the legislation which Senator Catlin fathered. For instance in 1911 or 1913, (I have forgotten which), he introduced thirty-three bills and twenty-nine of them became laws.

He was not gifted with the talent of oratory, nor did he endeavor to attract attention to himself and he made no spectacular display, but he gained more in practical benefit and constructive work as a legislator than many men in the lime-light.

Those who sat with Senator Catlin in the Senate need not be told of the characteristic which stood out most conspicuously in his make-up, but those who never had the privilege of knowing Senator Catlin as a Senator, (his illness having kept him away from the Senate during the present session) I may mention that the prominent thing which stood out in him was his courage. It can well be said of Senator Catlin, as it has been said of him, that he believed something. What he declared he believed and he believed what he declared. There was never an occasion in which he was not afraid for the world to know his purpose. The day never arrived when he desired to withhold from his fellowmen his belief and convictions.

Senator Catlin was a rough oak. I am not making an exaggerated statement when I say that this Senate never had a man as unique as Sterling Ross Catlin. Beneath the roughness of his character he had all the instincts of a gentleman, a generous heart and a charitable nature. He never advertised his charity giving, in fact those who knew him best are aware that he went out of his way many times to cover up and conceal his philanthropy.

It is a usual thing to speak well of the dead. The faults of a dead man are written in the sand, to be washed away by the tears of grief that follow his departure. Senator Catlin had one fault, however, which I think ought to be mentioned, because it was a fault which he gloried in and which stood as an indelible imprint upon his character. This fault was a belief that his friends were never wrong and that his enemies were never right. Until the last he continued in the belief that those he liked were one hundred per cent right and that those he did not like were one hundred per cent wrong from top to bottom. In other words Senator Catlin never believed a friend guilty of a bad intention and he never conceded good intentions in an enemy.

We miss Senator Catlin for, as the resolution states, he was a picturesque ace, the kind of a man that you meet but once in a life time, a doer of big things in a modest, unassuming way, without advertising his achievements and taking the success that he met with, not only in this chamber but throughout life, as an inevitable happening.

Senator Catlin and the late J. P. McNichol were close friends. Senator McNichol admired the sturdiness of the Senator from Luzerne County and not once, but scores of times while in conversation with Jim McNichol, he devoted many, many minutes relating anecdotes and episodes in which Senator Catlin was the central figure. Both are no longer with us and I need hardly say that this Senate misses these two friends who were so active in the business of the State of Pennsylvania as Senators and who could not well be spared as servants of the Commonwealth.

Mr. PATTON. Mr. President, when I was elected to the Senate for the Session of 1915 and met my colleagues, I was much interested in seeing and in studying the Senator from Luzerne for various reasons, because he was a Civil War Veteran, because he was one of the oldest members of the Senate both in years and in service, because he was the chairman of the famous Catlin Committee that had visited Philadelphia and had made themselves known there. I was much pleased to find in him a man who was always with his friends and it did not make any difference whether those friends were factionally one way or the other. As I became interested in him he seemed to feel likewise toward me and we became very friendly.

I admired Senator Catlin for his blunt, out-spoken denouncing of hypocracy; he was at times even brutal in his language when confronted with that which he was convinced was hypocritical but always to the other man's face. A lover of animals, with self-made means to indulge that love, and his friends participated in his pleasure and enjoyed them with him. Trusted by his neighbors, no one could come to Harrisburg so long as he was willing to return. When other great Republican districts faltered Catlin's never did and he died as he would have wished, a member of this body.

We knew for weeks that he could not recover and when the call came we were grieved but not surprised. It will be hard to replace this old "War Horse" and his district will look long and expect much from his successor. When the summons came to him no thought of weakening was his. He lived his life and was willing to go straight to the last, believing, I am sure that he had nothing to fear in that Charity and honorable treatment of his fellow man would plead for him at the end.

Perhaps he was not orthodox but he was surely both honest and manely and a good citizen who fought for his Country in his early youth, who helped to extend its frontier as a Pioneer in his late youth and served well his fellow citizens in his old age. A real true American, God rest him.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, and members of the Senate: While I am not on this Committee, yet I feel that it would not be out of place to say a word or two on that grand old war horse of the Senate, if we may so call him. I came here in 1911, I believe one of the young men of the Senate, and being one of the young men looked around as naturally a younger man would to find out just how, when and where and how to act, it was my good fortune to be seated in the seat directly behind the Senator from Luzerne, and knowing of his large and varied experience, particularly in legislative matters, I followed in many of my footsteps the lines and suggestions made by Senator Catlin. I listened to him carefully, gave attention to his judgment and found out that all the advice that he had given me was always right. That his experience had not only been a benefit to him but would be a benefit to any young man who was willing to listen to him. His advice was taken by me, and I know it was taken by other younger men of this Senate and to their advantage. As to his personal characteristics those of us who knew him here in this Senate as well as his neighbors can aught but speak well of him. The charity and the kindness that grew from the late Senator Catlin was the charity and kindness of a man with a heart. He gave not that newspapers might in letters of gold emblazon his name throughout the confines of Pennsylvania, that people who may not have come in contact or may not have read of him before might see the name written out for his aggrandizement. He gave charity from the charity that came from a real man, it came from the heart and its rewards was the self satisfaction that Sterling Catlin received in performing kindly deeds. I know of my own knowledge that there are young men in this Commonwealth who if it had not been for Senator Catlin would have had a hard and burdensome time in this life, but through his kindliness, and their names have never been mentioned by him, and they themselves know what benefit they had derived from the Senator, have become worthy, honorable and valuable citizens of this Commonwealth and hold important positions in the citizenship of our great State, and have been an honor to the State of Pennsylvania and themselves. These things of themselves, without anything else, can do nothing but compel us to place the late Senator Catlin as one of Pennsylvania's noblemen, as one of Pennsylvania's grandest citizens, and a man whom we must feel sorrowful in losing and at the same time feel gratified and honored in the fact that we knew him and that one time he represented the greatest Commonwealth the world has ever known.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate: I am exceedingly glad to have the opportunity to say a few words in memory of the late Senator from Luzerne, Sterling R. Catlin. It was my privilege and pleasure to sit side by side with him during the last twelve years in this Senate, and the kind acts he did for me as well as all the other Senators sitting here during those years were many and useful to all of us. He was a great soldier, a good statesman and a good man. His word was always to be depended on, and as Senator Salus has well said, he had malice toward none and charity toward all, not only of the members sitting here in this chamber, but to the people on the outside. If he had lived in the section of Philadelphia where I live he would be well named and properly named "a rough diamond." His heart went out to every one in need of help. His money was everybody's money and he was always ready with a helping hand to help those of us who needed his help. In conclusion I want to say when that old gentleman died and left this seat vacant on my right, the Senate lost a good man and we were of course sorry when he passed away.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

ARTICLE XVII.

FINANCE

Section 1 On or before the fifteenth day of October of each year the mayor shall furnish to the council in such form and detail as the council shall have determined a statement of the estimated receipts other than from taxation including money proposed to be borrowed and liabilities of every kind for the ensuing calendar year and the estimated expenditures for such year of all departments officers boards commissions trusts committees or other agencies whose financial requirements are to be met out of the proceeds of taxes levied by the council or out of any other funds over which the council has control designating which of such liabilities and expenditures should be met from current receipts and which should be met from loan funds The estimates of receipts and liabilities shall be furnished to the mayor by the city controller he shall also furnish to the mayor a statement of the borrowing capacity of the city Such statements shall be made up by the city controller from the best available data and the receipts from sources other than taxation and loans shall be estimated at the average of such receipts for the preceding three years with due allowance for new sources of receipts not existing during all or part of said period of three years for sources of receipts existing during all or part of said period which will not be available for the ensuing year for changes in rates and for other factors not previously existing The estimates to be furnished by the city controller to the mayor and by him transmitted to the council shall also contain a statement of the average proportion of taxes uncollected at the end of each of the three preceding years The estimated statement of expenditures shall be made up by the mayor from information supplied him by such departments officers boards commissions trusts committees and other agencies subject to revision by the mayor in his discretion.

Section 2 Immediately after the receipt of such statement the council shall consider the same in open session affording a reasonable opportunity to officers and citizens to be heard thereon and the council shall in one ordinance on or before the fifteenth day of December following adopt a financial program for the ensuing year showing the estimated receipts from all sources the liabilities of every kind and the amount and character of expenditures to be made by such departments officers boards commissions trusts committees and other agencies during the ensuing year In passing said ordinance the council shall be bound to accept the estimates of receipts and liabilities furnished to the mayor by the city controller but shall have full discretion to determine the character and amount of expenditures to be made out of the estimated receipts of the city during the ensuing year

Section 3 On or before the same date the council shall levy and fix a tax rate for the ensuing year which together with the estimated receipts from all other sources except borrowed money shall yield sufficient receipts to meet the liabilities of the city of every kind (except liabilities to be paid out of loan funds) for the ensuing year and the current expenditures not including expenditures from loan funds as fixed and determined by the council in said ordinance The receipts from taxation shall be estimated by deducting from the gross amount which would be yielded at the rate fixed the average proporition of the amount uncollected at the end of each year during the preceding three years If the council shall fail to fix a tax rate on or before the fifteenth day of December of any year the rate for the current year shall be the rate for the ensuing year as if that rate had been fixed by the council in accordance with this act and the amount of expenditures other than from loan funds shall be fixed and determined by the council so as to come within the estimated receipts from sources other than loans

Section 4 The council may from time to time make appropriations out of such estimated receipts of the city for the ensuing year to meet the requirements of such departments officers boards commissions trusts committees and other agencies as determined by the council but from the reecipts of the city from taxation and sources other than loan funds estimated as provided in this article the council shall appropriate before the beginning of the ensuing year a sufficient amount for the extinguishment of the floating indebtedness (other than that accruing within one year from condemnation of real property) which the city controller may estimate to the oustanding upon the first of January following for the payment of all lawful obligations due by the city during the fiscal year commencing January first and for such expenditures to be met from such receipts as may be authorized by the council and the city controller shall not countersign any warrants (except for payment of interest and for sinking fund) pertaining to any of the appropriations until the said council shall have first have passed all appropriations necessary for the expenses for the current year of each department officer board commission trust committee or other agency whose financial requirements are to be met out of the proceeds of taxes levied by the council or out of any other funds over which the council has control nor shall said officer countersign any warrants except as aforesaid until the total of all appropriations and all lawful obligations (other than as aforesaid) as estimated by the city controller shall have been brought within the sum of the estimated receipts from taxes and from other sources except loan funds No contract shall be binding upon the city unless an appropriation therefor has previously been made (except as otherwise provided in this act) and no warrant shall be drawn issued or approved by any officer of said city for any expenditure by such department officer board commission trust committee or other agency unless an appropriation has previously been made in accordance with the provisions of this act and no warrant shall be drawn against any item in said appropriation in excess of said item and any contract made or warrant issued in violation of this article shall be absolutely void Any appropriation in violation of this article or in excess of the estimated receipts as set forth in said ordinance and any contract based thereon shall be void Provided howeved that the council shall have the power to appropriate money received in excess of said estimate upon the certificate of the city controller that there have been such excess receipts And Provided further that surplus receipts if any carried over from one year into the next may be appropriated during the next said year in addition to the appropriation of the said estimated receipts for that year Said appropriations if within the limits aforesaid shall be valid and contracts may be lawfully based thereon although the money estimated to be received during the said year shall not actually have been received or be in the treasury at the time of said appropriation or contract and Provided further that the council may by ordinance make transfers from one item of appropriation to another

Section 5 Where cash shall be needed for the immediate requirements of the city in any year in advance of the receipt of income the mayor the city controller and the city solicitor or any two of them shall have power to negotiate on behalf of the city temporary loans upon notes for periods not to extend beyond such year and in aggregate amount not to exceed ten per centum of the estimated receipts for such current year other than loan funds but at the time of issuing said loans provision must be made to repay the same out of the income of the same year in which they are negotiated the intention of this section being that the negotiation of said loans shall be solely for the purpose of anticipating receipt of income Provided however that if through emergency it shall become necessary for the council to obtain additional appropriating power it shall be lawful for the council to authorize the creation of one or more emergency loans not exceeding in the aggregate two million ($2,000,000) dollars at any one time which unless paid within the year in which they were created shall be included by the city controller in his estimate of liabilities which must be met out of the receipts of the ensuing year before ordinary appropriations may be made therefrom

Section 6 It shall be lawful from time to time to advance any money in the general fund to any loan fund or to use any money in the general fund for any purpose for which a loan shall have been authorized and the corporate authorities shall not be required to issue any bonds authorized to be issued until it is necessary to repay to the general fund such advances or to replenish such loan fund or funds It shall also be lawful from time to time to make temporary advances in anticipation of the collection of revenue from any loan fund to the general fund

Section 7 In the event that contracts are made as provided by this act to extend over a period longer than one year and which are to be met from current receipts of the city it shall be lawful for the council to make an appropriation only sufficient to answer the requirements of such contract for one year and the contract shall be legal and binding upon the city notwithstanding no appropriation has been made for the ensuing years over which the contract is to be operative But it shall be the duty of the council to make subsequent appropriations from year to year as required for the purposes of such contracts The obligation of the city under such contracts shall not be considered to be a part of the indebtedness of the city

Section 8 It shall be lawful for such city to borrow money or incur debt in accordance with the terms of existing law for the purpose of acquiring property erecting buildings bridges or other structures (but not for the repair of the same) paving streets (but not repaving or repairing the same) or for any other permanent improvements or capital outlay of any kind provided that all of such proposed expenditures are certified to the council by the city controller to be capital expenditures as distinguished from current expenses prior to the authorization of such debt The certificate of the city controller shall be final and conclusive as to the character of the proposed expenditures It shall be unlawful for the city to borrow money or incur debt for any purposes other than above specified except in the case of loans for periods not to exceed one year as provided in this act Provided however that if during the preceding year current funds have been used for purposes for which it would have been lawful to borrow money as herein provided and the city controller shall so certify the current funds may be reimbursed out of loan funds borrowed for that purpose

Section 9 Contracts to be paid out of loan moneys may be based upon an appropriation out of loans authorized although the same may be unissued and it shall not be necessary to issue the loans or to raise the cash necessary to comply with the requirements of said contracts until the same is needed in due course

Section 10 No liability shall be enforceable against the city by any action at law in equity or otherwise upon any contract not supported by a previous appropriation of council or to enforce payment for any materials or supplies furnished to the city or to any department officer board commission trust committee or other agency whose financial requirements are to be met out of the proceeds of taxes levied by the council or out of any other funds over which the council has control unless the council shall have made a previous appropriation therefor and no payment may be enforced by any such action for services rendered to the city or to any such department officer board commission trust committee or other agency unless there shall have been a previous appropriation by the council to pay for such services Provided however that the council may by ordinance authorize payment for material furnished or services rendered without a previous appropriation if the same is agreed to by a two-thirds vote of all the members elected thereto and is approved by the mayor Ordinances making appropriations for such payments shall relate to no other subject and shall set forth in separate items the names of each beneficiary to whom such appropriation is made and the amount he is to receive

ARTICLE XVIII

Indebtedness

Section 1 Subject to such limitations as are now or may hereafter be established by the constitution of this Commonwealth any city of the first class may from time to time incur new debt or increase its indebtedness in such amount and in such manner as the council shall by ordinance have authorized but it shall require the affirmative votes of two-thirds of all of the members of the council for the passage of any ordinance authorizing new debt to be incurred or an increase of indebtedness

Section 2 In any ordinance authorizing the city to incur new debt or increase its indebtedness except for temporary loans the council shall provide for the collection of a tax to pay the interest thereon and the principal thereof as is now or may hereafter be required by the constitution and any such ordinance shall state the purpose or purposes for which the new debt or increase of indebtedness is authorized

Section 3 Within such limitation in amount as is now or may hereafter be established by the constitution the council may authorize new debt to be incurred or an increase of indebtedness without the consent of the electors of the city at a public election but the council may in its discretion submit to the electors for their consent at a public election the proposal contained in any ordinance authorizing new debt to be incurred or an increase of indebtedness and any such new debt or increase of indebtedness to which the electors shall have given their consent shall be excluded in computing the amount of the indebtedness of the city incurred without the consent of the electors thereof

Any ordinance authorizing new debt to be incurred or an increase or indebtedness except for temporary loans without the consent of the electors shall prior to its final passage be published daily for two weeks in two newspapers having a bona fide circulation in such city of at least thirty thousand copies per issue

Section 4 Whenever the council shall by ordinance authorize new debt to be incurred or an increase of indebtedness in an amount requiring the consent of the electors at a public election and whenever the council shall in its discretion desire to procure the consent of the electors to a new debt or an increase of indebtedness the ordinance authorizing such new debt to be incurred or such increase of indebtedness shall fix the date for holding such public election and shall provide that the authority to incur such new debt or to increase indebtedness as therein contained shall not be effective unless the electors shall give their consent thereto at such public election

Section 5 After the passage of any such ordinance the council shall give notice of the election to be held for the purpose of obtaining the consent of the electors by advertisement once a week for four weeks in each of three newspapers having a bona fide circulation in such city of at least thirty thousand copies per issue The said notice or advertisement shall contain a copy of the ordinance authorizing the new debt to be incurred or the increase of indebtedness for which the consent of the electors is sought and shall also set forth a certificate of the city controller showing

(a) The aggregate amount of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property within the city

(b) The amount of the existing indebtedness

(c) The amount of the deductions therefrom allowed by law

(d) The amount of the existing indebtedness less the deductions therefrom allowed by law and the percentage of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property which such amount represents

(e) The amount of the proposed new debt or increase of indebtedness and the percentage of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property which such amount represents

(f) The amount of the existing indebtedness plus the proposed new debt or increase of indebtedness less the deductions therefrom allowed by law and the percentage of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property which such amount represents and

(g) The amount of indebtedness less the deductions therefrom allowed by law which the city may lawfully have outstanding and the percentage of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property which such amount represents

Section 6 The council shall in all cases fix the time of holding the public election to obtain the consent of the electors to incur new debt or increase indebtedness on the day of a municipal or general election unless more than ninety days shall intervene between the date of the ordinance providing for such election and the day of holding the next succeeding municipal or general election If any other day be fixed for holding such election the cost of holding the same shall be paid by the city

Such election shall be held at the places during the hours and under the regulations provided by law for holding municipal elections and shall be conducted by the election officers provided by law to conduct municipal elections in such city unless the said election be held on the day of a general election in which case the laws governing general elections shall apply The question whether new debt shall be incurred or indebtedness increased as authorized in the ordinance shall be printed upon the ballot in brief form followed by the words "yes" and "no" with appropriate voting squares and if such question shall be submitted at an election of public officers it shall be printed below the groups of candidates The election officers shall count the votes cast at such election and shall make a return thereof to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county containing such city duly certified as required by law When such count shall have been completed a certificate of the total number of electors voting "yes" and of the total number of electors "no" on such question shall be made by the court and filed in the office of the prothonotary and a copy thereof under the seal of the said court shall be furnished by the prothonotary to the council and the same shall be entered upon its journal

In conducting such election and counting and making return of the vote cast the officers of such election and the court shall be governed by the laws regulating such election and all the penalties of the said election laws for the violation thereof shall apply to the electors and election officers participating in such election

If by the returns of such election it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting thereon gave their consent to incurring new debt or increasing indebtedness as authorized in the ordinance such ordinance shall as of the date of the court's certificate of the result thereof be effective to authorize such new debt to be incurred or such increase of indebtedness but if it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting thereon did not give their consent to incurring such new debt or increasing indebtedness as authorized in the ordinance such ordinance shall be ineffective to authorize such new debt to be incurred or such increase of indebtedness Provided That should the constitution of this Commonwealth require the consent of more than a majority of the electors voting thereon to enable the city to incur such new debt or increase its indebtedness such ordinance shall be effective to authorize such new debt or such increase of indebtedness only if the required number of electors shall have given their consent thereto

Section 7 The council may by ordinance without the consent of the electors authorize temporary loans of money in anticipation of the issuance of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness previously authorized but all temporary loans shall be payable within one year

Section 8 Whenever any debt shall be or shall have been created for which the constitution of this Commonwealth requires a sinking fund to be established the proceeds of the taxes levied for the payment of the principal and interest of such debt and all other money pledged or appropriated for the payment of the principal and interest of such debt shall be paid into the sinking fund of such city and shall be inviolably reserved for and applied exclusively to the payment of the principal and interest of such debt

Whenever there shall be money in the sinking fund in respect of a particular debt in excess of the requirements for the payment during the twelve months next ensuing of principal maturing and interest due such excess money shall be applied to the purchase and cancelation of such debt but if at any time it shall be impracticable or financially disadvantageous to purchase such debt such excess money may be invested temporarily in bonds or other evidences of debt of the United States of America of this Commonwealth or of any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district of this Commonwealth

Section 9 The council may at any time authorize the purchase by the city of any of its outstanding debt and any such debt so purchased shall be canceled

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the same?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate: Some four months ago when this Charter Bill was presented here to this Senate and referred to the Committee on Municipal Affairs, which I have the privilege of being the chairman, we held two public meetings and got all the information on the subject possible and without any attempt on my part to hold the bill up for personal reasons or financial reasons of my own, having a part of my business in the provisions of this bill. I let this bill be reported out without any opposition from me. It is unusual for me to take such a position, I do not think since I have been a member of the Senate before that I ever let a bill out of that committee without a contest, any bill that I did not agree on, I certainly did not agree on that bill, made up as it was by a lot of inexperienced people who knew nothing about getting up a bill, who brought the bill here and it was properly styled an entangled mess. I will read you a statement that I issued in the Philadelphia Record of Monday, I think it will probably explain the matter better than I can explain it here. This article is in reference to the newspapers which stated that I had held the bill up several days last week purposely so that the bill could not be passed, when as a matter of fact,—as the Secretary of the Senate knows,—the bill after the Governor was good enough to take the matter in hand and with his long business experience have the bill corrected in some form. The statement issued follows. There was no foundation in fact for the printed statement in the newspapers that this bill was held up in the Senate last week. It was held up by the Secretary of the Senate, W. Harry Baker, when he found there were certain necessary corrections to be made before it could be finally passed and sent to the Governor. Every line of that is true, Mr. President, and Gentlemen. The corrections have been made since. They met with the approval of the Governor, with his splendid training in this respect he was able to detect the objectional provisions in the original bill and the taxpayers of Philadelphia are under lasting obligations. The Governor with his keen sense of propriety separated the recreation centers and playgrounds from the department that controls our Philadelphia Almshouses. The bill, however, is still in the same department with the House of Correction there in Philadelphia. I say that not for the purpose of condemning the bill, but because I have heard so much Charter Bill and everybody else is so sick and tired of it that I think we are all going to vote for it, at least I am, and I want to know notwithstanding all the Governor's good work and hard work this bill has provisions in it that ought not to be left there, showing you how little they knew about a bill. As I read on if this is not true I want Senator Woodward to correct me, (he preserves for the people the right to choose their own receiver of taxes, instead of this officer being appointed by the City Treasurer, as originally provided for in the bill.) That means the Governor forced these people to strike out that clase which would put a receiver of taxes as a clerk under the City Treasurer, when as a matter of fact our city receiver of taxes collects fifty-five million a year with the two hundred and fifty-five or two hundred and fifty-six employes under him. (He at once saw that the revisionists had increased their original number of councilmen from twenty-one to twenty-seven for purely factional advantage, notwithstanding the fact that this increase would cost the city thirty thousand dollars each year for many years to come. He reduced the number to twenty-one). After they figured around a little they thought they could put a few more in certain sections and they would get what they considered an advantage in factional gain. I will read some figures before I sit down, and show you just exactly how much gain they would get.

Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, I make that explanation and read that statement so the Senators can see by bringing out all of the facts in connection with the bill, and second when it was a delicate proposition for me to hold the bill in my committee and I let it come out and go over and be thrashed out in the House with the advise of the Governor, which was finally done. I would just like for the benefit of my friends in the Senate, to read a statement of the official count taken at the last election so that you can form your opinion on what newspapers say, this bill is going to do with the regular Republican party of Philadelphia, then I will leave you men judge for yourselves how far they are going to get with the regular orginization down there. This bill provides that in the future we will elect councilmen from the senatorial districts. I am going to read you now the official count of the vote between Alexander Simpson, Jr., and John W. Kephart for the place on the Supreme Court bench, where they had a hot contest at the very last election. The first senatorial district, which is in the district that I have the honor to try and represent, Mr. President, Mr. Simpson had thirteen thousand five hundred and eighty-eight (13,588) votes, Mr. Kephart had thirty-eight hundred and eight (3,808); the Second district Mr. Simpson had ten thousand two hundred and thirty-two (10,232) votes and Mr. Kephart had forty-five hundred and ninety-four (4,594) votes. The Third district Mr. Simpson had seventy-nine hundred and eighty-two (7,982) and Mr. Kephart, sixty-five hundred and two (6,502). In the Fourth district Mr. Simpson had fifteen thousand seven hundred and twenty-seven (15,727) and Mr. Kephart, fifty-nine hundred and seventy-one (5,971). In the Fifth district, Mr. Simpson had ten thousand six hundred and forty-one (10,641) and Mr. Kephart nineteen hundred and seven (1,907). In the Sixth district Mr. Simpson had seventy-eight hundred and ninety-six (7,896) and Mr. Kephart forty-seven hundred and sixty-eight (4,768). In the seventh district Mr. Simpson had ten thousand four hundred and fifty-two (10,452) and Mr. Kephart, forty-two hundred and ninety-five (4,295). In the eighth district Mr. Simpson had eleven thousand five hundred and thirty-four (11,534) and Mr. Kephart fifty-three hundred and seven (5,307). The vote for Mr. Simpson in the city was ninety-six thousand two hundred and ten (96,210) and for Mr. Kephart thirty-six thousand one hundred and eighty-one (36,181). Notwithstanding the fact that some of the ward leaders and active party men down in Philadelphia worked for Mr. Kephart and the fact that Mr. Simpson was appointed by Governor Brumbaugh. I read that for the benefit of the Senators sitting here in this room and others who have no way of knowing what the conditions are in Philadelphia insofar as the regular Republican party is concerned except what they read in the newspapers. This is the official vote of the last contest that took place there in the city and it would not have made any difference if every thing had been left in that bill that was in that mess when they brought it here, the result of the next election would have been along those lines because you cannot get any closer to a condition than when a contest is hotly and properly fought out as this one was.

Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, I have no purpose in making this statement, except, as I have said before, for the information of the Senate. When you read the newspaper you would suppose that this bill, or what is left of it, was going to destroy the Republican party down there. Instead of destroying the Republican party it reacts in favor of the Republican party, as all of those foolish things usually do for this reason, that whenever a voter is hampered to vote the regular Republican party workers, who are experienced in election matters and who are active three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, are better able to jump any hurdles put in my fanatics than any other inexperienced set of men which happens to be on the other side of the regular Republican party in Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I do not know that there is anything else I can add at this time except to say I do not think everything has been taken out of this bill that could have been taken out, but I think the time that the Governor had it he did splendid work for our citizens by wiping out a whole lot of useless and expensive provisions in the bill, and that being the case the people of Philadelphia appreciates everything that is being done in the matter, and rather than get a foolish bill with no good provisions in it we had better take a bill with the provisions that have been changed and fixed up to the bill for the purpose by the Governor. If there is any part of that statement that is not true I would like Senator Woodward to correct me. I am going to vote for this bill.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have nothing to say; the hour has come to settle this question. I am delighted that all parties concerned are so well pleased. It is a case of voting first, in my opinion, and arguing afterwards, and as we are all so well agreed I would like it to come to a vote and say nothing more.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the same?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—41.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 1500.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, it becomes my duty at this time to ask this Senate to discharge a committee from further consideration of a bill. If it is in order I make my statement before the motion.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator make his motion in order that there may be something before the Senate for consideration.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move that the Committee on Law and Order be suspended from the further consideration of Senate Bill No. 1500. It has only been in committee one day; therefore I move that Rule No. 42 be suspended in order that this motion may be made.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, this is the King's business and the King's business requires haste--

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his point of order.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, my point of order is to this effect, that the rules cannot be suspended insofar as any particular bill is concerned. You might suspend the rule applying to any bill that might be presented after the time that this motion is made, if this motion is made at this time to suspend the rule in reference to a bill that had been in that committee it is retractive and there can be no suspension of rules in reference to any particular bill that has been in a committee before the time of the suspension of the rules.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to state for the information of the Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, that the rules provide that before a motion can be made to discharge a committee from further consideration of a bill the bill must be under consideration by the committee for at least five days and the only way in which the matter can be considered would be to suspend the rule first before the motion could be made to discharge the committee from further consideration. The Chair therefore, declares the point of order of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus well taken.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, under Rule 29 can we not by a two-thirds vote suspend the rule?

The PRESIDENT. If the motion of the Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, is to suspend the rule instead of discharging the committee from further consideration, that motion can be made and a two-thirds vote of the Senators voting will be required in order to suspend the rule.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move to suspend Rule 42.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, you all know that the Constitution of the United States has been amended. That amendment in Section 2 provides that "The Congress and the several States shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation." And therefor I move that it is the solemn duty of this Senate and the duty of the House to pass at this session of the Legislature a bill to enforce the provisions of this amendment.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his point of order.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, my point of order is this: In the first place, I am of the opinion that the motion to suspend Rules is not debatable and if debatable the particular reason to consider a particular bill whichever bill the Senator may have in mind, is not debatable, it is just a question of suspending the rule as he cannot debate on a particular bill that he may have in his mind.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to state to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, that the question to suspend the rules is debatable but the question can only be debated in so far as the reason for the discharge of the committee may be essential. Therefore the merits of the bill cannot be discussed on a motion to suspended the rule.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, it is my object to state why it should be suspended. Unless this committee is discharged and the bill is put before the Senate to-night it will be too late for this session of the Legislature and the Legislature will not, under ordinary conditions, meet again for two years, and next January this Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution will be in full force, and, therefore, there should be laws upon the statue books of the State of Pennsylvania to assist the Government in enforcing it. We have all before the bar of the Senate taken this oath, that we would support and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania. We should support all of the Constitution, the new amendment as well as the old Constitution, and I hold that it is the solemn duty of this Legislature, now, before we adjourn, to pass this bill which I hold in my hand, which is called the Enforcement Bill. The State is waiting for us. Let me read to you what took place in Pittsburgh the other day, to show you that those who are teaching the young, those who are teaching the moral development look for us to do this thing.

This clipping was taken out of the paper last Sunday: At a meeting of the Catholic Total Abstainers Union of the Pittsburgh Diocese Bishop Regis Canevin was the principal speaker and he urged "the delegates to be more zealous in the cause of total abstinence and to enlarge the scope of their work. The resolution points the necessity for this in these words: While always favoring legislation for the repression of intemperance, the Catholic Total Abstinence Union has never allowed politics to be discussed at its meetings or prohibition to be mentioned; now, however, that prohibition has been made the law of the land, it bespeaks for it that respect, obedience and just enforcement due to enactments of Congress and Legislature." Those people are waiting for the Legislature to help them in enforcing Prohibition, they are teaching it to their young, they are teaching it to the people in their society to obey the law and respect the Constitution and if this Legislature does not pass this legislation how can we do this? Another reason why it should be passed, this Legislature, if it adjourns without passing this legislation will be called back to do the duty which it neglects at this time. I have just been informed that Ohio is convening their Legislature in extraordinary session to pass a similar act. If it is necessary in one State is it not necessary in another?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salue, will state his point of order.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I say that the Senator now is going into the merits of the legislation and is not arguing on the question as directed by the Chair. I do not believe the merits of this legislation in this or any other State is a matter of consideration at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to state that the point of order of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, would be well taken if the Senator from Blair, Mr. Snyder, would not be adhering to the reason for the suspension of the rules. The Chair does not feel that the Senator from Blair at this time has transgressed and therefor the Chair decides the point of order is not well taken.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, it is our bounded duty to save the State the vast expense that would be entailed by calling the extraordinary session, and I believe, sincerely believe that after next January and the conditions in this country become what they may be from the confusion that may arise because there is no enforcement act in Pennsylvania, it may compel the Governor to call us back here and that would be an extraordinary expense and we could save that by acting promptly and discharging the committee from consideration of this bill. There are only seven members on that committee who decided this thing, and shall seven men say that--

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his point of order.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, whatever happened in the committee is not germaine to this argument and has nothing to do with the question now before Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair decided the point of order well taken.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. President, I then return to the fact that we have sworn to support and defend the Constitution of the United States and it is our bounded duty to do that and I cannot see any other way to do that than by acting promptly in this matter. I do not think it is out of order for me to say that the force which helped to bring about this amendment of the Constitution of the United States will be more active than ever if we deny them this act, which is required, and which they request, and therefor, as I am not permitted to go further in the debate, I ask the members of this Senate to vote to suspend the rule, in order that the bill may come properly before the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Snyder and Mr. Barr, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—9.

Barr,	Miller, J. S.,	Nason,	Turner.
Gray,	Miller, S. J.,	Snyder,	Weaver,
Jones,

NAYS—30.

Baldwin, F. E.,	Eyre,	McConnell,	Sassaman,

Crow,	Heaton,	Patton,	Tompkins,
Daix,	Herron,	Phipps,	Vare,
DeWitt,	Homsher,	Salus,	Whitten,
Einstein,	Marlow,

So the question was determined in the negative.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 461 (House Bill No. 619), bill on third reading postponed for the present, entitled:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, June 17, 1919.

The House met at 10:30 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Robert S. Spangler) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldmann, offered the following prayer:

O Thou creator of all things visible and invisible, continue Thy wonder-working power, we beseech Thee, and grant unto us the mind that shall be impressed with things divine, as well as things human; and may we, by Thy grace and power, be able to interpret and understand the wonder-working in the world around us. To this end we ask that Thou wilt bless the picture that is above the Speaker's desk, that it may not only be a mural adornment, but that it may also be a moral inspiration; that the lessons that are there taught, from the time of the pioneers in the pathless forest down to the latest day, may inspire one and all to things nobler and better than we have ever achieved before. Grant, we beseech Thee, that the soldier who sacrifices, the miner who toils, the farmer who tills, the friend of the orphan, he who sought through emancipation to uplift, the jurist, one and all, who wrought, may inspire everyone to strive to do his part as best he knows how, for the country and for the State, especially that they may all inspire us to find some nook or cranny in the great story of this Commonwealth, that we may add to the sum of the goodness that has been done, and leave a picture worthy of study and emulation when once our days are passed. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.
The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on motion of Mr. RICHARD CURRY, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that to-day's calendar is not up from the printers as yet. If there is no objection, the Chair will take up bills on third reading on page 12 of yesterday's calendar.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 250, file folio 5365, on page 11 of yesterday's calendar of bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,
The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. JAMES A. WALKER,
The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 250, entitled

An Act concerning landlords and tenants and to afford relief to tenants in cases where excessive rents are charged or are intended to be charged and regulating the proceedings thereunder.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This bill has been bombarded by the real estate brokers in Philadelphia. According to their letters you would be forced to believe that there is no need for a bill of this character, and I am going to ask you to be lenient with me while I attempt to justify the bill. The bill arises because of the conditon in which the war placed tenant properties in our great cities and in some of our smaller cities. For example, take the city from which I have the pleasure to come, Philadelphia: We find there that as the result of our entrance into the war and the manufacture of munitions, a great number of people came into the city, and because of the high prices we were unable to build properties to house these people. Now, the normal increase in Philadelphia is 30,000 people per year.

but the increase, as the result of war conditions was much greater, and, as I say, because of the high prices for construction, houses were not very often built and those that were, were not adequate to house all the people. Thereupon there became a great demand for property and the supply was not sufficient to meet the demands. Following that, in order that a man might make as much money out of his property as possible, he put it into the hands of brokers, and these brokers raised the rents; and the prices to which the rents were raised were out of all reason. Now, this bill attempts to correct an evil. The most stable thing we have in the State is real estate, and it is one of the most important things because on it the homes of our people are built and if our people are driven from their homes by profiteering methods, then it is our duty, as representatives of our people, to oppose that system, and for that reason we think the bill has merit. What does the bill provide? The bill provides that where an owner raises the rent of a tenant exorbitantly, in a class with the profiteer, in that case the tenant may complain that the rent is exorbitant and that the purpose of the notice to raise the rent is to gain what is properly called "a profiteer's profit;" and thereupon he may go into the courts and appeal to the court as a chancellor, for we have taken it away from the jury; we have put it into the hands of the court as a chancellor in order that his conscience might be appealed to; and if the court finds that the rent is exorbitant he shall thereupon decide what a reasonable and proper return to the owner of that property is. I take it as we go over this State by the large we do not find many profiteers among the owners of real estate, and, gentlemen of the House, I do say to you this, that whereas, the owner at times does not know what is going on, his agent knows. Now, the Board of Real Estate Brokers in our city of Philadelphia say "We are not profiteers." Men, it has come down to us for two thousand years that "by their fruits ye shall know them," and if they take a property which ordinarily rented for twenty dollars a month and raise it to twenty-five dollars, thirty dollars, thirty-five dollars and forty dollars,— and, gentlemen of the House, there is one man in this House who tells me that at the time of the breaking out of the war, rather, the time that the United States entered the war, he was paying forty-five dollars a month for his apartment, and only a little while ago he received a notice that his rent was eighty dollars. Gentlemen, there has been no tax increase in the City of Philadelphia since the war broke out. How, then, can that owner justify himself in raising the rentals to that height? It is pure profiteering and to correct that we have offered this bill.

Now, the council of the City of Philadelphia had this matter called to their attention, and they discovered that there was profiteering in that city, and they passed a resolution and they say in this resolution, this: "Some landlords then took advantage of the unusual conditions and scarcity of dwelling houses and demanded exorbitant increases of rents from their tenants. Conditions were so bad that something had to be done which might bring relief to oppressed tenants."

Gentlemen, I received from one of these brokers a letter that goes to show the real meat in the cocoanut. He says to me this: "Until rents are higher than they are at the present, there will be no new houses built for the working man, because they cannot be produced. They are becoming scarcer and scarcer on account of the large demand for them, and rents will gradually increase on account of the scarcity."

The person that suffers under this condition is not the man of means; it is not the storekeeper; but I want to say to you it is the man who works at his trade. I was surprised, as well as pleased, to find that the Federation of Labor in this State had sent a letter to all of the members in this House endorsing this bill, because labor suffers; for labor does not, as a rule, own its own homes; and I am going to show you where the man that is saving his money suffers. Under the present system we have an effort being made that is called the "Own your own home movement." The tenant is asked to buy his home. The tenant is a laboring man or he works at his trade, and he has not been saving money. Where, then, can he get his home? Usually he goes to the building and loan association, and the building and loan association takes care of the second mortgage, and he borrows money—perhaps has a little in a savings fund—and he buys that home. At what price? At a fair price? No; at a price that is forced upon him as the result of the scarcity of other houses, and he pays a greater price. Now then, what is the natural result of it? It has been the history of this country, ever since it has been a country, that following every war comes a slump. When this slump comes, the man who has bought his property out of the building and loan association suffers under the slump, and if he cannot pay his mortgage interest, his house is taken from him under foreclosure proceedings, and the building and loan association has it on its hands. It will be compelled, in the ordinary course of things to sell it at a loss, and then the stockholders of the building and loan association suffer. So it does not stop with the profiteering landlord or the tenant who suffers because of that profiteering, but it goes back to those who own stock in the building and loan association, and unless we prepare to meet that condition we will all suffer when the slump actually takes place.

Another way, another example of the suffering to which our people are put comes to me in a letter written by the mother of a boy who has been sent abroad and has fought for his country in France. She says: "I noticed by our newspapers you were endeavoring to pass a law against the real estate profiteers,—the first good move by anyone, so far, against these vicious pirates who are protected by the political gang and our so-called 'Department of Justice' in Philadelphia. If my testimony will help your cause, I am willing to go to Harrisburg or appear before any committee. I am not a person of means, but would be glad to help against these outrages particularly waged against women living alone. I fought for six months to hold a home for my wounded boy who is still in France, even offering to buy my home, but was not permitted to do so, although the property was unsold the day I was made homeless. It will give me pleasure to make known the insults I received"—then she names a certain real estate broker in Philadelphia—"And how I was hounded by"—naming another. The letter is signed by Mrs. Lillian S. Clayton.

Yesterday I received from some of my constituency a petition stating the awful conditions that exist in our own district, and this petition is signed by one hundred forty-two of the poor but mighty good citizens.

Because of conditons there,—and I also have a letter from some people in Pittsburgh telling me that in parts of that city the same conditions exist,—I feel that by a bill of this nature we are attempting to correct an evil, an evil which permits profiteers to take advantage of our people. We all know what the Government has done with the profiteers relative to sugar, flour and coal, and although the Department of Justice in the Federal Courts in Philadelphia has done its best to relieve these conditions, it can only relieve those whose husbands and boys are in the Federal service. It cannot go further than that, and this act attempts to relieve those who suffer from the profiteers. We talk about our liberality, and the way we won the war, and all of that, but I want to say to you that unless we make our homes safe to live in, and prevent those who would take it away from us by way of the prices for which they rent that property, we are failing in our duty, and for that reason I ask your support on this bill. I want to say to you that under the construction of this act there need be no fear on the part of any honest property owner. This act is fair, both to the landlord and the tenant. Take the ordinary method by which rents are computed. It is not done in any haphazard manner. You take the value of the property and all the expenses connected with it, such as the mortgage, interest, taxes, water rent, insurance premiums, and the cost of repairs, and after adding those figures you may add ten or twelve per cent., and that is a normal profit; but when a man makes thirty or forty or fifty per cent., it seems to me that we must legislate so that a man cannot make such profit as this. They say that this man has no right to be considered in the body politic of this State, and that a man can do with his property as he sees fit. We know that he cannot. I cannot do with the house I live in what I want, neither, if I have a piece of vacant property can I build upon it any kind of a house that I want. Under the regulations of the Building Department I cannot build a wall thinner than the law requires. If there is a house next door to mine: I must build a party wall of a certain thickness and must go over the roof a certain number of inches. Neither can I build a wooden or a frame house. It must be brick. Neither can I go into a business of a certain kind in a residential district. I cannot start a bone boiling business or a soap factory in a residential district. I cannot even do with my personal property as I want to. Under the Dithrich bill, a man cannot run any kind of an automobile over the State highways. If I own a revolver, I cannot carry it loaded in my pocket without breaking the law. Under another bill. I cannot sell an automobile to you or to anyone else—if I owned one—without abiding by certain regulations. The law has wisely put certain limitations on these things. One of the best proofs that you cannot do what you want with real estate is this: You cannot deed your property to your children for ever and ever and provide that it shall never leave them or their heirs. You cannot do that, for it is against the law. So that the man who says that this bill deprives him of his rights in real estate is mistaken. If you examine this bill you will find the bill is fair all the way through, and no man is deprived of his legal rights and his righteous income from his property. I read awhile ago some lines written by a major in the army, referring to this question, and if you will pardon me for taking your time, I will read this to show you how even the army looked on the question of profiteering. This says:

"We died in our millions to serve it, the cause that you told us was ours.
We stood waist-deep in the trenches; we battled with hell and its horrors;
Broken and shattered and helpless, we rotted by land and by sea,
For the dream you held before us, the dream of a freedom to be.

And you? You have gathered your millions; you have lined your pockets with pelt.
You have talked of the Rights of Nations, while you worship the rights of self;
Your lands are dunged with our life-blood, your houses are built with our bones.
Your temples (and would you could hear them) are filled with our children's moans.

Do you think we shall rise and smite you? Fear not! You shall garner your gain.
And we? Will you give us our freedom, just those who have not been slain?
No, the tale is the same as ever and world will go on as before;
Our sons will be fooled and blinded, as our fathers were of yore.

Fooled though we've been by your hirelings—you know that we fought for a lie—
We've fathomed a truth you see not, but one you must learn when you die;
That silver and gold and raiment are things of but little worth,
For love is the heir of the ages, and the meek shall inherit the earth."

I want to say to you that this bill helps and strives to protect those who sent us here, the people of this Commonwealth, because out of the hundreds of persons who lived in the neighborhood, you know how few of them own their own properties, and if you do not protect the tenants of the Commonwealth, then we are not living up to the trust which was imposed upon us. I ask you to support this bill.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I sat here for quite a while and listened patiently to the explanation of the bill given by the gentleman from Philadelphia, and I say to you that any bill which takes so long to be explained to this House is a good bill to vote against. He comes in here with a bill which he says will prevent profiteering on the part of the real estate owners, the landlords, and especially the real estate agents. I will admit that if this bill becomes a law it will make a lot of money for us lawyers, but notwithstanding that fact, I am against the bill. Every time there is a session in Harrisburg there is an attempt to further restrict the taxes on some people and an attempt to further tax the real estate owners. Every time they want some revenue they will pass a law to restrict buildings, or make the cost of buildings more, or they come down here and put some law through to tax the real estate owner. They are taxed to death, not only on the property and the income, not only the income, but a man's estate, by collateral and direct taxation, if the man has saved enough for his widow and children that it can be taxed. You have a lobby here for the labor organizations and a lobby for the corporations, but you have no lobby for the middle class, who are paying their way in this commonwealth. I ask you to vote no on this bill.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This is one of the best pieces of humane legislation that has been presented to this House this session. It is a piece of legislation which is intended to protect the man who is unable to protect himself. We have in Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker, had experience within the past year or two of the poor being forced to pay rentals, increases in rentals, ranging from five to ten dollars a month on properties on which they were paying rentals of fifteen or sixteen dollars or less. They were obliged to move from the localities in which they had been living probably for fifteen, twenty or twenty-five years. The bill as it is now drafted, Mr. Speaker, does no injustice to the honest landlord, but it is intended to curb the landlord who would profiteer at the expense of the poor working man who is unable to pay the high rentals demanded of him. I think the time has come when we in the Legislature should do something to help the poor man. The cost of living is high enough, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, and with the increasing cost of rentals, I do not know how the poor man will come off. I think this bill should receive the unanimous approval of this body.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, I hope that the appeal of the tenants of Philadelphia who are being sorely pressed will not fall upon deaf or indifferent ears in this House. I take it that the men from other parts of the State do not appreciate the situation arising in Philadelphia in regard to rents, due to the influx of the great number of people called to Philadelphia by the war industries and activities and the abnormal growth of the State.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will ask the gentleman to suspend for a moment, and will request the sergeant-at-arms to maintain order in the rear of the Hall. Persons in the rear of the Hall will keep silence.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker, we are short about twenty thousand houses in Philadelphia, due to the high cost of material, which will suspend for some time the development in building operations, and these operations will not be resumed to any degree or extent, and the result is that men are looking everywhere in Philadelphia for homes. I come from a district of two-story houses occupied by hard-working, God-fearing men and women. These men and women have been sorely distressed by the present condition and by the profiteering of the landlords, who have been buying whole blocks and turning them over three and four times in a month at great profits, and every time a new owner buys, he gives notice to tenants to move or pay a higher rent. The tenant cannot move, because there are no houses for rent in Philadelphia, and he cannot buy if he is a poor man, because of the abnormal prices of real estate; and the result is that the people are worked into a frenzy in that district. They do not know where to go or what to do, and are calling upon this Legislature to give them relief. This bill gives relief, because it says to the landlord, to the new landlord when he buys a property, "You must be fair: if you raise this rent the price must be fair." If the landlord is not fair the tenant has redress: he can go into court and ask the court to pass upon the reasonableness of the landlord's demand. That is all the bill does. It is just to the tenants in Philadelphia, and we should stand by these men. I ask you men in the House to stand by them.

Mr. BENNETT. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I do not intend to use but a brief portion of the time of the House on this bill; but I hope the members, whether they come from the land washed by the waters of Lake Erie, or whether they come from where the Delaware lays her waters to the shore on the southeast of us, that they will give this bill their honest and manly consideration. From time immemorial, when God created man, he put selfishness in his heart, and there is selfishness in his heart today. If Bobby Burns were living today, he surely would cry out in his best poetic tone:

Makes countless thousands mourn."

In Philadelphia, my friends—I am not a lawyer or a real estate man, but I do claim that I have average intelligence—we have seen the facts transpiring before us, because in Philadelphia today we have the most brazen system that has ever been foisted on the American nation. The great evil that is rampant today is landlordism, and the man who is being gouged is the unfortunate who is living from hand to mouth, and who is living beneath the tyranny of being dispossessed over night. I ask you, my friends in this House, without any personal feeling, without any pique, without any financial interest, without any animosity to any man or set of men in Philadelphia, that we, you and I should realize that we owe to the people of Philadelphia some protection. For the last four years, one of the biggest questions in United States was the matter of revenue. We were called upon to subscribe for bond after bond issue until we raised the necessary millions of dollars to defray the expense of the war, and the men living in the eighteen dollar a month house in Philadelphia who is now paying from twenty-eight to thirty dollars, without a dollars worth of repairs being put in—in fact, he is met with a blunt refusal when he asks that repairs shall be made—that man, and that woman, and these boys, who went down into their pockets and bought bonds to protect and preserve the honor of this nation, these people are looking to you in this bill to protect them. Pennsylvania has never ran away from an enemy; it has never been licked in its loyalty; and the people of Philadelphia are crying out to you to protect them from that callous and frightful system of landlordism that is oppressing them. I ask you in justice to the people of Philadelphia, in justice to yourself, in justice to every man and woman, in justice to the boys who sacrificed their blood on the battlefield, and in justice to those who sacrificed by buying bonds, that you vote in favor of this bill. I ask you, for the protection of the men and women, the young men and women, the people of Phialdelphia, living from hand to mouth, to vote for this bill. In so doing you will maintain the dignity of the law-making body.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, in order that you may understand something of the condition that exists in our county, I want to say to you that in certain localities where the well-to-do live we don't have this condition of profiteering because, as a rule, in those localities the people own their own homes; but if you go down into South Philadelphia, into that section represented by the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Glass) you will find this condition common. One real estate broker down there represents three hundred houses, and those houses were boosted from eighteen dollars, to twenty-five dollars, to twenty-eight dollars, to thirty dollars a month, without any repairs being made and without any increase in the rate of taxation or any other rate, which is a pure specimen of profiteering. If I go into Mr. Wells' district of Mr. Milner's district, I will find the same condition. In the West Philadelphia district represented by Mr. Franklin, Mr. Wallace, Mr. Campbell, and Mr. Hefferman, in the seventeenth district, or up in the Germantown and Oak Lane district, represented by Mr. Bucher, who has himself suffered under this system, you will find this condition. In the district represented by Mr. Patterson and Mr. Bennett, you will find the same suffering, because they are the neighborhoods that are populated by the poorer men and women, and it is for their relief, the people in that condition, that we appeal to you to pass this bill, and it is for that reason that the representatives from the down-town district and the north-east district and the West Philadelphia district have appealed to you to give us aid. I will give you what I believe to be the secret of the whole trouble, a trouble from which you men from other parts of the State do not suffer, and that is the monthly lease system. Under the Philadelphia monthly lease system profiteering is easy. I have on my desk, in a case, this condition: A man leased a property and signed the lease for a month. He signs a lease this morning, and at night he receives notice that unless he pays ten dollars more a month he would have to vacate at the end of the month. Now, there is no change in the condition to justify this increase, and it is merely the principle that in Philadelphia the demand for properties is greater than the supply. I say to you, under the ordinary condition of things, if a property is worth $4,000 to-day, under ordinary circumstances, it is not worth $6,000 on the same day or the next day, yet this is the system which has been used. Mr. Milner has referred you to cases of persons buying whole rows of houses. These persons who at one time buy up whole rows of houses are not Pennsylvanians, generally, but New Yorkers, speculators, who buy under a ninety-day option and then turn the properties over to others, which is the reason why the poor man and other men who needs homes are required to pay increased prices within a comparatively short time without any improvements or repairs or increase in taxation to justify the increase. We are absolutely opposed to Bolshevism. There is not a man in this House who would subscribe his name in favor of Bolshevism. There is an editorial in a Philadelphia paper that explains, through investigators, the development of Bolshevism, and we find this reason given: "Profiteering real estate men under the camouflage of an own-your-own-home drive, are forcing workmen to buy homes at prices that, when reduced to all that it involves, is plain larceny." The United States government has sent its investigators into our city and they have discovered profiteering. Reference has been made to the man who owns real estate and the increase in his taxes; all rent is based on taxation. When we compute what is a fair rent for property, that is the first thing we consider, and we taken into consideration all the taxes, that that cannot be raised in a court of chancery or court of law in Philadelphia as a reason for the increase in rent. If our taxes are increased, the rent naturally increases, but that has no relevancy in the argument. I submit that we want to do that which is right and that if we will support this bill, we will relieve our people in Philadelphia from profiteering.

Mr. HEFFERNAN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Walker) in his speech on this matter has referred to me as coming from one of the largest residential sections in Philadelphia. That is very true. I do come from what I consider the largest residential section in Philadelphia, and I would ask each and every man on the floor of this House to consider what has been said in favor of this bill and vote for it, because it is a good and wise measure, and is in the interests of the poor people of Philadelphia. There is no use in resorting to an oratory here with regard to this bill. Just let us talk this thing over in practical, business-like way. I can tell you what has been the trouble: When the Hog Island ship yards and the other industries working in accord with the government were started up in Philadelphia, about 250,000 men were brought to our city from distant places. As a consequence, when they came there, there were not enough houses for them to bring their families, and as a result, as they were about to receive large wages, they were in a position to pay a good rent and they were willing to do it, and, therefore, our people there who were not receiving the wages that these men anticipated, were not in a position to afford the same rent as those who were brought here from distant cities. The consequence was, the rent went up. Now, we have a factor that is known as the investors. They would come in and buy up these properties and then in about a week after they would buy a house, having had a thirty or sixty day option, before that time was up they would sell to someone else with a profit of one or two hundred dollars and a house that somebody had paid three thousand dollars for, went up to four thousand dollars, and the fellow who bought and sold raised the rent, and as a result of all this the consequence has been a raising in the rent. We are facing another situation, which is this: Now, that the prices of property have gone skyward, we can look for the real estate assessors to note this fact, which means that there will possibly be a new assessment put on these new values and the people in the end will have to pay for this advance. I have a number of friends in Philadelphia who at the present time are living in houses valued at $2,500, who have been told in the last month that they would have to get out or pay $4,000 for the properties, and buy them for $4,000. Those properties rented for from $16 to $18 a month, and now you are in luck if you can get one of them for from $30 to $40 a month. The streets in which these particular houses are, are so narrow that you could jump from one side of the street to the other. They are very narrow streets. The fronts of these houses are about 13 1-2 to 14 feet, and that is not very much of a width for a house. I ask you gentlemen to take these points into consideration and vote for this bill offered by Mr. Walker because it will afford relief to the poor people of our city.

Mr. WELLS. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House: I did not intend to say anything on this question to-day, but my colleague, (Mr. James A. Walker), has referred to the conditions in the district in which I reside, and everything that he has said to you men is true. I myself have known personally of people who have resided in that district for many years; in fact, they were born in South Philadelphia, and have lived there practically all their lives. They have never arrived at that stage in life where they could buy their own home. Their incomes were moderate but sufficient for them to live on and to pay the rental, the reasonable rental for their property; but during the last few months I have seen case after case where these people have been dispossessed of their premises; they have been turned out upon the highway and they had no place to go to. I know of one case particularly which I have in mind where a widow woman came to see me at my house one night. She had four small children, and she had an income sufficient at that time to pay the rental of the premises where she was residing; but the landlord had sold the houses, seven of them together, to another operator, and he immediately served notice upon the tenants of an increase of rental of ten dollars per month, and she could not pay that rental. The result was that she was turned out, with her children, upon the street.

Now, my friends, there is no doubt in the minds of the citizens of Philadelphia that there is an evil at the present time existing there, that there is a great wrong there, and that there should be some remedy provided for them. They cannot go to the court at the present time because we have no law which will permit them to go to the court for redress. Our institutions in this country have always surmised that for every evil that exists there should be a remedy of some kind. There is no remedy for this evil, whatsoever, and therefore they come here to you men, who come from all over the State of Pennsylvania, to provide for them some remedy whereby they can receive redress. You are the court, in ths case, of last appeal and the people of Philadelphia, at this time, are appealing to you for your help.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. BALDRIGE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified, and was as follows:

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER:)

The SPEAKER. We will now take up the special order fixed for this hour, House Bill No. 1606, file folio 5723, at the bottom of page 1 of yesterday's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1606, as follows:

An Act to amend sections two hundred and two and two hundred and seven of an act approved the eighteenth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine), entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all the laws general, special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" so far as to provide for the number and eligibility of members of boards of school directors in school districts of the first class and to provide for the expiration of the terms of office of existing boards of school directors in said school districts.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section two hundred and two of an act approved the eighteenth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribinfg penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting the same and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" which reads as follows

"Section 202 In each school district of the first class the judges of the courts of common pleas of the county in which such school district is situated shall in October one thousand nine hundred and eleven (1911) appoint a board of fifteen (15) school directors as follows Five for two years five for four years and five for six years and in October of every second year thereafter shall appoint five members for six years Their term of office shall begin on the second Monday of November next following their appointment" be amended so as to read as follows

Section 202 In each school district of the first class there shall be a board of school directors chosen as follows

(1) Within thirty (30) days after this act shall become a law the Judges of the Court of Common Please of the county in which such school district is situated shall appoint one director whose term of office shall expire on the first Monday in November nineteen hundred and twenty (1920) one director whose term of office shall expire on the first Monday in November nineteen hundred and twenty-one (1921) one director whose term of office shall expire on the first Monday in November nineteen hundred and twenty-two (1922) one director whose term of office shall expire on the first Monday in November nineteen hundred and twenty-four (1924) one director whose term of office shall expire on the first Monday in November nineteen hundred and twenty-five (1925) one director whose term of office shall expire on the first Monday in November nineteen hundred and twenty-six (1926) and shall certify such appointment to the persons so appointed and to the Secretary of the Board of School Directors of said district Within thirty (30) days after their appointment the directors so appointed shall meet and organize as a board of school directors of such district and their terms of office as such school directors shall thereupon begin

(2) In October nineteen hundred and twenty (1920) and in October of every year thereafter the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of the county in which such school district is situated shall appoint one director to serve for a term of seven (7) years beginning on the first Monday of November following his appointment

Section 2 That section two hundred and seven (207) of said act which reads as follows

"Section 207 Any citizen of this Commonwealth having a good moral character being twenty-one (21) years of age or upwards and having been a resident of the district for at least one (1) year prior to the date of his election or appointment shall be eligible to the office of school director therein Provided That any person holding the office of mayor chief burgess county commissioner district attorney city borough or township treasurer city councilman township commissioner road supervisor tax collector comptroller auditor or constable shall not be eligible as a school director in this Commonwealth" be amended so as to read as follows

Section 207 Any citizen of this Commonwealth having a good moral charcter being twenty-one (21) years of age or upwards and having been a resident of the district for at least one (1) year prior to the date of his election or appointment shall be eligible to the office of school director therein Provided That any person holding the office of mayor chief burgess county commissioner district attorney city borough or township treasurer city councilman township commissioner road supervisor tax collector comptroller auditor or constable shall not be eligible as a school director in this Commonwealth and Provided further That in school districts of the first class no person shall be eligible to serve as school director for more than two consecutive terms or parts of terms And provided further That on and after the first day of September nineteen hundred and nineteen no person shall be eligible to appointment to the office of school director who is over sixty-five years of age at the time of his appointment

Section 3 This act shall take effect immediately but all school directors in districts of the first class whose terms of office shall not have expired at the time when this act shall become a law shall continue to serve as such school directors in their respective districts until the new school directors appointed as provided in section one herein shall have organized as a board of school directors of such district

Section 4 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent nerewith are hereby repealed

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: Before entering into a discussion of this bill, I feel that the House should be informed to some extent of the history of the bill and my personal interest in it and firm belief in the merits of the measure. Two years ago, when I had the honor of being a member of this House and a member of the Committee on Education, the chairman of that committe appointed a sub-committee to sit in Philadelphia, as well as in Pittsburgh, to hear argument for and against this bill. The bill at that time was not exactly as this one is, but in its fundamentals it resembles this bill, because it essentially provided that the number of the members of the Board of Education in Pittsburgh and in Philadelphia should be reduced. After both of those hearing in Philadelphia and in Pittsburgh, I became firmly convinced, hearing the testimony of people who were technically trained in the administration of educational affairs, that the school system in the city of Pittsburgh, as well as in the city of Philadelphia, could be bettered and essentially improved by a reduction in the number of members of the school board.

At this time, gentlemen, I want to firmly impress upon your minds one thing, and that is that this bill arises from no personal animosity or personal feeling against any member of the school board of Pittsburgh, or the school board of Philadelphia; on the contrary, it so happens that by my sponsoring of this bill that I challenge my personal interests and honest belief in the bill against my personal and intimate relationship and friendship with several members of the board in Philadelphia. I have, and have always had the highest respect and regard for the integrity and good meaning of men like Mr. Gratz, like Mr. Wanamaker, and Mr. Shallcross and others. And gentlemen, after a careful study of the question, I am satisfied, and I know that after you hear my argument you will at least consider that a school board of seven will handle the school business of the two cities—being the only two first class school districts in this Commonwealth—in a more expeditious manner. This, gentlemen, and it is important for you to remember it, is not a ripper bill. The bill as it stands on the calendar provides in districts of the first class that school boards shall be composed of seven members instead of fifteen members; that instead of serving ad infinitum, for fifty years, for forty years, or thirty years, the limit of service shall be two terms of seven years each or fourteen years in all, and that on and after September first of this year no man shall be eligible to appointment as a member of the school board who shall have arrived at the age of sixty-five years, on the theory that any man—and I have the highest regard for old age—who has arrived at the age of sixty-five and will have been appointed to an office in which he may serve for a period of seven years has arrived at that age when his activity cannot measure up to the strenuous activities and duties that he must perform in the office to which he shall have been appointed. Gentlemen, in cities like Pittsburgh and Philadelphia, we have found that in a school board of fifteen the men naturally group themselves into small numbers on committees, and that each one of those committees performs its respective duty and function and pays but little attention, if any, to the wider and broader policies that are necessary in the successful administration of any school system. The smaller school board will naturally centralize the responsibility and prevent that responsibility from being shifted. This is no new idea. In 1854, in Philadelphia, as well as in Pittsburgh, we had school boards running into the hundreds in membership. In 1905, that number was cut down to forty-two. Later it was cut to twenty-one, and ultimately in 1911, under the School Code, it was cut to fifteen. I ask your indulgence for a moment to point out to you that through the length and breadth of this United States there is a prevailing current of sentiment toward the reduction in the number of the membership if the school boards. Just recently in New York the number was cut from forty-six to seven, in Detroit from twenty-one to seven, in Chicago from twenty-one to eleven. Cleveland has seven, Denver five, Kansas City six, Cincinnati seven. You men of the House who come from school districts of the second class know the efficiency with which your committee of nine members operates, and you know well that if the board was any larger, the work would not be handled nearly so expeditiously. The function of a school board is legislative, and with the passing of the little red school house and the distribution of slates and pencils and paper by the members of the school board or board of education, if you will, the administrative function of the school board has been passed on to a high salaried executive and administrative men. We should have a policy determining a direct and efficient administration in our school boards in districts of the first class and I submit to you that a board of seven will work infinitely more satisfaction to all than the present system. I want to read to you some authorities on the question. I am quoting from the book of Dr. Elwood P. Cubberley in which he says: "The experience of the past century is clearly and unmistakably that a small school board is in every way more efficient than a large one. It is less talkative, and hence handles public business much more expeditiously. It is less able to shift responsibility; it cannot so easily divide itself up into small committees, and works more efficiently and intelligently as a committee of the whole."

Gentlemen, I submit for your honest consideration these arguments, and I appeal to you to vote for this bill and start in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia a new and more efficient school administration.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time in opposition to the House bill now under consideration. The gentleman from Philadelphia has stated that this is not ripper legislation, but I want to call your attention to the top of page 3, section 202, which reads: "Within thirty days after this act shall become a law, the judges of the court of common pleas of the county in which such school district is situated, shall appoint one director whose term of office shall expire on the first Monday in November, 1920, one director whose term of office shall expire the first Monday in November, 1921."

As the law of 1911 stands at the present time, the school board of the city of Philadelphia, which is the same practically as in Pittsburgh, consists of a memberschip of fifteen, five of whom are appointed for a period of two years, five appointed for a period of four years, and five for a period of six years. This present law has been very efficient. It has been most competently conducted in the city of Pittsburgh by a board of men and women consisting of the highest type of citizenship in the city of Pittsburgh. Their work has been most gratifying. There is no question in my mind but that they have made mistakes but these have been honest mistakes.

I do not know of any people in the City of Pittsburgh at the present time who desire a change, and it is extremely gratifying to know that the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Sterling) is so interested in the school board of Pittsburgh that he has seen fit to introduce this bill in its present form. I have in my hand a telegram, dated Pittsburgh, Pa., June 16, 1919, which reads as follows:

"The Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh has placed itself on record against the Sterling School Bill in any form. Please register this objection for Chamber of Commerce.

"A. C. TERRY,
"Secretary."

The Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh, composed of a membership of over five thousand men, men of the most representative type of the City of Pittsburgh, strenuously objects to a change in the school board. It has been one that has rendered valuable service, and I do not believe that any member in this House at the present time would sponsor or would stand for ripper legislation, particularly during this reconstruction period when we have greater problems to solve, greater problems to solve than that of playing politics in our school system. Our Governor has not been partisan in giving us the best school system we can have. He has appointed a Democrat to the highest position of trust in our school system, in order to make it compare with any other State. He is giving us very faithful thought that our school system may be of the highest type. We have gone on record in the present Legislature by giving the teachers an increase in salary, thereby making them more contented with their work, and giving our boys and girls an opportunity for a better education, and thus enabling them to become better citizens of this Commonwealth and of this country. The time to make a change is not the present time, although the gentleman states it is, and quotes from other States that have reduced the number, that is no reason why Pennsylvania should reduce its number. We now have fifteen, and they want to reduce it to seven. There surely must be a reason. From information I have received, which I believe to be reliable, the school board of the City of Philadelphia consists of the highest type of citizenship. Their service has been competent; and I see no reason why, if there is dissatisfaction in Philadelphia, the City of Pittsburgh should suffer. We in the City of Pittsburgh object to having any change in the present school system, and ask you to vote this bill down.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, it is true that this is a bad bill, and the Philadelphia delegation asks the members to vote it down. The first objection is that it reduces the number of men from fifteen to seven. In school districts of the second class the board of education consists of nine men, and yet it is attempted to reduce the number of the board of education in cities of the first class down to seven men. Now there is no reason for this; and I believe that the most objectionable part of this bill is that it limits the age of the members to sixty-five years. There is no reason for it whatever; and when we consider the next proposition, that no man shall serve more than two terms, when we consider the section of the bill which limits the terms of the men to two terms, the rediculous part of this measure becomes apparent. For instance, a man entering the board of education when he is thirty-five years of age, he is not a young man, and he serves for two terms until he is forty-nine years of age. Now the courts cannot reappoint a young man at forty-nine years of age to be a member of the board of education in the City of Philadelphia, taking into consideration his fourteen years' experience as a member of the board of education. Now you take some of the most prominent men in Philadelphia, men like John Wanamaker, Simon Gratz and David H. Lane. These men are now members of the board of education, and we have in Philadelphia one of the finest boards of education that can be found in any part of the United States. I ask you men to vote this bill down.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: I do not want to take any time in answering the gentlemen who have spoken in favor of this bill; but having been associated with the bill that was originally passed in a past session, I feel that the House should be fully acquainted with the absurdity of this amendment before voting upon it. The bodies in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh consist of fifteen men in each body. Those men, in a great measure, were the men who molded this present school code, which is to-day the model legislation pertaining to education throughout the whole country. If the Legislature which is now in session had been the Legislature which was in session when the school code was passed, the men who molded the law would have been ineligible; such men as David Oliver, of Pittsburgh; such men as Simon Gratz, of Philadelphia; those men would then have been ineligible. There is nothing in this amendment that should appeal to this body. It reduces the number of men from fifteen to seven. Now, for instance, in Philadelphia, where we are familiar with the type of men, it would eliminate such men as Henry R. Edmonds, who is president of the board of education; it would eliminate Simon Gratz, who for fifty years has been the head of the educational legislative body in Philadelphia; it would eliminate John Wanamaker; it would eliminate Mr. Boyle, who is a prominent banker in Philadelphia; it would eliminate David H. Lane, who is a prominent political leader and educator and a prominent scholar in the City of Philadelphia; it would eliminate our present director of health, Major Martin; it would eliminate Mr. Edwin Wolf, who is a man of high standing in the financial world; it would eliminate Thomas Shallcross, who is a leading agriculturist in the district surrounding Philadelphia, who has devoted his life to educational matters. Gentlemen of the House, these men have made the educational system of Philadelphia the model of American school systems, and they all, or a majority of them, have reached the age of sixty-five.

This bill, if it were to pass now, Mr. Speaker, would, in thirty days, select one man, and then at a later period of a few days would select the second man, and the third man, and the fourth man, and the fifth man, and the sixth and seventh man. That would mean that a man who has been in this position for seven years as a member of the board is barred from claiming election. Why, Mr. Speaker, these men have devoted their lives to educational matters, and they have been brought from every avenue in life to take their position in the legislative body of education.

The board in Philadelphia is free from partisanship; it is free from religious antagonism. The prominent Catholic is there; the prominent Protestant is there; the prominent Jew is there, and these men work for all sections of the citizenship of Philadelphia, and to rip men of the type of these men out of office; those men who are men of such type that they have not asked this body for its support, because they feel it would be beneath their dignity to do it. John Wanamaker, after he had reached the age of sixty-five years, built in the city of Philadelphia the greatest department store in America. He went through a panic and built that great monument for his name after he was a man of sixty-five years of age. Major Martin, who is now at the head of our great Health Board, went to the army when he was a man coming close to his sixty-fifth year; he went to Europe and there stood at the head of the surgeons of the world. Take men of this type out of our body? Why, we are proud of Simon Gratz; we are proud of our Edwin Wolf; our Dave Lane and of our John Wanamaker, and men of Pittsburgh, we our proud of your David Oliver. These are the type of men that this bill would rip from office. This bill should not prevail; it should be voted down with such a force as to give to these gentlemen the stamp of approval; the stamp of appreciation. All the members of this Legislature representing the fathers and the mothers of the schoolboy and girl—the men who represent the school boy and girl and representing as we do a body that has created the great school system that we have in Pennsylvania; a system that we may well be proud of. When we go through the whole state and find the type of schoolhouses to-day that are being built under the supervision of the educational system that is now headed in Harrisburg by one high in educational work, selected by a Governor who was big enough and strong enough and courageous enough to go beyond any partisanship not to select any party man, but who selected an educator—we are proud of all this, and our Governor deserves the credit for his courage, and that is the character and courage you and I should use in voting down this bill and supporting the men who have devoted their life to education.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I wish in a word to clear up one doubt that may have been developed by the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott). When I first started to talk I told you that there was not any personality in this bill. I told you that I had the highest regard for men like Mr. Gratz and Mr. Wanamaker, and for Mr. Oliver of Pittsburgh. If you will read the bill carefully, you will find that nothwithstanding the fact the provisions of the bill should become operative within thirty days after its passage, nevertheless, it does provide that men who have arrived at the age of sixty-five years, may be appointed and are qualified and eligible to appointment, provided, however, this appointment be made prior to September 1st, 1919. The gentlemen from Pittsburgh as well as Philadelphia all have confidence in their board of judges; you know that they respond to public sentiment. You know, too, that of those men who have been mentioned here today by name, that they are the men who are responsible for our school code and school system, and that these men surely will find their places among the seven to be appointed under this act. The act specifically was drawn for that purpose, and there is no reason why these estimable gentlemen cannot be reappointed. On the question of age, I want to read to you a newspaper interview given by a gentleman now over eighty years of age, formerly the chairman of the board of education of Philadelphia, who was also mentioned by the gentleman from Philadelphia, (Mr. Scott). I have reference to Mr. Henry R. Edmunds, who says:

"A man of about forty or forty-five would be the ideal man for such work. There is much to be said for the old man, from the viewpoint of experience. He is sane and rational and can face with calmness questions that excite the man who has never faced such questions before. But experience is not the only consideration. We should have on the Board of Education men with business ability combined with vision, men with the vigor of youth."

As to reduction in the Board, he has this to say: "I have read about that bill before the Legislature to create an elective board of seven members. I have always favored a board of seven, and, in fact, was quoted as saying so in the 'Public Ledger' many years ago. The present board of fifteen is too large."

My friend from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott) has referred to the recent appointment in Pennsylvania as Superintendent of Public Instruction, of Mr. Finnegan from New York. Mindful of that appointment, I submit that it is your duty here today to pass this bill, because the Commonwealth from which Mr. Finnegan came, and the City of New York, saw fit within a short time ago to reduce, for the benefit of its school system, the membership of its school board from forty-six to seven members, and if in the native city from whence Mr. Finnegan came, that was found advisable, how could it be submitted to him as being inadvisable that in the two districts of the first-class in this Commonwealth, an opportunity should not be given to reduce the number from fifteen to seven. Gentlemen, I appeal to you that this measure is a good one and should have the honest consideration and the unanimous support of this House. Twenty years from now Pittsburgh will come back on her knees and beg this Legislature to reduce the number of this board to seven, and I predict that you will come back here and ask that this distinction between school boards in the cities of the first-class and in Pittsburgh be changed from an appointive system to an elective system. Gentlemen, I ask you to give this bill you favorable vote.

The previous question was moved by twenty members, as follows: Messrs. John T. Davis, McCurdy, Allum, Benchoff, Bolard, Brooks, Cook, David F. Davis, Dithrich, Flynn, Geary, Gochring, Haldeman, Jones, Jordan, Lauler, Marcus, McCaig, McKim, McVicar, Perry, Ramsey, Simpson, Sprowls, Stadtlander, Todd, Vickerman, Wagner, and others.

On the question,

Shall the main question now be put?

It was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1439, file folio 5139, on page 10 of yesterday's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. DAWSON,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1439, entitled

A supplement to an act approved the second day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and eighty-four) entitled "An Act to provide revenue by imposing a mercantile license tax on vendors of or dealers in goods wares and merchandise and providing for the collection of said tax"

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 741, file folio 1073, at the top of page 7 of yesterday's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. DAWSON,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 741, entitled

An Act providing that clerks assisting the registers of wills in the collection of inheritance taxes shall be appointed and their compensation fixed by the Auditor General and prescribing the method of their payment and that of other expenses incident to the collection of said taxes.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Dawson) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DAWSON. I will, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Clearfield (Mr. Phillips) will proceed.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, this bill provides that all clerks and other persons, other than the appraisers, required to assist the register of wills in any county of this Commonwealth shall be appointed by the Auditor General. Does this mean that all the clerks that receive any money in reference to the direct inheritance tax shall be appointed by the Auditor General?

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: This bill provides that the Auditor General shall provide all clerks to assist in the collection of the collateral inheritance tax.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, that might mean all the clerks in the office of the register of wills.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, this bill does not provide for anything of the kind. It only provides for clerks other than those in the employ of the registers.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Lackawanna (Mr. Dawson).

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Clearfield (Mr. Phillips) will proceed.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the men appointed by the Auditor General of the State would give better service in the collecting of this tax than the men appointed by the register of wills in each county.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, we have found that where the fiscal agent of the State collects the State taxes, he does the work more efficiently than the man appointed by the county officials. We have found in the county of Lackawanna, for instance, where the Auditor General has sent special investigators in there, that they have more than doubled the collection of the mercantile tax. Therefore, in answer to the gentleman from Clearfield, I would say that our experience is that the Auditor General can more efficiently collect the tax than can the men appointed by the local officials.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, this bill, as I take it, was supposed, as originally drawn, to be a revenue raiser. I have never been informed by the administration or anyone else as to why it is a revenue raiser. In the small counties of this State, for instance, where the number of deaths and the inheritance taxes are very small, this would allow the Auditor General to appoint one or more clerks. In the collecting of this money, this would mean additional expense. The bill provides that the Auditor General can set the salary of these men at whatever he sees fit. The amount collected from each individual county is small. If the Auditor General—I don't say that it might be this Auditor General—but any Auditor General who sees fit to build about him a political organization or organization of clerks in the State,—could appoint one or more men in these several counties at a salary of twenty-five hundred dollars which would mean that it would eat up more than the amount of revenue derived from the inheritance tax. Why this is called a revenue raiser, I cannot understand, as far as the county from which I come is concerned and the like. It might be different in the larger counties.

Now, Mr. Speaker, when the honorable gentleman who now has the privilege, through the voters of Pennsylvania, of acting as Auditor General came on the floor of this House about five months ago, he said in his talk, after giving all of our counties a little "Hail Columbia" for not coming up to the standard, he stated that Clearfield County had 1,614 deaths and had reported but thirty-four. At the end of that same week I went home and went over to the office of the Register of Wills of Clearfield County and looked up the records as to what had been reported up to that date, and I found that the Auditor General was right in the amount of deaths, but the amount of deaths that had been reported to him and the receipts to the register and recorder's office, showing they had come to his office, were 175 instead of 34. Why the Auditor General saw fit to misrepresent this or whether his clerks had not informed him as to the truth of the matter, I am not here to say and do not know; but if that is the way it was misrepresented to him by some of his clerks, then he was surely mistaken about some of the other counties because his figures did not agree with those of the register and recorder of our county. Gentlemen of the House, if this is a revenue raiser and it can be shown to me that it is a revenue raiser, I am one of the men who will vote for it, but all that I can say for it is that we have too many inspectors, too many men journeying over the State at a salary. Why, there are duplications after duplication. The place to get this money, Mr. Speaker, is not from the collector of this revenue. It is from the appraisers. I know that the appraisers in our county are men who are appointed by the register and recorder to appraise these estates very often take the conditions reported in the appraisement, and how can the collector change that report? If it is to draw money, to increase the revenue of the State, I am very much in favor of it; but when it comes to building about him an organization of clerks in the State, however, that does not seem to have anything for its advantage except to build up an organization, and you see what a danger that might be,—not saying that this man might do it because he is interested in the revenue of the State; but get some person in that office who might be a politician and he would build up a political organization of his own in this Commonwealth by appointing hundreds of clerks for this purpose. Gentlemen, I think we ought to think seriously before passing this bill.

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Clearfield, I wish to say that it has been agreed that this bill should be amended in the Senate to provide the salaries, and the only reason that the amendment has not been offered at this time is because it would delay the passage of the bill. The objections from the city of Philadelphia have been eliminated, as I understand, because this bill will be properly taken care of over in the Senate.

Mr. ROBERT L. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I do not wish to consume very much of your time on this matter, but I am very much oppsed to this bill, as I believe the principle on which this bill is constructed is absolutely wrong. We have in no other instance given to any one man or official of this Commonwealth the authority to appoint an unlimited number of clerks and to fix their salaries. This bill has been heralded as a revenue raiser, and all we need to do is to read it and we will learn that it is nothing of the kind. It is absolutely true that we need some legislation of this subject to help in the collection of these inheritance taxes, but I want to say to you, in a matter of all fairness to the people of the State as well as to the Auditor General's office and the office of the Register of Wills, that all they need to enable them to collect the inheritance tax are investigators to investigate deaths and make reports thereof to the Register of Wills and to the Auditor General. The Register of Wills, by law, is made the agent of the Commonwealth to collect the inheritance taxes. All he needs is some one to investigate deaths for the purpose of determining whether or not the party dying left an estate subject to the inheritance tax. We do not give even to the Governor of this Commonwealth the right to appoint his Private Secretary and to fix his salary. He is required to submit the name of his Secretary to the Senate for confirmation, and this General Assembly fixes the salary. We ought not to be willing to put into the hands of any one man the unheardof authority of appointing an unlimited number of clerks and fixing their salaries. Furthermore, we ought not to shirk our duty in this House, and I believe we all know that we cannot authoritatively speak for the Senate and say that that body across the hall will do this thing or will do that thing. This is no place for a criticism of the Auditor General. He is only here for this term, and then there will be another, but, nevertheless, we ought not to put into the hands of any one official this unlimited power which it is not at all sure will not be abused. This bill in its present form is wrong in principle, and I think we ought to vote it down.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, if I am not mistaken, my good friend from Lawrence has already, during this session, voted to empower a State official, the Highway Commissioner, with greater power than this bill gives to the Auditor General, in permitting the Highway Commissioner to reorganize his Department, appointing such men as in his judgment are necessary for the efficiency in that Department, and to fix their salaries. The work of this session is fast drawing to a close. There are no more important matters before the Legislature than the revenue measures. The responsibility for keeping the machinery of this Government in operation, in raising revenue with which to pay the expenses of the State government, rests with this Legislature, and we cannot dodge it. Since the beginning of this session nearly every member of the House and Senate has introduced appropriation bills, largely in excess of the amounts for the same purposes, as introduced two years ago. In addition to these individual appropriation bills, we have the general appropriation bill for an amount greater than that carried by the general appropriation bill two years ago. In addition to this is the bill for the Pymatuning swamp, in the western part of the State, for four hundred thousand dollars; also for the teachers' pension fund and the teachers' salaries, colleges, highways, and for various other purposes, the total of which runs around one hundred and thirty millions of dollars. The fact that this Legislature cannot see an amount to exceed ninety to ninety-five millions of dollars, means that these appropriation bills must be pared down either by the Senate or the Executive of the State. The Governor has publicly and privately said that if this Legislature will pass the bill now under consideration and the one that we passed last night, giving the Auditor General greater power and authority in the collection of the Mercantile taxes, that the revenues of the State for the next two years will be at least ninety-five millions of dollars. If we fail to pass this bill, and the one which the House passed last night fails on passage in the Senate, it means that there will have to be an additional cut—where? In the appropriation bills for which you gentlemen are sponsors. There is no use in beating around the bush; there is a condition that confronts us, and we must face it. The Federal Government, through the necessities of the war, has passed many new taxation bills, placing additional burdens upon the corporations and upon the individuals. The State of Pennsylvania is trying to avoid any additional taxation. They are trying to collect, under the existing laws, a sum of money that will take care of the expenses of the State government.

The present Auditor General was nominated at an open primary as the candidate of his party, the Republican, two years ago. His election followed, and I have no fear whatever of his using the power that these two bills give to him in an arbitrary or offensive manner. If he does, the people will resent any effort of that kind on his part. Mr. Speaker, as one member of this House who has not introduced a single appropriation bill, I shall vote for this measure with the same spirit with which I voted for the bill passed last evening, giving the Auditor General additional power in the collection of the Mercantile tax.—Why? In order that the State may have more money with which to meet the expenses of the State government, and take care of the appropriation bills that you gentlemen have introduced.

The previous question was moved by twenty members, as follows: Messrs. POINT OF INFORMATION.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of information.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander), chairman of the Muncipal Corporations Committee, on the status of a bill of great interest to the City of Philadelphia, known as the Salus Bill, Senate Bill No. 554, which has been committed to his committee since the eighth day of May, and ask what is the status of the bill and the disposition of the committee.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny (Mr Stadtlander) is not in his seat at the present time.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask as a point of information from the gentleman from Luzerne (Mr. Powell), a member of the sub-committee having charge of the Salus Bill, Senate Bill No. 554, a bill of vital importance to the transit facilities of Philadelphia, what is the status of that bill.

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House: In reference to the status of this bill at this time, all that I can say is that the bill was referred to the sub-committee, which information I gave to the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott), and the sub-committee consists of the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Lafferty), the gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) and myself, and I myself have not had any meeting. May eighth was the date the bill was referred.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne (Mr. Powell).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne (Mr. Powell) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I will.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, has there been any meeting of the cub-committee on this bill, Senate Bill No. 554?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, not to my knowledge.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, has there been any consideration of the bill by yourself individually, or by yourself with the other two gentlemen?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, my statement was that there had been none.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne (Mr. Powell).

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, has there been any meeting of the general Committee on Municipal Corporations called by the chairman, the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander)?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, there was a meeting last week.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, was there any consideration of this bill?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, the sub-committee made no report at any time.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, is there any likelihood of any meeting for the consideration of the bill by the sub-committee or the general committee?

Mr. POWELL. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether it is proper at this time to give out the business of any committee. I do not know whether or not. I have answered the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Scott) in every fairness I know how.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander), as he is now in his seat.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander) as to the status of Senate Bill No. 554, known as the Salus Bill, pertaining to the transit facilities of the City of Philadelphia, which bill was referred to his committee on the eighth day of May of the present year.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I think the House calendar will explain where the bill is.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander), I would say that the calendar information is that the bill was referred to the Committee on Municipal Corporations on May eighth. My query was what is the status of this bill in the committee?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, the deliberations of the committees of the House are secret, and therefore the chairman of this committee at this time has no right to divulge them.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander) further.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, what deliberations pertaining to this bill in the Committee on Municipal Corporations are secret?

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, all the deliberations.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, what deliberations have there been on this bill in the Committee on Municipal Corporations?

POINT OF ORDER.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I raise the question that I am not privileged to divulge the secrets of the committee.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Stadtlander) raises the point of order that questions that are raised in a committee are not privileged questions on the floor of the House. The Chair sustains the gentleman's point of order.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I now give notice in this House that, unless consideration is had upon this bill by the Municipal Corporations Committee, there will be a motion offered in this House to discharge the committee from further consideration of the bill, and that motion will be offered tomorrow unless there is some assurance from the chairman of the committee that there will be proper consideration by the committee of this bill which has remained with it since the eighth of May.

The SPEAKER. That will be the proper procedure to pursue.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. The hour of 1:00 o'clock having arrived, the House will take a recess until 4:00 o'clock this afternoon.

Whereupon (at 1:00 o'clock P. M.) the House took a recess until 4:00 o'clock this afternoon.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconvened at 4:00 o'clock P. M.

Mr. RAMSEY in the Chair.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 1177 (file folio 5851), on page 27 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from postponed calendar by Mr. FLYNN,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 1175, entitled

An Act defining sedition and prescribing the punishment therefor

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1175, now under consideration, is known as the Anti-Sedition Bill. This bill was prepared by the Attorney General under the direction of his Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, for the purpose of preserving law and order within the boundaries of this State. It is a bill which has been made necessary because of the unusual stress and activities of an element which has invaded our Commonwealth and which has become a menace to the very source of our government. There has been some objection offered to this bill on the part of men who are representing organized labor; but the proponents of the bill have made every effort to strike out, and have stricken out from the bill, the sections which appear to be objectionable. For instance, the first section of the bill, as originally drawn, provided against discontent to arouse discontent. This has been stricken from the bill; also the objections raised against the proposition of renting a hall for seditious purposes. For fear that some innocent persons might be punished under this section, it was stricken from the bill. I would say to the members of this House that the bill, as it now stands, is of an honest character and an effort to regulate a very serious condition. It provides penalties against sedition for those who would try to destroy our government, either State or national. There is not one word in the bill which would prevent the criticism of any public official. With this explanation, I trust that you men will vote favorably on the passage of the bill.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to speak in opposition to the Anti-Sedition Bill. I want to say that it is a long way from the coal breaker to attempt to discuss a legal question of this character with some of the proponents of this bill; but as it is up to labor to defend its own, I am going to try and point out to you, in my humble way, the objectionable features of this bill. I feel particularly this afternoon in the same fix as a priest delivering his first sermon, a little bit excited, perhaps. A priest one time took for his text: "The Saviour took ten thousand loaves and seven thousand fishes and fed a multitude of seven." An old Irish fellow sitting down in the front said: "Sure, I could do that myself." So the next Sunday the priest took the same text, and this time he got it about right, and he said: "He took seven loaves and five fishes and few a multitude of ten thousand." The priest then said to Pat: "Can you do that, Pat?" Pat said: "Yes, sir; I can do that, too." The priest asked him how he would do it, and he said: "I would take what you had left from last Sunday." So I am going to try to feed you that you will be perfectly satisfied to go home and say that you have voted against the most damnable piece of legislation that has ever been attempted to be brought out in this State. I want to say to you, my friends, that to-day is the anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill. On June 17, 1775, the Battle of Bunker Hill was fought. And what brought about that fight, my friends? It was because we had leaders at that time that made statements that you class as seditious and you went and fought against the tyranny of England. Now I want to say to you that this bill is no more and no less than a strike at the labor organizations of this State. Let us see whether, perhaps, the industrial centers of this State have not got something to do with this. Perhaps the element that is favoring this bill fear a strike in the steel industry. Some weeks ago I said that there were detailed bills in connection with this, and we will try to point out to-day that these dovetailed bills are working thoroughly. This is from the Associated Press: "A committee of twenty-four presidents of the Industrial Labor Unions interested in the organization of workers in the State steel industry, headed by Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, to-night, in conference decided immediately to launch extreme organization efforts in the great steel production regions of this country, especially in the Pittsburgh district, and fight there for the right of free assembly, free speech and free press," which this bill is striking at. I say to you, my friends, that if you pass this bill you will place in the hands of the enemies of labor organizations the greatest weapon that you could ever place there. We are not asleep; and I want to say to you in all fairness that you men must consider that the labor organizations of this State have done their part for you in the past and if you are going to strike at Bolshevism, I want to say to you that the labor union movement stands ready to go hand in hand with this Government in striking down Bolshevism, and how will that come about? Let the captains, the honest captains of industry, sit down at the conference table with the wage earners of this country and there, instead of using this weapon, use the weapon that contains the opinion of the wage earners and the others and then you will bring about the defeat of the Bolshevists. If you want to kill Bolshevism, let us hit here and pass laws such as the old-age pension law, let us pass better child labor laws, let us pass better compensation laws; and by heaven, you know that you have dragged labor all the way through these six months saying that you are trying to give us a better compensation law, and it is not passed yet. These are some of the things you can do to strike down Bolshevism. Let us reconstruct, let us have legislation that will take the crippled industrial soldier, that man who has lost an arm or a leg, and let us re-educate him so that he can go back into the industrial world and earn an intelligent living. These are some of the things you want to pass in this hall, not to strike away the rights of the worker from free speech. I do not see where the State of Pennsylvania should make laws to protect the Government of the United States. You place in here a clause to "protect the United States." I want to say to you that we have men in Congress and in the Senate at Washington who are capable of passing laws to down Bolshevism in this country. Now may I be permitted at this time to read to you—and I am not of a legal mind, but I want to say that I can read here the opinions of some men whom I consider to be true and loyal Republicans and not lead by the two by four leader of the opposite side. I want to say to you that in my opinion the Honorable Ex-Federal Judge Woodruff, who was the Assistant Attorney General under Theodore Roosevelt—that his opinion on this bill is good enough for me. Let us see what he says, if I may be permitted to read his opinion. This is a letter addressed to the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor. "Can the actions enumerated in House Bill No. 1175 be treated and punished as crimes under the present law of the State of Pennsylvania."

"I had felt strongly that undoubtedly these actions could be reached under the present law, but when I grasped the fact that bill No. 1175 substitutes 'tends' (line 7, page 1 of the bill) for what now is in the law, viz: 'with intent', which means either actual malice or such egregious negligence of the results of our activities that intentional malice can be presumed by a jury of ordinarily intelligent citizens.—When I repeat, I realize the startling peculiarity of said word 'tends' which was not sufficiently brought out at the hearing, I must say that Mr. Shaffer has put into bill No. 1175 a new opportunity to arrest, imprison, prosecute and persecute any citizen whose actions fail to conform to the line which the executive officials believe should have been followed."

That is the opinion of Ex-Federal Judge Woodruff. Then let us see about the teeth that you say, Mr. Flynn, you have taken from that bill,—the word, "discontent." Yes, you have taken discontent from that bill, but you have placed in the minds of every wage earner in Pennsylvania the discontent that you will never wipe out if this bill is made a law. You say you have not sufficient law. Let us see. A few years ago there was a strike in the Westinghouse works and other plants near Pittsburgh. Let us see whether we have law. One Fred Merrick was accused of having made a speech advocating violence. A few days later there was a riot. Three weeks later Merrick was arrested, charged with inciting a riot, notwithstanding the fact that Merrick was at the time of the riot fifteen miles away, and took no part in the riot. He was arrested, tried and found guilty, and sentenced to serve something like three years in the workhouse, and furthermore, he is there yet and you had law enough to put him behind the bars. I could go on for a long time reciting my experiences in the labor movement. I have been in sections where the corporations have hired their thugs, and I know how easy it is to use the word "terrorism" that is in this bill, and to say that the organizers are creating terrorism. I want to say to you, as a labor representative, that you have stood upon the floor of this House from time to time and you have always hallowed across the floor, "We are for labor, we stand for labor." Yes, when labor does not ask you for anything you are the best labor crowd I ever was in, but labor is putting this up to you now. It is up to you and you cannot dodge it. The man who votes for this bill votes against the labor movement in Pennsylvania and the United States. If this bill is passed it will be the most disturbing factor in our National life. The darkest cloud that ever hung over Pennsylvania will hang over it if you pass this Anti-Sedition bill. Let me say, the elements that are in favor of this bill are in favor of the limitation and restriction of the rights of the people, and I want to say to you that if it becomes necessary for me to travel this State, and others of my kind, we will stand out as strong as we ever did in the favoring of the labor legislation, in favor of the labor organizations of this State.

And let me say to those who feel that by using this weapon they are going to defeat labor, let me say to you that your chances of defeating the labor movement in this country, that has stood out so loyally and so patriotic, that your chances are going to be small, are going to be about as small as the yellow dog has to catch the asbestos cat running through the hottest place you are ever going to get to. I want to say to you, my friends, in conclusion, that we have been on our knees throughout the entire session. Men have come to me in this session and said, "O, Fowler, you would have got something last session, but Jim Maurer was a Socialist, and if you had a decent representative you would have got something." This session it is me that is the radical. Next session it will be perhaps somebody else. If you turn us down and vote for this bill, I hope that labor will send one hundred and four more of us in here, and we will talk "Turkey" to you as well. Now, my friends, they say this bill has all the teeth taken out of it. The fact remains that it is not the labor organizations alone that stand out against this bill. The Grangers' organization stands out against this bill. Resolutions from the councils of cities are against this bill. May I be permitted to put into the records a resolution passed condemning this bill? I want to say to you that many organizations outside of labor are against it. There is one that stands out against it openly, and I want to say to you that all of you ought to be open for criticism, and I challenge honest criticism, and no one should be ashamed of it. It is honest criticism that brings about honest legislation. My friends, I hope and trust that you vote down this treacherous piece of legislation. I thank you.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, there will be no further discussion of the bill. The House will kindly be in order during the calling of the roll, and visitors will kindly cease from moving about the hall, so that nothing will impair the progress of the voices of members to the desk. This is very important.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker—

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, there is nothing before the House but the calling of the roll.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I was recognized by the Chair, and I insist upon my right as a member of this House to speak on this bill on free speech, and, gentlemen, I do not intend to be muzzled.

The SPEAKER. The Chair merely asked whether any other members desired to speak.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I did not interrupt until the Chair had finished.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York (Mr. Lanius) will proceed.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, this bill is clearly an attempt to rob the people of this State of their inherited right to speak their mind as they may see fit and where they may see fit. I cannot conceive in my mnid that a member of this House should not speak on this bill. We have sufficient laws on our statute books—

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I just want to ask the gentleman a question if I may be permitted.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman desire to answer?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I will answer the question.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has made an attack on this bill and asserted that it is an attempt to stifle free speech. I want him to answer fairly and honestly to the members of this House what free speech is stifled.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, that is the subject prohibited.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, what is the prohibited subject?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I will try to get to that as I speak. The gentleman can interrogate when I have finished. I cannot conceive in my mind, Mr. Speaker, that this bill is necessary. By free speech I mean the unlimited criticism of the things which are permitted for us to critise under the Constitution. I hold that criticism of those things which are enacted by this State Government which we are given the right as tax-paying citizens to take part in, are not, according to my view, to be prohibited. I have the right to say here whether I approve or not; that is free speech. If this bill, as we believe it does, would stop labor organizations from saying things to each other and to other associations of various kinds which are within their constitutional rights, that is an attempt to stop free speech.

Now it is said that this bill was intended to stop Bolshevism in Pennsylvania. If it is a fact that the present law is not sufficient to stop it and bring about order, then pray tell me, Mr. Speaker, under what law does the police constabulary operate? There is a point which is not clear to my mind, Mr. Speaker, if this bill is necessary. Mr. Speaker, the Attorney General said he desired by this bill to get the men who threw the bombs and hatched the plots. I cannot see how it would be of any assistance. The Campbell Black Hand Act of 1913 is sufficient to reach any man who makes threats in this State. We have a penalty, and any man who throws a bomb can be punished. Now Mr. Speaker, I think this bill is clearly understood, and my purpose in rising to-day was at the direct instance of my colleagues, who desire it to be known that the Democratic Party in this State is not a factor in this bill, and they ask me as their official floor leader in this House to make this statement. We have nothing to do with this measure, and I believe I am backed by the solid majority of this delegation.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I know the gentleman who has just spoken would not speak as he does if he understood the purpose and intent of this bill. It is not an attempt to stifle free speech; it is only an attempt to curb the man who goes out and incites his fellow-men to acts of violence against the Government of the State and of the United States; and not one line, or one word, or one sentence in this bill could in any way be construed against organized labor, or against any other legitimate activity. I say let us be charitable to those who have criticised it: let us take them at their word, and admit that they do not understand the bill. A simple reading of its provisions will disclose what I have said to you, and I know that there is no man in this House who has carefully and intelligently read this bill who will oppose it. If he loves his home, if he loves his family, if he loves his State and the Nation, he will not vote against this bill.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Elk, (Mr. Flynn).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Elk (Mr. Flynn) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WILLSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order. The gentleman from Clearfield is out of order because the previous question has been moved.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will rule that there were not a sufficient number of seconds who arose to second the previous question, and the point of order is not well taken. The gentleman from Clearfield (Mr. Phillips) will proceed.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to ask the gentleman from Elk whether any publication or any cartoon or any statement in a paper against the President of the United States would be considered sedition?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, it positively would not; it must be aimed at the government of a State or at the United States.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, in section f, page 2, it says: "Any writing publication, printing, cut, cartoon or utterance which advocates or teaches the duty, necessity, or propriety of engaging in crime, violence or any form of terrorism as a means of accomplishing political reform or change in government." Is it not possible for a number of courts in the State of Pennsylvania to construe that in which utterance might be considered as sedition?

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, any utterance that would tend to destroy the State or the United States.

Mr. PHILLIPS. It does not say, "Destroy the State or the United States."

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, it says so in the bill; that the word "sedition" in this act shall mean "any act, utterance, conduct, etc., which will tend to destroy the government of the State or the United States."

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I want to say one word in defense of my vote aginst this bill. The gentleman from Elk has said that "he did not believe that any member of this House who loves his home, who loves his country and his family, dare vote against this bill."

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman desires to quote me, I wish he would quote me with accuracy.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, words to that effect. I want to say that there are a number of us here just as loyal to Pennsylvania and just as loyal to the government of the United States as any other member who is an advocate of this bill. We will not stand out of the road of any one when it comes to patriotism or loyalty when it comes down to defining sedition. In a bill of this kind to say what we shall do and how to do it, it is surely a mistake for the Legislature of Pennsylvania to open up such a broad assertion and allow the courts to place such a construction upon any government or official that is engaged therein. Therefore, I propose to vote against this bill because I believe it opens up the door to a great deal of trouble that we are not able to master. We have laws sufficient to-day to punish any one who commits any official or government offense. Why open this up for political reform or anything that we might open this up, that might bring us before the courts and might be so construed and put a penalty like this upon us. I think we should consider this very seriously.

The previous question was moved by twenty members, as follows: Messrs. Harer, Alexander, Benchoff, Bigler, Brooks, Joseph T. Evans, Flynn, Geary, Lanius, Lauler, McCaig, McCurdy, McVicar, Murphy, Palmer, Powell, Schilling, Simpson, Sinclair, Soffel, Sprowls, Steedle, Vickerman, Wagner, Williams, and others.

On the question,
Shall the main question now be put?
It was agreed to.
On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. McINTYRE. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The Clerk then read the affirmative roll.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to vote "aye."

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman vote?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. ARON. Mr. Speaker, as I have voted under a misapprehension, I desire to change my vote from "no" to "aye."

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have my name recorded as voting "aye."

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman vote when his name was called? Did the gntleman vote?

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I certainly did, and I voted "aye."

Mr. McINTYRE. Mr. Speaker, I challenge the following votes: Mr. Levis, Mr. Cook, and Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will ask Mr. Sowers, was he in his seat?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, yes, sir.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Sowers) has declared that he was in his seat and that he voted when his name was called. That is sufficient and the challenge of the gentleman on the vote of Mr. Sowers is overruled and his vote will be recorded.

Mr. MEHRING. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman was not in his seat.

The SPEAKER. The vote of Mr. Cook has been challenged, and the gentleman from York (Mr. Cook) declares that he was in his seat and voted when his name was called.

Mr. Levis is recorded as voting aye. This disposes of the challenges against Messrs. Levis, Cook and Sowers.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, how about the vote of the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Baldi)?

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Baldi) vote?

Mr. BALDI. Mr. Speaker, I voted aye.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I challenge his vote.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will rule that there has been no objection to the recording of Mr. Baldi's vote, and he is recorded as voting aye.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask how the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Campbell) is recorded as voting?

The SPEAKER. He is not recorded as voting.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know how the gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Hough) is recorded.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny (Mr. Hough) is not recorded.

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker, I understood, when the affirmative roll was read that the gentleman from Dauphin (Mr. Bechtold) was recorded in the affirmative.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin (Mr. Bechtold) is recorded as voting "no."

The Chair will state that if there is no further objection, the affirmative roll, as verified, will stand as follows:

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Union (Mr. Showalter) will state his question of information.

Mr. SHOWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I have frequently heard it mentioned that "a gentleman was not in his seat when his name was called," and his vote was not recorded. My idea has been that if the member is within the bar of the House, his name could be recorded.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would rule that any gentleman who was within the bar of the House should have his name recorded.

Mr. FOWLER. Mr. Speaker, several weeks ago my vote was challenged because I was not in my seat, and my name was not allowed to be recorded.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that the present speaker was not then in the Chair.

The negative roll was then verified as follows:

Less than the majority of the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the bill falls.

REASONS FOR VOTE.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I voted aye and I wish to file the following reasons for my vote:

I favor Bill 1175 because:

I. AIM OF THE BILL.

The aim of the bill is against the false and menacing doctrine of anarchy. It plainly and fully fixes the various phases of the crime of violence as a means of governmental change. It does nothing more. The bill should not be known as the Anti-sedition but as the Anti-anarchy Bill.

II. NECESSITY FOR THE BILL.

The provisions of the bill are needful to enable the law enforcing agencies of the State to deal with anarchistic propoganda aimed against our representative government and its free institutions, because:

(a) No law of the State or Nation now gives power to strike at the inciting source of anarchistic outbreaks or violence against government, which source is speech or writing counseling or encouraging such crimes. Under the law now we can punish the one who throws the bomb but cannot reach the one who by speech or writing incites to this crime.

(b) Violence in any form to achieve social or political change is so undeniably wrong that no man has a semblance of right, under our free government of the people, to resort to it; therefore, to stop anarchists from, by word or writing, scattering the seeds of this error, is not only within the rightful province of the law but stands as the highest duty of loyal, red-blooded, uncomprising Americans who aim to safeguard the inviolate honor and sacred security of the best form of government ever evolved by man.

III. AS TO FREE SPEECH.

This bill take away from no man the right of free speech or free expression of press. The theory that unbridled abuse of the very basic laws of our sacred institutions and inciting men to overturn these institutions, is wihin the license of free speech, is unthinkable. The disciple of violence, murder, and terrorism as a means of seeking remedies for real or fancied wrong in our republic is an enemy to the greatest good man has attained.

IV. NO ROOM FOR ANARCHISTS HERE.

Shall anarchy, unchecked, aim its deadly shafts at our blood bought Republic? We have builded the truest form of Government since the dawn of day—a Government of the people, by the people and for the people—a Government with the same balance of treasured liberty and the triumph of justice—a Government in which is perfected the equasion of human rights and human duties—a Government of justice for all, equality before the law and in which the voice of the people is the supreme law of the land. Successful democracy has ever been the yearning of man in the martyr-strewn annals of time he has struggled up the rugged avenues towards the politica paradise of prophesy. And here, as we stand in the midst of the social haven of all history; here as we revel in the blessings of industrial opportunity, of social justice and of a sovereign citizenry—a Republic triumphant where man is at his best, has his best and can make the best for himself—shall we not, is it not worth while, to guard jealously all these things from the blighting hand of the terrorist?

V. THE BILL IS A CALL TO LOYALTY.

This bill is a clarion call to loyalty at a critical time. We have emerged from the blood soaked pit of war, a cleaner, a saner, a prouder, a greater people. Shall we not all the more resolve that here, standing on the vantage ground of the ages, with the call of promise ringing in the Heavens for better things in our Republic, hold high this flag and renew our unalloyed allegiance to our form of government and serve stern notice on its insidious enemies that we mean to blot out, with the withering scorn of an unconquerable spirit and the firm but just hand of the law, every vestige of redism, violence and sedition.

VI. THE BILL CANNOT BE CALLED REPRESSION.

The claim that an effort to rid the country of anarchistic propoganda by stopping the seditious mouthings of the curb orator and the inflammatory writings of the back-room author, is repression is well meant but mistaken. No doctrine that is wrong in to and beyond dispute—a doctrine upon which all but anarchists agree to be wrong—has the least iota of claim even to toleration. It is therefore not repression to strike it down. It is the highest patriotic duty. Of doctrines in which there is some truth, in which there may be great truth, we may well speak of repression. We recall that when the mob was jostling Peter and John who preached of the Man of Gallilee on the streets of Jerusalem, and were hurrying them off to prison, one Gamaliel, a lawyer, arose and said: "Let these men alone. If this counsel, if this word, be of man it will come to naught but if it be of God, ye cannot fight against it, lest haply he be found to fight against God."

VII. LABORS LOYALTY ABSOLUTE.

Labor is loyal to the core. Its opposition to this bill is sincere and patriotic. I express my faith in its principles and praiseworthy purposes. I am in hearty sympathy with the best which labor seeks, I stand for human rights as against property rights. I stand for better working conditions and better living conditions. I believe every man has the right to the right to earn and the right to work out for himself a life, as well as a living. I am regretful that I cannot stand with some labor leaders on this bill.

VIII. LABOR'S STATEMENT.

The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of Pennsylvania, sends out a circular embodying a resolution adopted at a convention held in Columbus, Ohio, May 24th, 1919, giving three reasons why this bill should not be passed. Two of these three causes complained of are not in the bill. The third which refers to Clause 8 of the bill, I believe will be well considered on a sober second thought. This refers to organizing or helping to organize seditious societies. I deeply respect the judgment of the Brotherhood of Trainmen. They are among my loyal friends and patriotic constituents.

IX. LABOR ON RECORD FOR ANTI-ANARCHY BILL.

The Legislature of Massachusetts recently enacted an anti-anarchy law which is nearly as complete as the one here proposed. In the State of West Virginia the Senate and House of delegates, in February of this year unanimously passed a bill known as the Loyalty Act, which embodies nearly all that is in bill 1175.

Fifteen members of the House of Delegates who are card members of unions under date of February 14, gave their reasons to the American Federation of Labor for supporting this bill. I quote from their statement as follows:

"The title of this bill sets out clearly its purpose. It intends to safeguard our institutions and to protect our ideals and traditions against hostile forces within, who are unfriendly to a Republican form of Government and to repel foreign invasion, usurpation and invasion of evil influences from without. To this end section I of the bill makes it unlawful to use crime, violence or terrorism in an effort to change the Constitution; to overthrow the established order or to subvert the common rights.

"We do not believe that the bill abridges the right of free speech, or that it locks the lips of thought. It will protect all citizens alike, and follow the trade union member in his support of the common good. It will only hinder the I. W. W.'s and anarchists. If any effort is made to divert its course, we rely upon the constitution of West Virginia and of United States, both with confidence and security, realizing that no act of the Legislature can suspend the organic law. Further, we have endeavored to so conduct ourselves as members of the House as to win the confidence of the Courts and of the people in behalf of organized labor.

"Organized labor is not afraid to trust the people. The American Federation of Labor performed a great task of patriotic duty when it set its face hard against I. W. W. ism, Bolshevism, and those forces of destruction which believe in 'sabotage' direct action and who seek to destroy the confidence of the people in the Government and would overthrow it if they had the power. We rejoice that the administration at Washington is deporting the advocates of terrorism from the country. These forces are constantly working to misdirect the labor movement and the man or woman who marches under the red flag is in full sympathy with their program."

X. NO AMERICAN CITIZEN PLACED IN JEOPARDY.

No American citizen is placed in jeopardy by this bill except such as counsel and incite to violence and terrorism. Public sentiment is supreme in this country. Public sentiment is just and fair. No court would or could use this act to oppress or persecute any man or set of men. This bill has no ulterior motive. It is aimed at none save anarchists. It will help to preserve our institutions and either compel the disciplines of redism to cease their nefarious work or drive them out of the land.

SENATE MESSAGE.

SENATE ADOPTS CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT ON SENATE BILL NO. 321.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has adopted the report of the Committee of Conference on the subject of the differences existing between the two Houses on Senate Bill, numbered and entitled as follows:

Senate Bill No. 321.

An Act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL NO. 321.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the report of the Conference Committee on Senate Bill No. 321.

The report of the Conference Committee was read by the Clerk as follows:

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

Gentlemen: The Committee of Conference to which was referred the differences existing between the two Houses on Senate Bill No. 321, entitled "An Act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth," respectfully beg leave to submit the following amended bill as our report:

EDWIN H. VARE,
WILLIAM E. CROW,
GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Committee on the part of the Senate.

WILLIAM J. BRADY,
SIGMUND J. GANS,
JOHN M. FLYNN,
Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.

An Act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth

Executive Power

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That in each city of the first class of this Commonwealth the executive power shall be vested in the mayor and in the departments authorized by this act

ARTICLE II
The Mayor

Section 1 The mayor shall be the chief executive officer of the city

FINANCE

Section 1 On or before the fifteenth day of October of each year the mayor shall furnish to the council in such form and detail as the council shall have determined a statement of the estimated receipts other than from taxation including money proposed to be borrowed and liabilities of every kind for the ensuing calendar year and the estimated expenditures for such year of all departments officers boards commissions trusts committees or other agencies whose financial requirements are to be met out of the proceeds of taxes levied by the council or out of any other funds over which the council has control designating which of such liabilities and expenditures should be met from current receipts and which should be met from loan funds The estimates of receipts and liabilities shall be furnished to the mayor by the city controller he shall also furnish to the mayor a statement of the borrowing capacity of the city Such statements shall be made up by the city controller from the best available data and the receipts from sources other than taxation and loans shall be estimated at the average of such receipts for the preceding three years with due allowance for new sources of receipts not existing during all or part of said period of three years for sources of receipts existing during all or part of said period which will not be available for the ensuing year for changes in rates and for other factors not previously existing The estimates to be furnished by the city controller to the mayor and by him transmitted to the council shall also contain a statement of the average proportion of taxes uncollected at the end of each of the three preceding years The estimated statement of expenditures shall be made up by the mayor from information supplied him by such departments officers boards commissions trusts committees and other agencies subject to revision by the mayor in his discretion.

Section 2 Immediately after the receipt of such statement the council shall consider the same in open session affording a reasonable opportunity to officers and citizens to be heard thereon and the council shall in one ordinance on or before the fifteenth day of December following adopt a financial program for the ensuing year showing the estimated receipts from all sources the liabilities of every kind and the amount and character of expenditures to be made by such departments officers boards commissions trusts committees and other agencies during the ensuing year In passing said ordinance the council shall be bound to accept the estimates of receipts and liabilities furnished to the mayor by the city controller but shall have full discretion to determine the character and amount of expenditures to be made out of the estimated receipts of the city during the ensuing year

Section 3 On or before the same date the council shall levy and fix a tax rate for the ensuing year which together with the estimated receipts from all other sources except borrowed money shall yield sufficient receipts to meet the liabilities of the city of every kind (except liabilities to be paid out of loan funds) for the ensuing year and the current expenditures not including expenditures from loan funds as fixed and determined by the council in said ordinance The receipts from taxation shall be estimated by deducting from the gross amount which would be yielded at the rate fixed the average proportion of the amount uncollected at the end of each year during the preceding three years If the council shall fail to fix a tax rate on or before the fifteenth day of December of any year the rate for the current year shall be the rate for the ensuing year as if that rate had been fixed by the council in accordance with this act and the amount of expenditures other than from loan funds shall be fixed and determined by the council so as to come within the estimated receipts from sources other than loans

Section 4 The council may from time to time make appropriations out of such estimated receipts of the city for the ensuing year to meet the requirements of such departments officers boards commissions trusts committees and other agencies as determined by the council but from the receipts of the city from taxation and sources other than loan funds estimated as provided in this article the council shall appropriate before the beginning of the ensuing year a sufficient amount for the extinguishment of the floating indebtedness (other than that accruing within one year from condemnation of real property) which the city controller may estimate to the oustanding upon the first of January following for the payment of all lawful obligations due by the city during the fiscal year commencing January first and for such expenditures to be met from such receipts as may be authorized by the council and the city controller shall not countersign any warrants (except for payment of interest and for sinking fund) pertaining to any of the appropriations until the said council shall have first have passed all appropriations necessary for the expenses for the current year of each department officer board commission trust committee or other agency whose financial requirements are to be met out of the proceeds of taxes levied by the council or out of any other funds over which the council has control nor shall said officer countersign any warrants except as aforesaid until the total of all appropriations and all lawful obligations (other than as aforesaid) as estimated by the city controller shall have been brought within the sum of the estimated receipts from taxes and from other sources except loan funds No contract shall be binding upon the city unless an appropriation therefor has previously been made (except as otherwise provided in this act) and no warrant shall be drawn issued or approved by any officer of said city for any expenditure by such department officer board commission trust committee or other agency unless an appropriation has previously been made in accordance with the provisions of this act and no warrant shall be drawn against any item in said appropriation in excess of said item and any contract made or warrant issued in violation of this article shall be absolutely void Any appropriation in violation of this article or in excess of the estimated receipts as set forth in said ordinance and any contract based thereon shall be void Provided howeved that the council shall have the power to appropriate money received in excess of said estimate upon the certificate of the city controller that there have been such excess receipts And Provided further that surplus receipts if any carried over from one year into the next may be appropriated during the next said year in addition to the appropriation of the said estimated receipts for that year Said appropriations if within the limits aforesaid shall be valid and contracts may be lawfully based thereon although the money estimated to be received during the said year shall not actually have been received or be in the treasury at the time of said appropriation or contract and Provided further that the council may by ordinance make transfers from one item of appropriation to another

Section 5 Where cash shall be needed for the immediate requirements of the city in any year in advance of the receipt of income the mayor the city controller and the city solicitor or any two of them shall have power to negotiate on behalf of the city temporary loans upon notes for periods not to extend beyond such year and in aggregate amount not to exceed ten per centum of the estimated receipts for such current year other than loan funds but at the time of issuing said loans provision must be made to repay the same out of the income of the same year in which they are negotiated the intention of this section being that the negotiation of said loans shall be solely for the purpose of anticipating receipt of income Provided however that if through emergency it shall become necessary for the council to obtain additional appropriating power it shall be lawful for the council to authorize the creation of one or more emergency loans not exceeding in the aggregate two million ($2,000,000) dollars at any one time which unless paid within the year in which they were created shall be included by the city controller in his estimate of liabilities which must be met out of the receipts of the ensuing year before ordinary appropriations may be made therefrom

Section 6 It shall be lawful from time to time to advance any money in the general fund to any loan fund or to use any money in the general fund for any purpose for which a loan shall have been authorized and the corporate authorities shall not be required to issue any bonds authorized to be issued until it is necessary to repay to the general fund such advances or to replenish such loan fund or funds It shall also be lawful from time to time to make temporary advances in anticipation of the collection of revenue from any loan fund to the general fund

Section 7 In the event that contracts are made as provided by this act to extend over a period longer than one year and which are to be met from current receipts of the city it shall be lawful for the council to make an appropriation only sufficient to answer the requirements of such contract for one year and the contract shall be legal and binding upon the city notwithstanding no appropriation has been made for the ensuing years over which the contract is to be operative But it shall be the duty of the council to make subsequent appropriations from year to year as required for the purposes of such contracts The obligation of the city under such contracts shall not be considered to be a part of the indebtedness of the city

Section 8 It shall be lawful for such city to borrow money or incur debt in accordance with the terms of existing law for the purpose of acquiring property erecting buildings bridges or other structures (but not for the repair of the same) paving streets (but not repaving or repairing the same) or for any other permanent improvements or capital outlay of any kind provided that all of such proposed expenditures are certified to the council by the city controller to be capital expenditures as distinguished from current expenses prior to the authorization of such debt The certificate of the city controller shall be final and conclusive as to the character of the proposed expenditures It shall be unlawful for the city to borrow money or incur debt for any purposes other than above specified except in the case of loans for periods not to exceed one year as provided in this act Provided however that if during the preceding year current funds have been used for purposes for which it would have been lawful to borrow money as herein provided and the city controller shall so certify the current funds may be reimbursed out of loan funds borrowed for that purpose

Section 9 Contracts to be paid out of loan moneys may be based upon an appropriation out of loans authorized although the same may be unissued and it shall not be necessary to issue the loans or to raise the cash necessary to comply with the requirements of said contracts until the same is needed in due course

Section 10 No liability shall be enforceable against the city by any action at law in equity or otherwise upon any contract not supported by a previous appropriation of council or to enforce payment for any materials or supplies furnished to the city or to any department officer board commission trust committee or other agency whose financial requirements are to be met out of the proceeds of taxes levied by the council or out of any other funds over which the council has control unless the council shall have made a previous appropriation therefor and no payment may be enforced by any such action for services rendered to the city or to any such department officer board commission trust committee or other agency unless there shall have been a previous appropriation by the council to pay for such services Provided however that the council may by ordinance authorize payment for material furnished or services rendered without a previous appropriation if the same is agreed to by a two-thirds vote of all the members elected thereto and is approved by the mayor Ordinances making appropriations for such payments shall relate to no other subject and shall set forth in separate items the names of each beneficiary to whom such appropriation is made and the amount he is to receive

Indebtedness

Section 1 Subject to such limitations as are now or may hereafter be established by the constitution of this Commonwealth any city of the first class may from time to time incur new debt or increase its indebtedness in such amount and in such manner as the council shall by ordinance have authorized but it shall require the affirmative votes of two-thirds of all of the members of the council for the passage of any ordinance authorizing new debt to be incurred or an increase of indebtedness

Section 2 In any ordinance authorizing the city to incur new debt or increase its indebtedness except for temporary loans the council shall provide for the collection of a tax to pay the interest thereon and the principal thereof as is now or may hereafter be required by the constitution and any such ordinance shall state the purpose or purposes for which the new debt or increase of indebtedness is authorized

Section 3 Within such limitation in amount as is now or may hereafter be established by the constitution the council may authorize new debt to be incurred or an increase of indebtedness without the consent of the electors of the city at a public election but the council may in its discretion submit to the electors for their consent at a public election the proposal contained in any ordinance authorizing new debt to be incurred or an increase of indebtedness and any such new debt or increase of indebtedness to which the electors shall have given their consent shall be excluded in computing the amount of the indebtedness of the city incurred without the consent of the electors thereof

Any ordinance authorizing new debt to be incurred or an increase or indebtedness except for temporary loans without the consent of the electors shall prior to its final passage be published daily for two weeks in two newspapers having a bona fide circulation in such city of at least thirty thousand copies per issue

Section 4 Whenever the council shall by ordinance authorize new debt to be incurred or an increase of indebtedness in an amount requiring the consent of the electors at a public election and whenever the council shall in its discretion desire to procure the consent of the electors to a new debt or an increase of indebtedness the ordinance authorizing such new debt to be incurred or such increase of indebtedness shall fix the date for holding such public election and shall provide that the authority to incur such new debt or to increase indebtedness as therein contained shall not be effective unless the electors shall give their consent thereto at such public election

Section 5 After the passage of any such ordinance the council shall give notice of the election to be held for the purpose of obtaining the consent of the electors by advertisement once a week for four weeks in each of three newspapers having a bona fide circulation in such city of at least thirty thousand copies per issue The said notice or advertisement shall contain a copy of the ordinance authorizing the new debt to be incurred or the increase of indebtedness for which the consent of the electors is sought and shall also set forth a certificate of the city controller showing

(a) The aggregate amount of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property within the city

(b) The amount of the existing indebtedness

(c) The amount of the deductions therefrom allowed by law

(d) The amount of the existing indebtedness less the deductions therefrom allowed by law and the percentage of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property which such amount represents

(e) The amount of the proposed new debt or increase of indebtedness and the percentage of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property which such amount represents

(f) The amount of the existing indebtedness plus the proposed new debt or increase of indebtedness less the deductions therefrom allowed by law and the percentage of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property which such amount represents and

(g) The amount of indebtedness less the deductions therefrom allowed by law which the city may lawfully have outstanding and the percentage of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property which such amount represents

Section 6 The council shall in all cases fix the time of holding the public election to obtain the consent of the electors to incur new debt or increase indebtedness on the day of a municipal or general election unless more than ninety days shall intervene between the date of the ordinance providing for such election and the day of holding the next succeeding municipal or general election If any other day be fixed for holding such election the cost of holding the same shall be paid by the city

Such election shall be held at the places during the hours and under the regulations provided by law for holding municipal elections and shall be conducted by the election officers provided by law to conduct municipal elections in such city unless the said election be held on the day of a general election in which case the laws governing general elections shall apply The question whether new debt shall be incurred or indebtedness increased as authorized in the ordinance shall be printed upon the ballot in brief form followed by the words "yes" and "no" with appropriate voting squares and if such question shall be submitted at an election of public officers it shall be printed below the groups of candidates The election officers shall count the votes cast at such election and shall make a return thereof to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas of the county containing such city duly certified as required by law When such count shall have been completed a certificate of the total number of electors voting "yes" and of the total number of electors "no" on such question shall be made by the court and filed in the office of the prothonotary and a copy thereof under the seal of the said court shall be furnished by the prothonotary to the council and the same shall be entered upon its journal

In conducting such election and counting and making return of the vote cast the officers of such election and the court shall be governed by the laws regulating such election and all the penalties of the said election laws for the violation thereof shall apply to the electors and election officers participating in such election

If by the returns of such election it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting thereon gave their consent to incurring new debt or increasing indebtedness as authorized in the ordinance such ordinance shall as of the date of the court's certificate of the result thereof be effective to authorize such new debt to be incurred or such increase of indebtedness but if it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting thereon did not give their consent to incurring such new debt or increasing indebtedness as authorized in the ordinance such ordinance shall be ineffective to authorize such new debt to be incurred or such increase of indebtedness Provided That should the constitution of this Commonwealth require the consent of more than a majority of the electors voting thereon to enable the city to incur such new debt or increase its indebtedness such ordinance shall be effective to authorize such new debt or such increase of indebtedness only if the required number of electors shall have given their consent thereto

Section 7 The council may by ordinance without the consent of the electors authorize temporary loans of money in anticipation of the issuance of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness previously authorized but all temporary loans shall be payable within one year

Section 8 Whenever any debt shall be or shall have been created for which the constitution of this Commonwealth requires a sinking fund to be established the proceeds of the taxes levied for the payment of the principal and interest of such debt and all other money pledged or appropriated for the payment of the principal and interest of such debt shall be paid into the sinking fund of such city and shall be inviolably reserved for and applied exclusively to the payment of the principal and interest of such debt

Whenever there shall be money in the sinking fund in respect of a particular debt in excess of the requirements for the payment during the twelve months next ensuing of principal maturing and interest due such excess money shall be applied to the purchase and cancelation of such debt but if at any time it shall be impracticable or financially disadvantageous to purchase such debt such excess money may be invested temporarily in bonds or other evidences of debt of the United States of America of this Commonwealth or of any county city borough township school district or other municipality or incorporated district of this Commonwealth

Section 9 The council may at any time authorize the purchase by the city of any of its outstanding debt and any such debt so purchased shall be canceled
